PRESIDENT BAER CLAIMS THAT THE ANTHRACITE COAL MINERS SHIRK THEIR WORK

Says That They Refuse to Labor Over Six Hours a Day.

HIGHER WAGES ARE IMPOSSIBLE

Competition from Bituminous Fields Too Strong for Anthracite Men.

INSIDE HISTORY OF DIFFICULTIES TOLD

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Philadelphia, Sept. 3.—President George F. Baer of the Reading company and United States Senators Quay and Penrose held a long conference this afternoon in the executive office of the Reading company in this city, at which the anthracite coal miners' strike was thoroughly discussed. At the conclusion of the conference Mr. Baer issued the following reply to Senators Quay and Penrose:

"I recognize that it is your right and your duty as senators, representing the great state of Pennsylvania, to do whatever can legitimately be done to end a strike that so seriously affects business and brings so much suffering to the women and children of the coal regions. The newspaper story that I said 'the strike was a private affair which did not concern the public' is, like much of the stuff they make me say, a reckless fabrication. The issues involved are matters of great public concern. The price of coal to the manufacturers and the many thousand workingmen in the cities is just as important as the tariff, and there can be nothing of greater consequence to the people of this commonwealth than the establishment of law and order in the coal regions, so that every man desiring to work shall be free and safe, none daring to molest him or make him afraid.

The Rights of the Owners.

"Now, what I have said is, that the management of business belongs to the owners. In the case of the coal companies the law casts the management and control on the directors and officers, whose responsibility is to their stockholders, to the state and to the public. The right of the stockholder is to have good management and a fair return on his investment. The obligation to the state is to conduct the business in strict conformity to the laws it has established. The duty to the public is, so far as practicable, to conduct the business so as to add to the common welfare.

"To make the application: The coal operators say that they cannot mine coal because the miners make demands which render it impossible to mine coal profitably, and that the state has enacted laws prohibiting the employment of men in the mines unless they have worked two years in anthracite mines and therefore they cannot, for the time being, mine coal. How, then, under the circumstances can there be any violation of public duty?

Can't Work Without Profit.

"If we yield to the extravagant demands of the miners we will lose money. If we attempt to increase the price of coal we will destroy the industries depending upon the anthracite fuel. If we increase the price on the domestic sizes, we will be called robber barons, oppressors of the poor, monopolists and enemies of mankind.

"We have concluded, therefore, that our duty to ourselves and to the public will best be served by standing firmly on these propositions:

"First—That the wages paid in the anthracite coal regions are, compared with the wages paid in light employment, fair and just and that men willing to work honestly can earn more money on the present basis of wages than in any other industry engaged in producing common articles of necessity in the United States.

Competition Too Strong.

"Two—That wages cannot be increased without increasing the price of coal, and to increase the price of coal will restrict the market and drive the public to use bituminous coal, a cheaper and more abundant fuel, and that a restricted market will curtail production and result in depriving the miners of regular employment.

"Three—That we are not fighting labor organizations. We fully recognize the right of men to organize to protect themselves from oppression and to benefit themselves in any legitimate way. But we do oppose their unreasonable interference with the discipline and ordinary management of our business. We will not permit them to select our employes. Neither politics, religion, nationality nor membership in labor organizations shall debar any competent man from working for us. We are fighting the battle of freedom for the individual and his right to labor on his own terms.

Offered to Adjust Grievances.

"Fourth—That it is by reason of varying conditions at each mine impracticable to adopt a uniform scale of wages for the whole region. But that at each colliery every complaint and grievance will be taken up and investigated by the superintendents and adjusted whenever it is just. I personally offered to Mitchell and his district presidents to go with them and investigate any grievance.

"You see, senators, none of these things can be the subject of arbitration. You cannot arbitrate a question of wages when an increase will destroy the business and a decrease will be unacceptable to the workmen. A free man cannot be compelled to work, and an owner by the same rule cannot be made to do business at a loss.

"We cannot arbitrate a question as to whether mining operators and business generally shall be managed under the common sense rule of law and equity by the owners and the servants they have

VICTIM WAS ONCE STATIONED HERE

Pittsfield, Mass., Sept. 3.—The president of the United States escaped a tragic death by only a few feet in a collision between his carriage and an electric street car in this city today, while one of his most trusted guards, Secret Service Agent William Craig, was instantly killed and David J. Pratt of Dalton, who was guiding the horses attached to the vehicle, was seriously injured.

President Roosevelt himself was badly shaken up, but received only a slight facial bruise. Secretary Cortelyou, who occupied a seat directly opposite the chief executive in the landau, sustained a minor wound in the back of the head, and Gov. Crane, who sat beside the president, extricated himself from the wreck practically without a scratch. The carriage was demolished by the impact of the rapidly moving car and the wheel horse on the side nearest the car was killed outright. The crew and passengers of the car escaped injury.

On the Way to Lenox.

The president and party were driving from this city to Lenox through South street, one of the principal thoroughfares of Pittsfield, which was lined with cheering people and the catastrophe occurred in the plain view of hundreds, whose happiness at the advent of the nation's chief was suddenly turned to grief.

Thousands had poured into the city in the early morning from the nearby country to see and hear the president and his address at the city park had been loudly cheered. At the conclusion of the exercises he wished to make a brief call on former United States Senator Henry L. Dawes, whose house in Elm street is but a short distance from the park. The president's carriage, in which he had ridden in from Gov. Crane's home at the Dawes residence and carriages containing a number of other gentlemen in the party followed. President Roosevelt's call was a short one and then the carriages returned to the city square.

Craig on Driver's Seat.

After a short delay the journey toward Lenox was begun. Meanwhile the mounted escort of police officers and the carriages containing the newspaper correspondents who have accompanied the president on his tour had started off ahead on the road to Lenox and were some distance in advance of the president's equipage. Three or four other open carriages fell in line immediately behind the landau in which the president rode with Secretary Cortelyou and Gov. Crane. Secret Service Agent Craig, who throughout the New England tour has been almost constantly at the president's elbow, was on the driver's seat beside coachman Pratt.

South street is a broad, smooth highway. The tracks of the Pittsfield electric street railway are laid in the center of the road with ample room for teams on each side, and scores of vehicles of every description followed along this road behind the president's party. Shortly after he left the park an electric car which had been filled with passengers at that point started toward Lenox well behind the procession.

How the Accident Happened.

It passed all of the teams and was about a mile and a half out from the city at the beginning of Howard Hill and was nearly up to the president's carriage, which was traveling on the west side of the highway.

Just at the foot of Howard hill the road bends a little and teams are compelled to cross the street railway tracks to the east side. The railroad then continues at one side of the street instead of the center. Just at this point the upgrade of the hill begins and but a short distance beyond the crossing there is a narrow bridge spanning a small brook.

The trolley car approached the road crossing under a good head of speed with the gong clanging just as the driver of the president's carriage turned his leaders to cross the tracks. On each side of the chief executive's carriage rode two mounted troopers of the local cavalry company and the horsemen on the left of the landau had turned on to the track with the trolley car immediately behind them, though some yards distant.

Couldn't Stop the Car.

Alarmed by the clanging gong they both turned in their saddles and waved vigorously to the motorman to stop his car. Almost at the same instant Gov. Crane, who quickly perceived the danger, rose to his feet and likewise motioned to the motorman. The latter in great excitement desperately tried to stop his car, but it was too late. It crashed into the carriage as a loud moan went up from the frenzied onlookers, who thronged the roadside, and who but a moment before were cheering the president. The horsemen managed to get their frightened animals out of the way just in time and the car struck the rear wheel of the carriage on the left side and ploughed through to the front wheel of the vehicle, which received the full force of the blow.

The carriage was upset in the twinkling of an eye, and one horse fell dead on the tracks. The other three powerful grays attached to the vehicle started to run, and dragged by them and pushed by the

BIG QUESTIONS ARE TACKLED BY THE COMMITTEE

Ballot and Primary Reform and Mediation in Coal Strike.

NOMINEES MAY TAKE ANY PARTY'S SUPPORT

Staff Correspondent.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 3.—The initiative in several very important undertakings was taken today by the Republican state committee at its first meeting since Senator Quay was elected chairman. It was the most fully attended meeting in the history of the party, and none has been more harmonious.

At the instance of Chairman Quay and his associates preliminary moves were made to bring about ballot reform, committees being authorized to form new ballot and primary election laws which will be submitted to the next legislature.

Col. Quay, who has taken a deep personal and official interest in the anthracite coal strike, suggested the appointment of a committee to confer with the state authorities to ascertain what steps may be taken to end the strike. This proposition met hearty indorsement, and a committee will be appointed to act in accordance with the spirit of the resolutions.

Prior to the meeting of the committee Senators Quay and Penrose had met President Baer to have him clearly define the position of the mine owners. That they met with little encouragement is indicated by their action in asking the state committee to act in the matter.

Strike Must Be Considered.

Chairman Quay's address emphasized the fact that in his opinion the strike is a matter of deep concern to the people and that its effects could not be dismissed as a problem concerning only the employer and the employe.

The division of opinion concerning the indorsement of Judge Pennypacker by the Citizens party of Allegheny county was happily adjusted. The committee almost unanimously decided that the Republican candidates could not consistently decline support offered, no matter by whom the tender was made. Those members of the Alleghens delegation who previous to the meeting held a contrary view expressed themselves as satisfied with the majority will.

Chairman Quay was greeted with a burst of applause when he entered the committee room shortly after 2 o'clock. Every seat was taken and the hallway and staircase were jammed. In the front row were seated the members-at-large, Attorneys-General John P. Elkin, Indiana; Colonel L. A. Watres, Lackawanna; George T. Oliver, Allegheny; David H. Lane and James H. Lambert, Philadelphia; Homer Greene, Wayne; Hiram Young, York; E. H. Owlett, Tioga; B. F. Gilkeson, Bucks, and David H. Thomas, Lehigh. General Charles Miller, although in the city, was unable to be present, the other absentee being George Von Bonnhorst, represented by R. F. Bigham.

General Elkin sat directly in front of Chairman Quay. As he took his seat Colonel Quay recognized Mr. Elkin. He immediately rose and, leaning forward,

NEW SYSTEM FOR TRACTION LINE

Westinghouse Company to Use Alternating Current in the Equipment of an Eastern Electric Line.

The Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company has made another pronounced step forward in electrical development, one which is expected to revolutionize electric traction equipment. It has, after a long series of experiments, decided to use the alternating current for the equipment of a long interurban traction system in the east. The traction line will link Baltimore and Washington, with a branch line to Annapolis, in all 55 miles long, and will cost $2,300,000.

Adaptation of the alternating current to electric traction systems has been worked out by Engineer B. G. Lamme at the East Pittsburgh works of the Westinghouse Company after experiments that have covered several years.

Vague rumors of this new venture of the Westinghouse interests have reached the stock exchanges and the securities of the company have been moving up sharply. The legitimate ground for this is that the company has taken up this departure in equipping electric railway systems and that it will encourage the erection of such lines because the cost will be much less.

That the Westinghouse engineers had so far mastered the problem to attempt fulfillment of a contract calling for equipment costing upward of $600,000 establishes the fact that the company has taken the lead in another important epoch in electrical development in this country. The alternating current applied to traction lines has been used abroad, but the Westinghouse people are understood to have an entirely new system.

For George Westinghouse and his company it is claimed that the opening of all new and important epochs in electrical development in the United States have been theirs. Among those mentioned are the creation of the first successful street railway motor, the first practical success in long-distance power transmission by electricity as demonstrated at the great Niagara Falls power works and the substitution of the alternating for the direct current in electric lighting.

The main power plant of the Westinghouse, Baltimore & Annapolis railway will be installed with three 1,500 kilo watt generators. A score or more of massive interurban cars will be equipped with four motors, each of 300-horse power. Nine sub-stations will be equipped with the necessary appliances. The entire system will provide for driving cars at a normal speed of 60 miles an hour, with a possible speed of 60 miles easy of attainment.

Work on the power houses will be started this week.

SEVEN HUNDRED DEAD FROM A LANDSLIDE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

VIENNA, Sept. 3.—News has been received here from Tiflis, Trans-Caucasus, Russia, of a landslide which occurred August 17 in the vicinity of Mount Kasbek, which resulted in the destruction of some 20 villages and the loss of nearly 700 lives.

Seismic disturbances seem to have started a great glacier which swept down a valley and destroyed everything in its path.

KNIVES, PISTOLS AND BLACKJACKS IN CONVENTION

OTHER SIDE BOLTS AND NAMES PATTISON

Staff Correspondent.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 3.—Riot and disorder ruled the Union party convention. This had been expected, but realization surpassed anticipation.

The scheme of the Democratic leaders to have their ticket indorsed failed so far as the Union party was concerned. They had possession of the hall for 12 hours previous to the convention, also the assistance of State Chairman Riter and Secretary Mapes, but this counted for naught when the test of strength came.

The "regs," the independent Republicans who composed the Union party, greatly outnumbered the Pattison adherents, and as a consequence controlled the temporary and permanent organization of the convention, and by an overwhelming vote indorsed the candidates on the Republican state ticket. After this had been done, Chairman Riter and his Democratic allies bolted the convention, proceeding to the Continental hotel, where they held a "rump" convention. The result was an indorsement of Pattison for governor, Guthrie for lieutenant governor and Lewis Emery, the well-known Republican bolter of McKean county, was named for secretary of internal affairs.

Regulars File Their Papers.

The nomination papers of the "regular" convention were filed at Harrisburg tonight. The matter is now one for the Dauphin county courts to pass upon.

By direction of Chairman Riter, an armed force of Democratic thugs took possession of the hall at 10 o'clock last night. They were not disturbed. This morning the Pattison delegates, mostly Democrats, were admitted.

The "regs" met at Union party city headquarters, and, led by Secretary William R. Knight, marched in a body to Musical Fund hall. They were refused admission, but they went in. Doors were torn from their hinges. Knives, blackjacks and pistols were brought into play. That murder was not done is surprising. Back and forth the line swayed. Blows were given and received and curses filled the air.

Slowly but steadily the Democrats were forced back until all of the "regs" were inside. Then there was a struggle for the stage. Knight's men won.

Riter demanded a call of the roll, but he was hissed and howled down. By a viva voce vote William R. Knight was elected chairman. He called for nominations.

Dr. George Barton presented Judge Pennypacker's name, and those of William and I. B. Brown followed. As announced by tellers, the result was: S. W. Pennypacker, 336; William M. Brown, 327; I. B. Brown, 319.

On motion of A. H. Powden of Lancaster, the platform of last year was reaffirmed. This wound up the work, but the "regs" refused to leave the hall.

Chairman Riter again attempted to

DOUBLE MURDER MAY BE RESULT

One Man Is Dead and Another Dying from Injuries Received in a Drunken Brawl Near Williamsburg.

Conley Martin, who was assaulted by a number of his comrades on Tuesday night in Williamsburg while they were having an outing, died of his injuries at the South Side hospital last night. Nine men are under arrest, charged with being his assailants.

The tragedy is the outcome of a saloonkeepers' outing to some rivermen. All became intoxicated and in their fight with each other Martin and Joseph Riley were both badly injured. Riley is lying at a point of death. The men were found yesterday morning in a clump of bushes near Becks Run and taken to the South Side hospital. Detectives Richard Kelly and George Waggoner learned of the discovery and arrested nine of the men implicated in the fight.

Tuesday afternoon some rivermen were standing in front of the saloon of William Diven at Second avenue and Grant street. He thought it would be a good joke to give these men an outing. He went to another saloon-keeper, John Sauler, and he agreed to give $2 for their lunch. A teamster, J. Wiles, agreed to furnish the men with a wagon to take them to Williamsburg.

Three Badly Hurt.

There were 11 in the party. They went to Williamsburg and opened the beer. All were soon intoxicated. Four men from Brownsville afterward joined the gathering and their presence seems to have started the difficulty. There was a general fight. Among the participants were Hugh Friel, Daniel Friel, George Knox, John Roberts, James O'Hara, James Lackey, Jack Wiles, Thomas Conners, Danny O'Fee and the four Brownsville men, who are expected to be arrested today.

piece of hose and a coupling pin. All It is alleged that some of these men struck Martin, Riley and Knox with a three were rendered unconscious and carried to a clump of bushes. The rest of the party fled. Yesterday morning about 9 o'clock Martin and Riley were found in the bushes, still unconscious by some farmers of Williamsburg.

Nearly All Arrested.

Word was immediately sent to County Detective Robinson, and he notified Detectives Kelly and Waggoner. The three officers went to Williamsburg and learned the names of those who had gathered there on the night previous. All are well known to the police and Supt. McAleese issued a general order for their arrest.

Hugh Friel, Daniel Friel, George Knox, John Roberts, James O'Hara, James Lackey, J. Wiles, Thomas Conners and Daniel O'Fee were placed under arrest and last night they were committed to the Allegheny county jail on charges of felonious assault and battery. The detectives succeeded in getting some information from these men. Two of the participants still at large are said to be the men who struck Martin and Riley. Their capture is expected today.

Martin was identified by his brother, James, at the morgue last night. He was 30 years old and lived at Somers street and Wylie avenue, and was a riverman.

Cardinal Out of Danger.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 3.—At a late hour tonight the physicians in attendance upon Cardinal Gibbons reported that the condition of his eminence was very much improved. While the calculus from which his eminence had suffered had not passed it was considered that it had been reduced to such an extent that an operation for its removal was unnecessary.

PROMPT ACTION FOR THE RELIEF OF MARTINIQUE

Paris, Sept. 3.—The Martinique commission met at the ministry of colonies today and decided that $100,000 should be immediately sent to Martinique for distribution among the sufferers from the last eruption there. The Martinique fund now amounts to over $1,700,000, of which $300,000 has already been distributed.

This is in addition to the $100,000 which was sent to the island immediately after the catastrophe of May, and the subscriptions obtained in the United States and other countries which were sent directly to Martinique. A sum of over $1,400,000 is consequently still available for relief work.

The ministry of the colonies received today a dispatch from Fort de France, Martinique, reporting an excessively intense eruption of Mont Pelee. The destructive radius extended into the interior of the island.

During the night of August 30-31 Morne Rouge, Ajoups Bouillon, Morne Bondon and the villages of Balai, Capot and Belleve were destroyed. There were 1,000 victims, 800 of whom are dead.

On August 31 assistance and troops were sent to this region, Gov. Lemaire going on the French cruiser Suchet to evacuate Grande Riviere and Macouba, whence he brought 1,000 sufferers to Fort de France. The French cruiser Tage rescued the inhabitants of the northern regions so far as St. Pierre, where there were no victims.

The governor of Martinique has taken measures to give employment to those who are able to work and to create centers of refuge, to avoid overcrowding Fort de France, which has not suffered from the recent eruptions.

The same phenomena were noticed as at the time of the eruption of May.

CASTRIES, ST. LUCIE, B. W. I., Sept. 3.—The zone of the destruction of Saturday night's eruption of Mont Pelee, Martinique, paralleled that which destroyed the town of St. Pierre in May, but it spread some five miles more eastward.

The gendarmerie of Martinique officially report that 1,000 persons were killed and 150 injured by the latest showers of fiery ball.

Warships and steamers are taking the inhabitants from the coast villages, where people from inland places have also gathered for safety.

The St. Vincent volcano, the Soufriere, was in eruption simultaneously. Awful detonations were heard along the southern islands to Trinidad.

Houses Wrecked by Rioters.

AGRAM, HUNGARY, Sept. 3.—Many houses were wrecked and sacked by rioters last night. The rage of the mob was first directed against the house of Capt. Wilas, a retired army officer, who yesterday fired on the crowd, wounding a man. The rioters erected barricades, tore up fences, smashed windows and were proceeding to storm the place when the military dispersed them.

orce of the car, the wrecked carriage was moved 30 or 40 feet.

Agent Craig fell from his seat immediately in front of the car and it passed completely over his body. Driver Pratt, in falling, struck the dead horse, immediately in front of him, and rolled off clear of the car, thus escaping a similar fate. President Roosevelt, Gov. Crane and Secretary Cortelyou were thrown together in the bottom of their carriage.

Almost instantly a score of men jumped to the head of the frightened horses and stopped their further progress. Gov. Crane was the first to get to his feet, escaping entirely unhurt. He turned immediately to the president, helped the latter to arise and together they assisted Secretary Cortelyou.

The president's lip was cut and blood was flowing from the wound. His clothing was much disarranged and he was severely shaken up. Secretary Cortelyou had a wound in the back of his head, from which blood was flowing freely.

Craig's Body Mangled.

The president quickly regained his composure and the three soon after repaired to the residence of Mr. Charles R. Stevens near the scene of the accident. Mr. Craig's body was found just behind the car. His shoulder and chest were crushed and the body frightfully mangled.

Driver Pratt was found unconscious in the road, his shoulder was dislocated, his ankle sprained and his face badly cut and bruised. He was immediately placed in the carriage and taken to the House of Mercy, where he was attended by Drs. Flynn and Paddock, who tonight say that he will recover.

Agent Craig's body was taken to the residence of Mrs. A. B. Stevens, adjoining the house to which the president had repaired with Governor Crane and Secretary Cortelyou, and later removed to undertaking rooms in this city. But a few moments after the collision Drs. Colt, Thomas and Woodruff arrived and attended the president and his secretary.

Half an hour later the party appeared and resumed the journey to Lenox. An anxious crowd meanwhile surrounded the house and the president stopped long enough to assure the people that he was not injured in the least and to express his great grief at the death of Agent Craig.

Chief Nicholson of the Pittsfield police, and Daniel Ryan, an officer of the New York city department, who is on his vacation in this city, were driving about 100 yards ahead of the president's carriage and were among the first to reach his side after the collision. They immediately placed under arrest the motorman of the car, Euclid Madden, and Conductor James Kelly, and they were later taken to headquarters in this city.

Gov. Crane in relating his experience said that he heard the gong of the approaching car in ample time and immediately rose and warned the motorman to stop. He says that the man apparently paid no attention to his signal, or those of the troopers alongside and the car continued until it struck the carriage with great force.

Accident Unexplainable.

No one on the car seems to be able to explain how the accident happened. Even the motorman and persons on the front seat are apparently unable to tell why it was not avoided. It is claimed that Driver Pratt turned to cross the track sooner than teams ordinarily make the turn, but this he was forced to do because of the fact that his team of four horses required more room and the two troopers on the right of the carriage also needed space to get through.

Motorman Madden and Conductor Kelly remained in the stationhouse from 10 o'clock this morning, when they were taken under arrest, until 6:20 this evening, when bail was furnished. The charges against them are manslaughter. Bail for the motorman of $5,000 was furnished by ex-Alderman Maurice J. Madden, his brother, and Patrick H. Dolan, manager of the Pittsfield Street Railway Company. Kelly was bailed in the sum of $2,500 by Mr. Dolan. Kelly is 25 years old, single, and has been employed on the railway for three years. Motorman Madden is 32 years old, and has a wife and five children.

Charged With Manslaughter.

Madden and Kelly will probably be arraigned in the district court tomorrow morning, on the charge of manslaughter. It is expected that Attorney William Turtle, counsel for the Pittsfield Street Railway Company, will represent them. It is likely that the case will be continued for a week or more, and in the meantime an inquest will be arranged for. The defense will probably present no evidence, and the men will be held for the grand jury.

George and Hugh Craig, of Holyoke, Mass., brothers of William Craig, the victim of the accident, arrived here tonight, and are in consultation with the authorities. It has been decided to take the body to Chicago for interment, that city being Craig's home and the brothers will probably start west with the body tomorrow afternoon.

In arranging the program for the day Mayor England had requested all business to be suspended in the city during the time the president was there; also had made special requests of the Pittsfield street railway that it suspend business on North street during the exercises at the park, and while the president was driving to that point.

He also asked the management of both street railway companies in the city to be especially careful as to the running of cars on all streets through which the procession would pass.

Euclid Madden, the motorman, in telling his story says that as he passed over the railroad bridge about 350 or 400 feet from the scene of the accident, he shut off the power and put on the brakes, the car then being on a down grade. He says there were teams on both sides of the track and he was exercising every care to avoid an accident. In his opinion the car was not running over eight miles an hour; he received no warning to stop, and did not see the mounted man or Gov. Crane waving their hands to come to a standstill. According to Madden's story, there was plenty of room for the president's carriage to have proceeded on the west side of the trolley track, and he would have had plenty of time to have passed the president's carriage before the turn was made to the east side of the road.

Conflicting Stories Told.

The story of James Kelley, the conductor, is much the same as that of Motorman Madden, as far as the schedule and running arrangements were concerned. He said he was collecting fares on the west side of the car at the time of the accident and was on the forward end of the runningboard at the moment of the collision. He said he saw no warning given.

Mrs. French Pierson and her two young children were passengers on the car. According to the story of Mrs. Pierson an effort had been made by the passengers on the car to have the motorman leave the Campbell house just as the president's carriage passed by. This he refused to do, saying he was running on schedule time, and therefore he would not leave earlier unless ordered to by the officers of the road. Mrs. Pierson says she was desirous of alighting at Crofut street, but did not for two reasons, the first being that the car was going at such a fast rate of speed, that she saw she could not signal the conductor in time to stop at that street, and secondly, that the passengers on the car seemed to be anxious to reach the Country club before the president.

As the car approached the president's carriage, she says she saw the mounted men say something to Driver Pratt, but in the noise of the car and the ringing of the gong, she was unable to hear the words spoken.

Director Denies a Rumor.

Mr. James W. Hull, one of Pittsfield's most prominent citizens, and a director of the road, denies that the conductor was ordered to run through to the Country club without stopping. He said:

"The report that the motorman was under instructions from me is absolutely and unqualifiedly false. There is not the slightest reason for such a story. I cannot express an opinion as to the responsibility for the accident. I was a passenger on the car, but hardly realized what was happening until it was over. It was understood that the president would stop at the Country club on the way to Lenox and perhaps say a few words, and many persons, including a considerable number of club members, were bound out there in the hope of hearing him. I intended to go myself, and when the car stopped at the park, I approached the motorman and asked him when he would start. He said he was trying to get back on his schedule and would move as soon as his time was right.

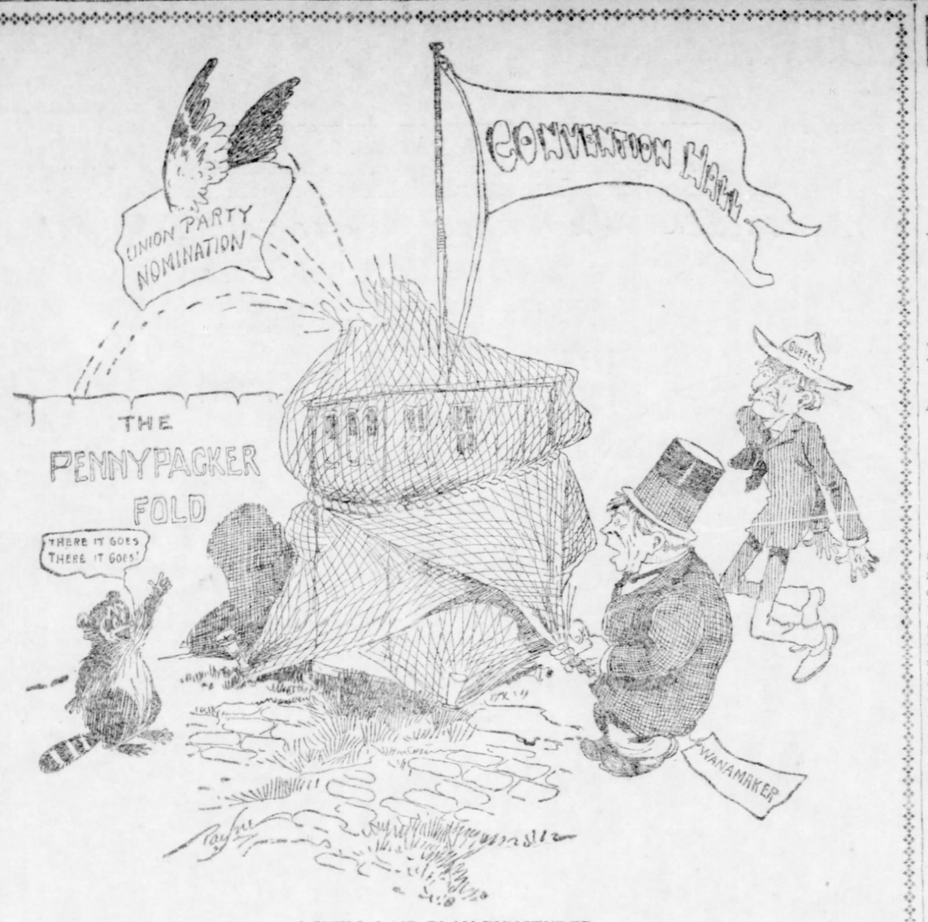
"The car waited about 10 minutes, during which time it was filled with passengers. I had an end seat about half way back in the car, and a passenger was standing on the runningboard alongside of me.

Crash Unavoidable.

"I did not know that the president's carriage was ahead of us. Suddenly my attention was attracted by people rising up in the front part of the car and I looked up just in time to see the leading horses on the president's carriage come onto the track ahead of us.

"My first thought was that the car could be stopped in time to avoid a collision, but in the next second I realized that this was impossible and that an accident was imminent. Then the crash came, followed by tumult on every side.

"My first thought was, of course, for the president. Almost immediately I saw him get up from the wreck and heard him declare that he was uninjured and anxiously asked for the rest. I then looked for Gov. Crane and soon after found him unhurt. I started to secure physicians but found that Dr. Henry Colt and others were near at hand. Then, at the request of the governor, I went to the depot to hold the special train which was to meet the party at Lenox. The plan of holding it was, however, abandoned and the president proceeded to Lenox by carriage as originally arranged. It seemed to me that the car was about to stop when it struck the carriage. It certainly came to a stop within 15 or 20 feet, but too late, for the body of Mr. Craig was found right behind the car."



A WELL-LAID PLAN PUNCTURED.

Secret Service Agent Craig Was Attached to Local Bureau for Over a Year.

Secret Service Agent William Craig, who was killed while riding with President Roosevelt yesterday, was well known in this city. He was attached to the local secret service bureau for over a year. At the time President McKinley was assassinated in Buffalo Operative Craig was sent to Buffalo to guard the remains of the dead president. After that he was retained by President Roosevelt as one of his body guards.

When the operatives at the Federal building learned of his tragic end they were deeply impressed and expressed their sorrow. Craig was a powerful man. He weighed 210 pounds and was 6 feet 2 inches in height. Everybody about the Federal building was fond of him, and when he was detailed to Washington as one of the president's guards there was much regret over his transfer.

He came to this city about a year and a half ago from Birmingham, Ala., where he had been detailed to go in 1899 from Chicago. While in this district he did some clever work in locating and convicting counterfeiters. During the visit of President Roosevelt here he was accompanied by Craig, who looked after his safety in this city. Craig was 35 years old and was born in Chicago. He was well known among professional athletes, and at one time was a champion broadswordsman.

"Were You Ever Nearer Death?"

"Perhaps," Said The President.

PITTSFIELD, MASS., Sept. 3.—"Were you ever nearer death?" the president was asked immediately after the accident.

"Perhaps," said the president. And then he continued:

"I do not care to talk about the nearness of death. There are things that are worse than death, and we know what they are."

"Were you frightened, Mr. President?"

"I think it would take something more than a trolley car to really frighten me, and if it were not for the death of Craig and the driver, I should consider this one of the incidents of the trip."

"Don't you think you were seriously injured?"

"Don't I look as if I had the mumps?"

"Was the car running fast?"

"How should I know? I only know that when I picked myself up and walked back to the motorman, I asked him if he had lost control of the car. He muttered something, and I told him that if he had lost control of it that was one thing, and if he had not, then it was the greatest outrage I had ever seen."

EXPERIENCE DOES NOT DISABLE PRESIDENT

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

OYSTER BAY, Sept. 3.—President Roosevelt returned to Oyster Bay at 8:20 o'clock tonight but little the worse for his thrilling experience of this morning. His right cheek is swollen, there is a black bruise under his right eye and his mouth is slightly swollen. Otherwise he shows no effects of the accident. He will go south the latter part of the week, according to the original schedule, and will be accompanied by Secretary Cortelyou who, while considerably shaken up, expects that his injuries will not incapacitate him from duty. Mr. Cortelyou's nose is badly bruised, there is a lump on the back of his head and bruises behind his left ear and on his body.

The president says he may have to make his first public appearance with a black eye and a swollen face, but the accident has not interrupted his work for ten minutes, and it will not interrupt his southern trip. He will attend the annual convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen at Chattanooga, Tenn., Monday.

Was Attached to Craig.

Mr. Roosevelt was sincerely attached to William Craig, the secret service man who lost his life today, because of Craig's personal loyalty and because of the great attachment the children felt for him, and he is sincerely grieved at Craig's death. Apart from that event, the president is not affected by his experience.

The president feels that the conduct of the motorman who was running the trolley car that wrecked the carriage was criminal, unless the trolley had gotten beyond his control, and the president can hardly believe this was the case because as soon as the car struck the carriage it stopped.

The president did not allow the accident to interfere with the carrying out of the prearranged program except that he made no speeches. Mrs. Roosevelt had arranged in advance to meet the president in Bridgeport, Conn., and this she did, going there in the Sylph, accompanied by two of the children and Assistant Secretary Loeb. When Mrs. Roosevelt learned of the accident she telegraphed Mrs. Cortelyou, who was at Hempstead, to come to Sagamore Hill and meet Mr. Cortelyou.

Mrs. Cortelyou Summoned.

This she did and Mr. and Mrs. Cortelyou dined with the President and Mrs. Roosevelt, leaving on a late train for their summer home at Hempstead.

At Bridgeport President Roosevelt was escorted to a stand in Sea Side park, where he had intended delivering an address to workmen. He, however, excused himself from making any speech because of the accident, and at his request his carriage was hurried away from its escort to enable him to board the Sylph, where Mrs. Roosevelt and his son, Kermet, embraced him.

After the accident happened, and the president had given directions as to the disposition of the body of the faithful Craig, the journey was resumed. Lenox was reached about 11:15 and his passage through the town, which had made elaborate preparations for his entertainment, was in silence. He tarried but a moment, the swelling on his right cheek causing him considerable discomfiture, but not to disappoint the people he spoke a few words to them, telling of the accident and saying that he would make no address.

Pathetic Scene at Stockbridge.

He then passed on to Stockbridge, where, too, the people were ready to make his entry into the city a notable occasion. Speaking from his carriage, his right eye almost closed and getting very black, he said that for the same reasons given at Lenox, he would be unable to deliver an address.

The departure of the president from Stockbridge was pathetic. There were no cheers, no waving of flags or handkerchiefs, only a word here and there to break the deathlike silence. Brief stops were made at Great Barrington, Mass., and New Milford, Conn. Grand Duke Boris will be the president's guest for a few hours tomorrow.

LONDON PAPERS TELL OF MAN OF DESTINY

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, Sept. 4.—The escape of President Roosevelt has universally called out in the London dailies congratulatory and eulogistic editorials and unanimous expressions of England's thankfulness that the president was spared to his country.

The Daily Telegraph says: "President Roosevelt has taken in his time many risks; but he never cheated death by a narrower margin. A singularly dramatic moment, such as this occurrence, will confirm among the mass of the American people the feeling that Mr. Roosevelt is, in the best sense of a once suspected word, 'their man of destiny.'"

This occasion is seized as an opportunity for the publication of general reviews of the president's personality and the critical political period facing the United States. The Daily Telegraph, the Standard and the Daily Chronicle all rank President Roosevelt with Emperor William as the world's two most interesting and picturesque figures. The Daily Chronicle says:

"In range President Roosevelt is at least Emperor William's equal and in solidity and depth he probably excels the German emperor. His life is one that the world, no less than America, could ill afford to lose. Perhaps at no time except during the civil war has the United States been in greater need of a statesman with the character and capacities which President Roosevelt possesses than she is at present."

HAD A GOOD RECORD.

Secret Service Man Who Was Killed Today Was Constantly With the President.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 3.—William Craig, the secret service operative, since last October had been stationed at the White House and had accompanied President Roosevelt on all of his journeys. During the president's vacation at Oyster Bay he had charge of the secret service detectives stationed there.

When the president was traveling Craig always was in his immediate vicinity. He generally obtained a place on the president's vehicle, sitting with the driver, as he did today.

Craig was 48 years old and came to this country 25 years ago from Scotland, where he was born. He talked with a Scotch-Irish accent. He was married and has a mother and two sisters in Chicago. Two brothers live in Massachusetts.

Emperor Regrets Accident.

POSEN, PRUSSIAN POLAND, Sept. 3.—Extra editions of the newspapers, giving accounts of the accident to President Roosevelt and his party spread the news throughout this city at 10 o'clock tonight. The correspondent of the Associated Press has been informed that Emperor William expressed great regret upon hearing of the occurrence, but said he was glad to know that President Roosevelt had been only slightly injured.

BROOKLYN PUT OUT OF ACTION BY UGLY ROCK

BOTH SIDES' BIG CLAIMS

Army Says Nearly All the Big Ships Have Been Theoretically Knocked Out—Fleet Driven Away—One Fort and Signal Station Gone.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

New London, Conn., Sept. 3.—The armored cruiser Brooklyn was actually, instead of theoretically, "put out of action" today. While retreating with the rest of the attacking squadron after a mimic bombardment of Fort Rodman, near New Bedford, the ship struck an uncharted rock and her hull was so seriously injured that the vessel will have to go into a dry dock for repairs. The Brooklyn is Admiral Coghlan's flagship.

Three vessels of the fleet, the Olympia, Puritan and Mayflower, were sent on to Block Island, the naval base, while the Peoria and the tug Leyden remained with the Brooklyn.

There will be a long consultation of captains to decide what shall be done with the Brooklyn, and tomorrow divers will be sent down to examine the vessel's bottom.

Two of her plates and frames were bent in and the seams between two compartments were opened slightly, but the cruiser made little water. One small pump was sufficient to control it. At no time was there any danger, and the damage was not considered serious.

Crew Behaves Splendidly.

The discipline on board the cruiser when she struck was magnificent. All compartment doors and hatches were closed immediately and everybody was very cool.

The officers in the wardroom mess were just about going to lunch when suddenly the ship seemed to jump, then listed to starboard and settled. She came off very soon. At the time of the accident four of the officers were on the bridge with the admiral himself. They had taken bearings, knowing the cruiser was in rocky water, and were congratulating each other that they had passed, according to the chart, all danger of hitting a rock, when the crash came.

The other ships were signaled to keep away from the dangerous spot, and steps were taken to mark the spot where the hidden rock is located. An investigation into the accident has begun.

The feint, or attack, or it may prove, upon Fort Rodman is declared by the defense to have been a defeat for the enemy.

Rear Admiral Higginson's squadron failed early this morning to effect a landing upon Fishers island during a heavy bombardment of Fort Wright. The ships were subjected to a heavy and destructive fire from mortar batteries and afterward withdrew to Block Island.

Claims of Both Sides.

A preponderance of points in the war game thus far is claimed by the navy, though severe reverses are admitted. The army's claim is embodied in this dispatch from Col. Davis, commanding the district, to Gen. MacArthur:

Commander of "ort H. G. Wright reports that the first ... the Kearsarge, was put out of action ... 5:20. The second ship, the Massachusetts, was put out of action at 5:30. The third ship, the Alabama, was put out of action at 5:35 a. m.

All the ships were afterward repeatedly fired upon by all the guns at short range, 4,000 to 4,000 yards, and could be considered out of action several times over. The Indiana also was put out of action at 6:37 by fire from Fort Michie.

"The excellent signal service of the army was again well demonstrated this morning, as headquarters had at all times knowledge of the whereabouts of the enemy.

"It is believed by observers that the engagement resulted in the Kearsarge and the Indiana being put out of action and the destruction of Fort Wright.

The signal station on Prospect Mount was put out of action at 5 o'clock this morning by ships of Admiral Higginson's fleet, which fired several times in that direction. Col. Davis, commanding the district, who was at his post in the station, went out of action with it.

After a hot battle lasting several hours the invading vessels left the bay to rejoin the squadron. The result is in doubt, and will be until the official reports are made. Col. Frye claims a victory for the army. He asserts that the hostile fleet was driven off, disabled and defeated.

FOUL TIP BROUGHT DEATH TO CATCHER

"Foul ball," cried the umpire.

"He is dead," said Dr. M. C. Taylor, when he saw Earl Hahn of No. 98 Climax street, who fell to the ground struck by a foul tip from the bat of one of the Red Stars' batters in their contest with the Little Giants in the South Side yesterday afternoon. The ball struck him on the point of the jaw and killed him instantly.

Hahn was 9 years old and was a catcher for the Little Giants. Hahn stepped behind the bat and signaled his pitcher to toss the ball. The batter made a heavy smash at the ball and just touched it. It glanced and struck Hahn on the point of the jaw.

Umpire James Murray cried "foul ball," and the little catcher laid on the ground motionless. Dr. M. C. Taylor was summoned and pronounced the boy dead. He was removed to his home and Coroner McGeary was notified. An investigation of the case will be made this morning.

Mrs. Katherine Deitz, a widow aged 54, of Hamilton street, Allegheny, died late Tuesday night of burns received on Saturday evening. She sat down at a table to eat some ice cream and pulled the table cloth in such manner as to upset a lighted lamp. The lamp set fire to her clothing.

Paul Koosh, a miner, died at 1:30 a. m. yesterday from injuries received in a mine at Cooley station on the Castle Shannon railroad. A car of coal upset upon him.

speak, but he could not be heard. He asked Chairman Knight to take his men from the hall. Knight refused. Realizing that he was in the minority, and that he could not get an indorsement under such conditions for the Democratic state ticket, Chairman Riter declared the convention adjourned, to meet at 3 o'clock at the Continental hotel. He then led the forlorn hope to the rendezvous.

At the hour designated Riter and his associate Democrats indorsed the Democratic candidates for governor and lieutenant governor, and gave the third place to Emery. Ex-Postmaster E. L. Hicks was elected state chairman, the successor of Mr. Riter.

Those Exceedingly Pretty Dress Collars.

And the Ruffs and the Boas.

Women are having the liveliest kind of times around the table from which these handsome bedeckings are being sold.

Monday the selling was excellent, Tuesday it doubled, and yesterday—well, it was lively enough, to be sure.

And yet there is still a good supply, for our buyer took the entire lot offered him.

You understand they are dress collars, those queer feminine things that women wear over their jackets, and even waists.

You also understand, by this time, they are sold for half, and that there is choice of such materials as pique, linen, silk and lace, finished with all kinds of fancy trimmings.

The boas and ruffs are those fluffy things. They wouldn't have those names if they were not.

The $1 Collars for 50c each. The $1.75 Collars for 75c each.
$2.00 Boas, or Ruffs, for $1.00.
$3.00 Boas, or Ruffs, for $1.50.

CORPSE ROBBED NEAR ALLIANCE

POLICE HUNT FOR THIEF

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ALLIANCE, O., Sept. 3.—John Letcher, aged 60, fell from his wagon two miles south of here last night and broke his neck. He was picked up by Bart Stocker, a dairy man, and carried into the latter's house. Stocker searched the man to learn his name and found an envelope which had the name on it.

A gold watch and chain and $5 were also found, but the articles were not then taken from his pockets. Josiah Shaffer, claiming Letcher as a cousin, came to the house and in pretense of searching for signs of life, it is alleged, robbed the body of the valuables and escaped in Letcher's wagon. The police are searching for Shaffer.

TRACK TORN UP BY RIVAL ROAD

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW CASTLE, PA., Sept. 3.—A lively railroad war broke out here today between the Baltimore & Ohio and the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh railroad companies, when the latter's men began tearing up a siding laid by the Baltimore & Ohio at New Castle Junction. The Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh company claims ownership of the land occupied by the siding.

The Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh at the same time applied for an injunction restraining Superintendent H. O. Dunkle and the Baltimore & Ohio from further encroachment upon the property in dispute. Judge Wallace granted a preliminary restraining order, which was served by Sheriff James H. Brown, just before the Baltimore & Ohio men were ready to resent the opposition.

BURGLAR SHOT.

East Cleveland People Believe That Death of Negro Will End Series of Robberies.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 3.—Simon Johnson, a negro, who gave his home as Chicago, was shot down just outside the residence of Attorney Charles N. Sheldon of No. 3972 Euclid avenue, by a rifle in the hands of Mr. Sheldon early today. The negro managed to escape after being shot, but was trailed by bloodhounds and captured about 600 yards from the house. The capture of Johnson, it is believed, clears up the mystery in a series of burglaries which have been terrorizing the residents of East Cleveland for three weeks past.

Mr. Sheldon was awakened by a noise in his house and saw the negro just outside his door. He procured a rifle and shot the man in the groin. The negro was taken to the Town Hall and a physician summoned. His injuries are probably fatal.

BOY'S EYES BLOWN OUT.

Two Companions Arrested for Loading Cigar With Powder.

GREENSBURG, PA., Sept. 3.—(Special.)—Patrick Hogan and Otto Brenning were arrested this afternoon at the instance of Anti-Cruelty Agent Cline, charged with being the cause of blowing out the eyes of John Blystone, 5 years old.

The accused boys, it is alleged, loaded a cigar with powder and gave it to young Blystone. A match was applied and an explosion occurred. The child's face was blackened by the fire and it was discovered that he could not see. The parties live at Bethany.

Convicted of Wife Murder.

BELLEFONTE, PA., Sept. 3.—Frank Beckwith, who in February last shot his wife, was today convicted of murder in the second degree. A motion for a new trial was made.

DON'T BUY A POOR PIANO

Hamilton's Sell Only Special Makes and Are Offering Special Prices This Week.

Parents who are interested in the musical education of their children naturally look upon Hamilton's special offerings of pianos with a great deal of favor. A great many purchases have resulted from the announcement that prices had been made lower than usual to induce customers to make their selections before the beginning of the busy fall and winter season. These low prices, combined with the fact that Hamilton's magnificent fall stock is now complete, prove a magnet which few can resist.

You make a mistake if you assume that any sort of piano is good enough for your child to use in learning to play. A child's musical education is often marred by the inferior character of the instrument at its disposal. We do not contend that the piano should necessarily be expensive, but it should be a GOOD piano. You can buy such a one at Hamilton's for $200 and upward, and with it goes the assurance that the instrument will always give satisfaction. Only reliable makes are ever sold at Hamilton's.

Second-hand and slightly used pianos are now selling here for about half what they originally cost, although some were used only a few weeks. But these are going fast and you'll have to act promptly to secure one.

Easy monthly payments can be arranged if desired.

If you cannot call, write for particulars, which will be sent you by return mail.

S. HAMILTON,
Hamilton Building,
335 and 337 Fifth ave., Pittsburgh.

Sole depot for A. B. Chase, Fischer, Schumann, Hamilton and other fine Pianos and the "Angelus," the only real piano player.

M'DONALD FAIR STARTS OFF AT A RAPID PACE

MIDWAY GETS THE CROWD

The Barkers Are There With New and Original Attractions—Three Thousand School Children Get a Free Peep Into the Show.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

McDonald, Pa., Sept. 3.—The McDonald fair and carnival started today with a rush, under the most favorable auspices. All the leading business houses have been decorated at great expense and the whole town is in gala dress and full of strangers. All business and work have been suspended.

The 1,500 laborers on the Wabash grade south of town this morning laid down their tools and refused to work until the fair is over. Three bands paraded the streets all forenoon. The one which gets the crowd is the Clown band, which seems to be everywhere and always playing, followed by 1,000 children. Notwithstanding the opposition encountered by the board in the shape of a remonstrance signed by 653 women, a very lively midway is in evidence. From the large entrance arch clear through the ground to the grand stand are erected booths, tents and snake dens.

Bosco's owner (smooth tongued man) tells how the untamed Hindu was captured among the rocks feeding on snakes. Beside him is a plantation show with a big double quartet. Right across the street a descendant of one of the original Seven brothers and his wife will tell your fortune for a dime, while further down the street another one will tell you more of your future than another person will for a dime and throw in a box of salve that will cure any ailment under the sun.

There are 16 kinds of lemonades and other drinks, which are cooler and more refreshing than an Atlantic City bath. All are cried in a loud and exultant tone, which does not drown the voice of the souvenir fiends. The stands are all beautifully decorated and the police maintain good order.

There were no races scheduled for today, but tomorrow there are 25 entries for the trot and 20 for the free-for-all pace, while 12 mules will afford lots of sport in that class. The diving horses were the big attraction this afternoon and were watched by the largest first day crowd that has yet been the good fortune of the board to entertain. Don and Lady Belle took the water unflinchingly and were heartily cheered by the crowd, who were not less appreciative of Wingpah, the dancing horse, ridden by Madame Maree.

"Wilde, the Great," entertained the crowd for 20 minutes in some marvelous aerial feats on the flying trapeze, followed by Minch, an imported warrior from the Soudan, who skillfully threw guns at every conceivable angle and caught them with dexterity. Prof. Kimkado, at 4:30 ascended to the clouds in a cannon from which he was discharged, and gracefully descended to the earth.

This afternoon 3,000 school children were admitted free. The ball game was appreciated by the people and was a clean-cut article. The evening performance packed the grounds and grandstand. The horses dived and then McGloughlin's minstrels took the boards and held the audience for two hours. Tomorrow evening high-class vaudeville will have the boards.

ARRESTED FOR MURDER.

New Castle Man Taken Into Custody at Foxburg, Charged With Killing Harvey Barge.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Sept. 3.—(Special.) George W. Dunkle, a New Castle man, was arrested this evening at Foxburg, Pa., charged with the murder of Harvey Barge, who died at the hospital here today from injuries inflicted Monday evening. Dunkle left here yesterday morning before the authorities learned that he was thought to be implicated in the crime. He resides in East Long avenue, and was employed at the Old Atlantic mill, where he was working yesterday.

Friends of Barge say Dunkle owed him a grudge for a real or fancied wrong of former days, which was suddenly resented when the men chanced to meet on the street after the excitement of the Labor Day celebration. Chief of Police Horner will leave tomorrow for Foxburg and will bring Dunkle here for trial. Barge never recovered consciousness after being struck.

Nurse Gets $10,000.

CANTON, O., Sept. 3.—(Special.)—The will of Katherine B. Aultman was filed for probate today. The document shows that all of her bequests were not covered in the statement made public at the time of her death. One of the disclosures today is a bequest of $10,000 and valuable personal effects to Sarah Bomberger, her nurse and companion for years.

Pittsburgh Man Killed.

MT. PLEASANT, PA., Sept. 3.—(Special.)—As the result of an accidental discharge of a rifle with which he had been shooting at a target Edward Guthcart of Pittsburgh lies dead at the home of Cyrus Miller, north of here. Mr. Guthcart had been visiting Mr. Miller. Guthcart was 25 years of age and is survived by his widow.

COKE INCREASE WITHOUT CARS

Connellsville Production Makes Record With Shipments Hampered.

SITUATION MORE CRITICAL

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Sept. 3.—The Courier will say tomorrow:

Coke production in the Connellsville region continues to beat records while the furnaces are clamoring against the railroads for not moving the record-breaking tonnage out of the district to the stacks in the west and Mahoning and Shenango valleys.

The detailed report of the operation and output of the region for the week ending Saturday, August 30, shows a total of 21,015 ovens, of which 21,585 were active and 472 were idle. The total estimated tonnage was 264,853 tons, a gain of a little over 100 tons compared with the production of the previous week. This figure also breaks all previous records of the region by a small margin. There were no changes reported in the active and idle lists of ovens.

Something, however, will have to be done before long, unless the railroads take better care of shipments. Some of the yards throughout the Connellsville region are chuck full of stock and cannot run much longer unless they are relieved of the supply of coke tied up.

The shipments from the Connellsville region last week aggregated 11,670 cars, distributed as follows: To Pittsburgh and river ripples, 3,990 cars; to points west of Pittsburgh, 5,580 cars; to points east of Connellsville, 2,124 cars. Compared with the shipments of the previous week this was an increase of 316 cars.

In the lower Connellsville region there was a slight loss in the estimated tonnage. The number of ovens reported last week was 5,000, a gain of 50 ovens over the previous week. The increase comes from the addition of 50 ovens on the Lemont & Mt. Pleasant group. Shipments were 211 cars, compared with 893 cars the week of August 23.

Furnace coke is quoted at $2.25 and $2.50; foundry coke at $2.75 and $3 a ton.

EDWARD EGGLESTON DEAD

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—(Special.)—Dr. Edward Eggleston, author of "The Hoosier Schoolmaster," and a well known writer, preacher and editor, died of apoplexy Tuesday at his cottage, Joshua's Rock, on Lake George. He was 65 years old and had long been in failing health.

Dr. Eggleston was born in Vevay, Ind. In 1857 he entered the Methodist ministry and was a circuit preacher in Southeastern Indiana and in Minnesota for nine years. In 1866 he began his literary career, becoming an associate editor of a paper called the "Little Corporal," published in Chicago. In 1874 he re-entered active church life by taking the pastorate of the Church of Christian Endeavor in Brooklyn. In 1879 ill health made it necessary that he give up church work and return to his former field of literature.

Dr. Eggleston's first literary work that gave him a reputation was a series of short stories of which "Mr. Blake's Walking Stick" was the best known, appearing in 1870. A year later he published "The Hoosier Schoolmaster," which established his name as a thoroughly American writer. Of his other works "Roxy," "The Mystery of Metropolitanville," "The Circuit Rider," and several school histories are widely known.

TWO WEDDINGS IN A FAMILY.

Guests See a Sister Married and May Remain to Brother's Nuptials.

UTICA, N. Y., Sept. 3.—(Special.)—At Springbank, the country home of John Kernan, today occurred the marriage of Mr. Kernan's eldest daughter, Miss Kathleen Dickinson Kernan, to Capt. Jesse Slingluff, commander of Company L, Fifth Maryland regiment, a prominent young attorney of Baltimore. Nearly 200 guests from Utica, New York, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Washington and other places were present.

Some of these will remain for another wedding in the same family one week from tomorrow, when Mr. Kernan's son, Frank Kernan, a lawyer in Buffalo, will wed Miss Mary Spratt of Ogdensburg.

Attacked Brother's Family.

Joseph Fitzchargus was committed to the county jail last night on a charge of disorderly conduct on the information of Constable Michael Laffey. Fitzchargus had a grudge against his brother, went to his brother's house in Knoxville Tuesday night and drove the family out of their home with a revolver. When Constable Laffey went to arrest him last night a number of Hungarians attempted to rescue him. Constable Laffey shot in the crowd, but was unable to tell last night whether he had hit anyone.

Macedonian Agitators Arrested.

SOFIA, BULGARIA, Sept. 3.—The police have arrested Gen. Michailowski and the members of the Macedonian committee. Seals have been affixed to the residence of Gen. Zontcheff, the president of the committee, who was taken into custody at Dubnitza yesterday and brought here. M. Sarafoff, the former president of the Macedonian committee, is reported to be abroad. It is believed that the dissolution of the committee is imminent.

FALL TRADING HAS STARTED WITH A GLORIOUS RUSH

LOW PRICES THE MIGHTY IMPETUS.

When you desire the very newest conceits (goods that will give entire satisfaction) at prices which insure a bona-fide saving—your past experience directs you unhesitatingly to Joyce's. The reasons for the unanimous popularity of this firm are as plain as day—read the prices below and you'll not wonder at the mighty trend of patronage to this larger and greater store.

When we contracted for our Fall stocks we trebled all previous orders—realizing that our wonderfully enlarged facilities would demand greater assortments—and in so doing profited by price concessions never before enjoyed by any house in the city. That we are scattering our profits among our trade is evidenced by the way buyers are laying in their Fall purchases. Don't delay examining the grand exhibit of Made-Up Apparel for ladies and children. You'll see every style and weave of the season exemplified in our stocks—all prices from 25 to 50 per cent beneath the predominating figures of uptown stores. Don't forget that the inducements in Millinery, Men's Wear, Dry Goods, etc., are head and shoulders above competitive houses—better proof of this statement would be impossible than the prices named below.

Ladies' Suits, Skirts, Waists and Jackets.

Such a grand display as is presented by this department is a sight seldom witnessed! We've all the latest styles and fabrics at prices no other dealer can ever approach.

REV. YOUNG HOME FROM ANTHRACITE STRIKE REGION

He Studied the Existing Conditions With Miners and Operators.

WAS NOT AN ARBITRATOR

Denied He Intended Trying to Settle the Trouble—Christian Men Should Be Secured as Labor Leaders and Strikes Would Be Averted.

After studying the strike situation thoroughly in the anthracite regions of Hazleton and Shenandoah, the Rev. S. Edward Young, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh, returned to the city early yesterday morning. The Rev. Mr. Young denied last night that he had gone into the strike regions to make any attempt to settle the trouble between the miners and operators, but said he went merely to make himself familiar with the situation.

The Rev. Mr. Young spent the greater part of a week visiting the miners and operators in Morea, Tamaqua, Lansford, Summit Hill and Nesquehoning. While studying the situation at Nesquehoning by special invitation on the part of the family, he attended the funeral of Patrick Sharp, one of the strikers who was killed by a detective.

He talked with the miners of various nationalities in their own homes and had many conferences with saloon keepers, store keepers and business men in the striking districts. The mining population consists mainly of Poles, Lithuanians, Hungarians, Irish, English and Americans. About three out of every four are foreigners and only about one-half the population of the mining communities are able to speak understandable English. The labor unions are controlled by English speaking men. In speaking of his trip, the Rev. Mr. Young said:

Not There as Arbitrator.

"A Shenandoah dispatch credited me with the intention of settling the strike. Oh, dear no! My purpose in spending part of my vacation in visiting the miners and operators of the anthracite region, was to study thee onditions existing there.

"America's war cloud is the capital and labor problem. The church ought to be of some account in settling that problem. Nobody ought to theorize who is not familiar with the first-hand facts on both sides. Little does the general public appreciate the seriousness of the present situation.

"Let every man in Pittsburgh and Allegheny quit work and everybody talk only hate against capitalists living at a distance and reckon as the vilest devil alive the fellow who does a lick of work. Let all despise the police and soldiers. Let fuelless fireplaces and empty bread trays face the whole population. Now you have a tolerably faithful picture of the entire anthracite region today, where 150,000 miners and everybody depending on them are idle and mad to the uttermost.

"Our state guard in that region are soldiers in an enemies country, 40 out of every 50 persons of the districts be- opposed to their presence. I believe n, Gobin's orders are justifiable under circumstances. I have heard the diers taunted at Manila, park and nsford, but they are more respectfully ated in the Shenandoah region.

Suggests the Ballot Box.

"I have no panacea for all strikes; t I believe strikes like this should be ttled by the ballot box, instead of at e rifle's mouth. It seems to me the iners and their friends should go into olitics and only two political parties hould be formed; one standing for and dhering to the miners and the other standing for and adhering to the operators. As soon as the miners believe they can have justice in the courts, a great step toward peace will be taken.

"Christian men should go into the labor organizations and become leaders. The present leaders are nearly all non-church members and most of the miners believe the churches are against them, being bought off by capitalists. The man who is making trouble is the agitator who inflames the minds of the miners and misleads the ignorant and foreign population. A few intelligent Christian men who believe in the right of labor to organize and who have the capacity to lead can avert such strikes as the present one."

PITTSBURGH ARTIST WEDS.

He and His Wisconsin Bride Will Make New York Their Home.

EAU CLAIRE, WIS., Sept. 3.—(Special.)—Howard Logan Hildebrand, a prominent artist of Pittsburgh, and Cornelia Trumbull Ellis were married at the First Presbyterian church this evening in the presence of 200 guests. The bride was preceded by Miss Ada Hildebrand as flower girl. Miss Hanna Ellis was maid of honor. The bride was accompanied by her mother. Lawrence G. Chapman was groomsman. The ushers were Dealton Thomas, George P. Chapman and D. R. Moon.

A reception was given for a few intimate friends at the home of the bride's parents, and the couple left for the east at 11:10 p. m. They will live in New York city. The groom's mother, brother and niece, all of Pittsburgh, were the only out-of-town guests.

The bride's costume was white mulle waist, pin tuck medallions of honiton lace, skirt tucked. She carried a bouquet shower of bride's roses. Her veil was caught with pearl and diamond pin. She wore the gift of the groom, a locket set with diamonds. Ada Hildebrand, the flower girl, wore a French dress of white mousseline, valenciennes lace and carried a French basket of yellow roses. Miss Ellis, maid of honor, wore a white china silk waist with pointed devense bertha dot skirt and carried an arm bouquet of white asters. The bride's mother, Mrs. Ellsa Ellis, wore white swiss, black dot, trimmed with net and black velvet ribbon.

Duchess Not on Board.

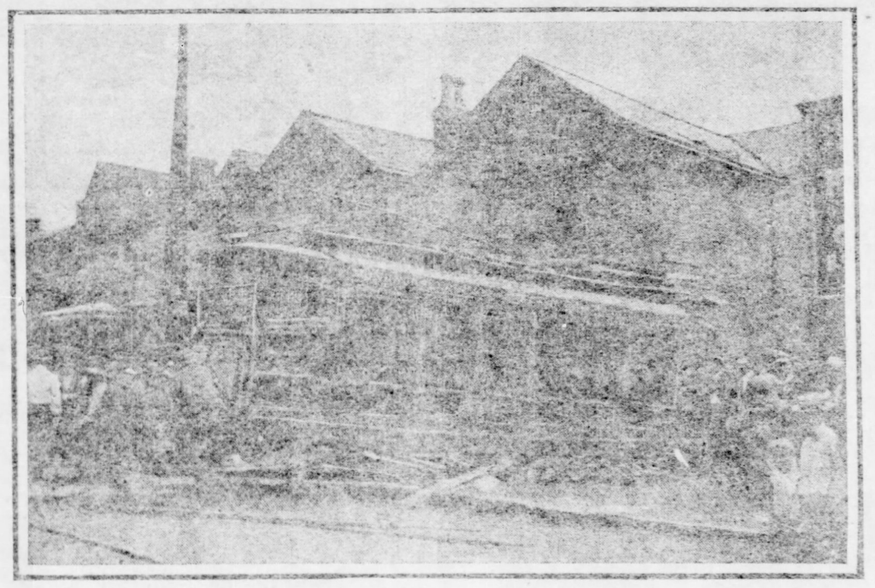
WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 3.—Naval officers who have just returned to Washington from Newport contradict absolutely the story that the duchess of Marlborough went aboard Admiral Higginson's flagship last Saturday. Assistant Secretary Sanger with a party of friends went alongside the flagship and asked permission to come aboard, which Admiral Higginson granted, but the duchess was not of the party.

McDONALD FAIR SPECIAL

Night Train to Pittsburgh Over Panhandle, September 4th and 5th.

For the accommodation of persons attending the McDonald fair a special train returning to Pittsburgh will be run, September 4th and 5th, leaving McDonald at 11 p. m., city time, running through to Pittsburgh, and stopping at intermediate stations. The special train will connect at Carnegie with train No. 167 for Washington and intermediate stations on the Chartiers branch. The excursion rate to McDonald for the fair will be 75 cents over the Panhandle. Tickets may be obtained until September 5th, inclusive, good returning the same day, or the day after their purchase.

FOR FIFTH TIME HOUSE WAS STRUCK BY A TROLLEY CAR



The Home of Clarence Wilson, No. 238 Second Avenue, Homestead, With the Car That Plunged Into It.

Yesterday for the fifth time within two years the home of Clarence Wilson at No. 238 Second avenue, Homestead, was struck by a street car and damaged, this time to such an extent that the building will have to be torn down. A score of passengers were hurt, seven of them seriously.

Shortly before 10 o'clock yesterday morning car No. 1,160 on the Braddock division of the Pittsburgh Railways Company got beyond control of Motorman Thomas Porter while crossing the bridge into Homestead and left the rails at the curve into Second avenue and plunged over the porch and into the Wilson home, which was directly in its path.

The car was crowded with passengers and the following were the most seriously injured: G. W. Miller, No. 610 Tower street, Allegheny; J. R. Shaw, Swissvale; Mrs. Catherine Miller, Braddock avenue, Braddock; John Lobe, Ohio street, Allegheny; Sarah Robins, Penn avenue, Pittsburgh; Bessie Malhoy, Mulberry alley, Pittsburgh; Thomas Blackwood, No. 642 Grant street, Pittsburgh.

Many others were injured slightly by jumping from the car or being thrown from their seats.

When Brown's bridge was reached the car was apparently in good running order, but when it reached the center of the bridge the motorman lost all control of it and it shot forward at a high rate of speed. When the Homestead end of the bridge was reached a number of the passengers had already jumped off and the car left the tracks and plunged into the Wilson home.

The car struck the house with such force that the entire building was moved nearly 3 foot from its foundations and an immense hole was torn through the front portion of it. Both chimneys were twisted out of place and the furniture in the room entered by the car was demolished. The passengers were thrown in a heap in the front end of the car and many of them were struck by flying glass and other debris from the house and car.

The house which was entered by the car has been unusually unfortunate with trolley cars and has the unique record of having been struck by trolley cars five times, one or more persons being injured each time. The building this time, however, is a complete wreck and will have to be torn down, as it is unsafe to live in.

NEW IDEAS FROM TRAINING SCHOOL

Will Make His Report to Other Members of Board of Experts of Carnegie Polytechnic School on Foreign Industrial and Technical Institutions.

Prof. Clifford B. Connelley, superintendent of manual training in the Allegheny schools, returned to Pittsburgh yesterday from a tour of eight weeks in Europe. His object in the trip was to get ideas which would be valuable to him as a member of the committee of experts of the Carnegie Polytechnic school.

Prof. Connelley visited technical schools in England, France, Germany and Belgium. He will refer his report to Prof. Arthur Hamerschlag and Prof. Arthur L. Williston, the other members of the board of experts.

The expert board will, in all probability, meet next month and will supplement its formal report, already made, to Mr. Carnegie and the board of trustees of the Carnegie institute. In discussing his trip yesterday Prof. Connelley said:

"Nearly all the American and foreign polytechnic schools are run on practically the same lines, but there is the greatest difference in the manner in which the industrial schools in this country and those in continental cities are conducted. In London I visited eight industrial and polytechnic schools. Americans are advancing rapidly in technical education, but have lots to learn.

"In Paris I visited the great French industrial school. Here they give greater attention to the industrial education of women than of men. In nearly all of the foreign schools of industry and technology I find that the students enter the institutions at an earlier age than in this country. Students in the great European industrial and technical schools are graduated by the time they are 18.

"To sum up all I have learned will be to advise the members of the board of trustees of the Carnegie institute, and more especially the members of the plan and scope committee what not to do. In the European schools everything depends on location. It will have to be so in Pittsburgh. We must be careful about the site and in the erection of the buildings."

HOT TIME IN VERMONT.

Vote Polled for Governor Nearly Double That of Two Years Ago.

WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, VT., Sept. 3.—At 2 o'clock this afternoon 236 of the 246 towns and cities in Vermont gave the following vote for governor: McCullough, Republican, 31,175; McGettrick, Democrat, 7,185; Clement, license Republican, 27,487; Sherburne, Prohibition, 2,487.

The same towns in 1900 gave Stickney, Republican, 17,374; Senter, Democrat, 16,857; all others, 1,508. The 10 missing towns in 1900 gave Stickney, 1,067, and Senter, Democrat, 202; all others, 26. These figures confirm the returns of last night, showing that, neither candidate having the required majority of all votes cast, the election will be thrown into the legislature.

SHOOTING AT IMPERIAL.

Colored Man in Jail for Wounding Another Is Believed to Be Insane.

Dolman Green, colored, of Imperial, was committed to jail last night on a charge of felonious assault and battery, by Justice J. T. Wilson, on the information of Henry Harris of the same place.

Harris is suffering from gun shot wounds inflicted by Green last Sunday night. Harris alleges that Green has been troubling him for sometime; that he would come to his house and insult him. Sunday night Green went to Harris' house and provoked him so that they quarrelled. Green is alleged to have shot Harris twice. One of the bullets took effect in his abdomen and the other in his shoulder.

Green made his escape and was only arrested yesterday morning. He is believed to be insane, and will probably be sent to Marshalsea.

FILIBUSTERS IN COUNCIL.

Peculiar Tactics Adopted by McKees Rocks City Fathers.

Matters of importance before the McKees Rocks council were sidetracked for the third time last night by filibustering on the part of members to prevent, it is said, the election of a new member to succeed the late R. L. McMunn.

Several candidates are in the field and the general opinion was that F. H. Heiber had the advantage. The developments of last night indicate a deadlock that will hang up everything of importance until the election in February.

AT THE IRISH FAIR.

Usual Big Crowd and Consequent Enthusiasm Were In Evidence Last Night.

About 5,000 persons attended the Irish Fair last night, and a spirit of enthusiasm permeated all. Last evening had been set apart in the interests of the Knights of Columbus. Many members of this order, accompanied by their wives and daughters were present. No night since the opening of the big show, has shown a more thoroughly and generally prosperous state of affairs.

Two hundred and fifty little girls and boys, headed by a brass band, with greatly varied decorations and costumes gaily marched through the passageway underneath the race track and into the big arena. All were from the Church of the Annunciation and were under the ever watchful eye of the Rev. Father McCabe, their pastor. A series of difficult evolutions were passed through by the little folks.

Following this number came the sports, including a half-mile bicycle race with five entries; barrel-jumping contests and feats upon the parallel bars; one-mile motor paced race for amateurs and tug-of-war between members of the A. O. H., which was won by the millionaires' club. The program for tonight follows: Half-mile bicycle race, two-mile motor paced (bicycle); tug-of-war; barrel and high jumping and feats upon the parallel bars. During this evening 200 cadets from St. Peter's Roman Catholic church, Sherman avenue, Allegheny, will form in line on North Diamond street, Allegheny, and with a brass band will march to the Coliseum, where an exhibition drill will be given. A large number of members of the Irish Catholic Benevolent union will also be present.

CHARGED WITH RIOT.

Contractor Hawley Moves Against Some Turbulent Italians in Wilkinsburg.

Information was made last evening before Justice John J. Walker of Wilkinsburg by W. E. Howley of the contracting firm of W. E. Howley & Co. against a score or more of Italians, all residents of the East End, charging them with rioting.

They are the same men who caused trouble near Wilkinsburg last week. The contractor at that time permitted the matter to drop, hoping that the men would cause no further trouble. In this he was mistaken, however. He charges that the Italians waylay the negroes with whom they had the recent trouble and offer them all kinds of indignities.

This came near causing another serious riot yesterday, and in order to protect the men Howley wants the Italians restrained. Howley & Co. are building the new Wilkinsburg and Turtle Creek pike.

J. E. SCHWAB'S NEW HOME.

Leases Rooms in a Fashionable New York Apartment House.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—(Special.)—Joseph E. Schwab, brother of Charles M. Schwab, has leased an apartment on the eighth floor of the new Ansonia apartment house in the boulevard, between Seventy-third and Seventy-fourth streets. The rental is to be $8,000 a year.

Joseph E. Schwab is an assistant to the president of the United States Steel Corporation and has lived in New York for a year. He was formerly superintendent of the Duquesne plant of the corporation.

THE WABASH HAS TIGHT CONTRACT

SHIPPERS OF TWO COUNTIES LEARN THAT FACT.

Many of Them Have Agreed to Pay That Line $5 00 for Every Ton or Fraction of It, Sent Over Other Roads—Forfeit Clause Well Concealed.

Many of the mine owners, farmers and merchants of Washington and Greene counties have signed ironclad contracts whereby they must ship over proposed new lines of the Wabash interests for 10 years all their freight and must pay at the rate of $5 a ton or fraction thereof for all freight consigned over competing lines, providing that the Wabash gives a rate as low as any other line. This provision for the $5 forfeit is concealed in the verbiage of the contract as "liquidated damages."

Some of the prospective shippers signing the contract are said to have entered it without knowing that they had bound themselves not to give a competing railroad any freight. One of the contracts was brought to Pittsburgh yesterday by one in interest in an effort to learn how he could have it annulled.

The contracts bind the shippers to pay $250 for each 50-ton car of coal, say, that they may ship over a competing line, in addition to the freight paid for such a shipment. The Pennsylvania and some independent railroad interests plan to network Greene and Washington counties with new railroads, and many of those who have signed the contracts to ship only on the Wabash lines may at times have to seek the outlet of the other roads.

One of the few conditions on the part of the Wabash is that it will have ready for operation by October 1, 1903, the lines between Pittsburgh, Washington and Waynesburg. About 100 of these contracts are said to have been signed.

The contracts are between the prospective shipper as grantor and Attorney A. M. Neeper of Pittsburgh as grantee. The contract states that a railroad company has been incorporated which, with its branches, has been so located as to connect with the main line of the Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western Railroad Company so as to permit the operating of cars over this road into Pittsburgh and west through connections of this railroad with points in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois and other western points reached by the Wabash; and its connections, and that the new road through Greene and Washington counties, touching Washington and Waynesburg will have connecting branches through Fayette county to Uniontown and to the state line of Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

The grantor agrees to give this interest all his freight, providing only that destination is reached by as low a freight rate as by a competing line, "and to pay as liquidated damages a minimum sum of 85 for each ton of freight or part thereof shipped or routed in violation thereof."

Carried Stove Eighteen Miles.

Genor Dirvassi Digranandi was sent to jail last night by Justice Harry Flick of Bunola on a charge of the larceny of a stove, preferred by Joseph Lambardi. It is charged that Digranandi stole the stove in Bunola and carried it to Pigeon Creek, a distance of 18 miles.

JOHNSON'S SLATE IS FRACTURED IN OHIO CONVENTION

Cleveland Mayor Gets Everything Except One Nominee.

BOOMED FOR PRESIDENT

Delegates Informed That Their Chairman Has High Aspirations—Cincinnati Preacher Heads the Ticket. To Stump State in a Tent.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Secretary of state—The Rev. Herbert S. Bigelow, Cincinnati.

Supreme judge—Michael Donnelley, Napoleon.

Food and dairy commissioner—Philip H. Bruck, Columbus.

Member of state board of public works—Joseph J. Pater, Hamilton.

The convention was the occasion af booming its presiding officer, Mayor Tom L. Johnson, for the presidency and of introducing into Ohio politics the Rev. Herbert S. Bigelow, pastor of the Vine Street Congregational church at Cincinnati. The Rev. Bigelow made a speech of acceptance that was received with unusual enthusiasm. Bigelow is 33 years old, independent in his creed and has become prominent as a lecturer as well as a popular preacher.

It was a Johnson convention, although Mr. Johnson was more conciliatory than at the preliminary meetings of the preceding two days. The platform was adopted as it came from him. The state central and executive committees were organized as he suggested and the state ticket, with a single exception, was nominated by acclamation as slated by the Johnson men.

Men passed through the audience distributing buttons bearing the picture of the chairman and the inscription, "Tom L. Johnson in 1904."

The only contest was for food commissioner. Ex-Mayor Bruck of Columbus was nominated over Senator Krause of Cleveland, the neighbor and personal friend of Johnson. Bruck got the support of all the Germans and ex-soldiers in the convention and broke the Johnson slate.

Mayor Johnson, with his big tent, will open the campaign at Lorain next Saturday. The state committee has arranged to have Bigelow speak in every county and Johnson and Bigelow will fill engagements every day and night until election.

Lane Nominated in California.

SACRAMENTO, CAL., Sept. 3.—Franklin K. Lane, city attorney of San Francisco, was nominated today for governor by the Democratic state convention, on the first ballot. John K. Law of Merced was renominated for chief justice by acclamation.

ew Bank for Rankin—Application o be made to the comptroller of the rency for a charter for a bank at Ran- in. Several Pittsburgh capitalists are back of the institution, which will have a capital of $50,000.

Humane Fines from Aldermen—The Western Pennsylvania Humane society has received the following fines from Aldermen: W. A. Means, $20; C. F. Oyer, $40; W. B. Armstrong, $20, Humphrey Lynch, $10. Total, $90.

Must Be Vaccinated—Many children who go to the public schools are being sent home and told that they must be vaccinated. Over 100 of them called at the bureau of health yesterday to get vaccinated and secure certificates.

McCullough Held for Court—Frank McCullough, the quarantine officer, who shot William E. Dunn, near Third avenue and Grant street, on the night of August 18, during a squabble in front of a speakeasy, was held for court yesterday in $500 bail.

Fell Out of His Window—Thomas McClelland, aged 35, a boarder at the home of A. A. Weinberg, No. 1321 Penn avenue, fell from the window of his room in the third story, Tuesday night and was seriously injured. He was sent to the West Penn hospital.

Shriners Have a Time Today—The Arch patrol of Syria temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, will have its annual romp at Kennywood park today. The program will start at noon and no time is set for the close. One of the features will be the parade in costume this evening.

Bought a Donora Hotel—James Collins, a hotel owner of Braddock, for 12 years proprietor of the Rush house at that place, yesterday bought a new hotel property at Donora, Washington county. The price was $15,000 cash. Mr. Collins will remove to Donora as soon as the new hotel can be opened and license secured.

Westinghouse Casino Prospers—Ground was broken at East Pittsburgh yesterday for a large three-story brick addition to the Casino, the club recently started by the employes of the Westinghouse interests. The club purchased a lot adjoining their quarters and decided to erect a building on it to cost $10,000.

Mail Carrier Injured—George H. Walker of Maple avenue, Allegheny, one of the veterans of the North Side mail carriers, has three broken ribs. While making a trip Saturday afternoon he tried to get through a freight train, between cars. He slipped and fell, alighting on his left side.

Monongahela's Outing—Yesterday the merchants of Monongahela had an outing at Kennywood park and several thousand people were in attendance. They came on special trains over the Pemcky railroad. The program consisted of sports and dancing. Mayor H. K. Bently was chairman of the committee in charge.

New Rankin Building—Joseph Norton, a merchant of Rankin, yesterday accepted plans for a three-story brick business block to be built at the corner of Braddock avenue and Patterson street, Rankin, on the site of a present two-story structure. The building will be of fire brick and be 40x60 feet. It will cost about $15,000.

For Abandoning Her Child—Mary Masher, aged 27, a domestic, is in the Allegheny police station on the charge of abandoning her 2-weeks-old child, which is in the care of the department of charities. She declared that her sister had taken the child to place it in a foundlings' home, but afterward told her that she had choked it to death.

After Government Jobs—A special examination for mail clerks and carriers in the Allegheny postoffice drew 58 candidates yesterday, and the board of examiners had to be increased from three to four, to finish the examination. Eighteen of the candidates, including three women, were after clerkships, while the other 40 wanted to be carriers.

Lost a $5,000 Horse—Inspector James N. Kidney of the Western Pennsylvania Humane society yesterday shot for Dr. J. S. Phillips of Chestnut street, Allegheny, a valuable race horse named Ben Crooks, which had a dislocated hip joint. The horse was valued by Dr. Phillips at $5,000. It was injured about a month ago, and was incurable.

Charged With Prize Fighting—Police Inspector Fred Will yesterday arrested William Coleman, William Swan and Adam Mann, all colored, for engaging in a prize fight in a stable near Shafer street, last Monday. The first two were the principals and Mann the referee. All deny the charge, and say they merely sparred for fun, and that no money was put up.

Wife's Denial Was in Vain—Frank Fahnestock of Torrence alley is enjoying an outing of 30 days at the workhouse, because he insisted on cuddling his wife until the neighbors interfered. In spite of the fact that the wife tried to save him by denying the beating at No. 6 police station yesterday morning, Magistrate Armstrong fined him $25, in lieu of which he was sent to the works.

Blaze in Etna House—A house valued at $2,000 at No. 207 Butler street, Etna, caught fire about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon and was damaged considerably by fire and water. The house is occupied by the families of Mr. Boehner and Mr. Lindsey. The fire is thought to have been caused by a defective flue and was increased by the explosion of a large can of gasoline. The loss is estimated at about $800.

After South Side Dives—The police yesterday inaugurated a crusade against the speakeasies on the South Side. Inspector William McShane says he will not let up until every place where liquor is sold illegally is closed. Yesterday he made information against David Gupe of South Thirtieth street for selling liquor without a license. Gupe was locked up in the Twenty-fifth ward police station.

Woman as a Burglar—A number of recent robberies in Bellevue are attributed to a female burglar. An attempt was made Monday night to enter the home of George F. Wright, president of the Iron City bank, and his daughter, who was the only member of the family up, saw a woman looking through a window from the veranda. The imprints of a woman's shoe were found under the window the next morning.

Railroad Agents to Move—The representatives of the 31 outside railroads maintaining traffic offices in the Park building have appointed a committee to secure accommodations for these agencies in the new Farmers' Deposit National bank building, Wood street and Fifth avenue. It is likely that all of the 13th floor and parts of other floors will be secured for railroad offices for occupancy after April 1. About 150 persons are connected with these offices, and the Park building colony is among the best known in the country.

McAleese Crusade Goes On—At the hearings yesterday morning before Magistrate McGarey the following persons were held for court on charges of selling liquor without a license and on Sunday: James Martin of Shingiss street, Kate Irwin of Clay alley, Margaret Davis of Poplar alley and Sadie McGinley, Helen O'Brien of Stewarts Row, West Carson street, and Austin Jordan of No. 129 McKean street were committed to jail on the same offenses.

Prices Were Much Too High—As a result of the visit of S. H. Neely, representing the postoffice department to McKeesport yesterday, the councils of that city will probably be asked to sell the government a site in Diamond square for the federal building, for which an appropriation of $100,000 has been made. Mr. Neely looked over a number of sites but their prices ranged from $40,000 to $75,000. He declares that only $20,000 is available for the site.

More South Side Plans—The Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston division of the Pennsylvania railroad has under consideration the erection on the South Sode of an additional passenger station at South Twenty-seventh street and a freight station with larger yards at South Sixth street. The railroad has been ordered by the city to take up the switch in Edwards alley, in the Twenty-sixth ward, for which a permit was given for 90 days. The time has expired.

He Began It Young—David Gratch, aged 16, of Center avenue, was arrested last night by Detective Philip P. McDonough and locked up in Allegheny Central police station on a charge of obtaining goods under false pretense. The boy admits that he secured 2,000 cigars and a lot of cigarettes from the R. & W. Jenkinson Company by pretending he had been sent for them by certain Allegheny retail dealers and that he had sold them for what he could get. He will have a hearing today.

CUNNINGHAM PUTS IT UP TO THE DEMOCRATS

Says He Will Not Contest the Nomination of Congressman Ernest F. Acheson.

The Democratic party is to carry on the legal contest against placing the name of Congressman Ernest F. Acheson on the Republican ticket, as nominee for congress in the Twenty-fourth district, composed of Beaver, Lawrence and Washington counties.

Charles R. Eckert of Monaca is the Democratic nominee, and, it is asserted, will contest the right of Congressman Acheson to the nomination on the ground that he is not the legal nominee. J. H. Cunningham, the choice of the Beaver county Republicans, said last night:

"I will not contest the nomination on file in Harrisburg. The Democrats will take care of them. As the matter stands now I am the only Republican candidate in Beaver county, according to the party rules, as Mr. Acheson was not registered there."

THIRTY PERSONS HURT IN A TEXAS WRECK

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

FORT WORTH, TEX., Sept. 3.—The westbound passenger train on the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe railroad was wrecked at 9 o'clock last night by a defective rail near Brownwood, Tex. The entire train was thrown down a 20-foot embankment. Thirty persons were injured.

Mrs. Kate Humphries of Houston had her skull fractured and will probably die; Alice and Kate Humphries, also of Houston, were dangerously hurt; Lee Hall, believed to be the noted Texas ranger captain, and late captain in the Philippine service, was also badly injured. The injured were taken to Brownwood.

EMBEZZLED FUNDS.

Cleveland Representative of a Pittsburgh Firm Arrested in Los Angeles.

A dispatch from Los Angeles, Cal., says that Arthur R. Chamberlain of Cleveland, who had charge of the Cleveland offices of the Dravo & Doyle Company, a machinery firm of this city, had been arrested there on charges of embezzlement. Not only had Chamberlain embezzled the funds of the local concern, but he had included in his operations several others who had employed him after his flight from Ohio.

F. R. Dravo of Edgeworth was asked regarding the reported apprehension of the embezzler. He stated that he knew nothing further than what was reported over the wires, but that the dispatch was substantially correct. The amount involved will not be known until the books of the Cleveland office are thoroughly investigated.

Requisition papers have been issued and the prisoner will be brought back to Ohio in charge of Capt. Kohler, of the Cleveland detective force.

RECEIVERS APPOINTED.

Three Men Named to Care for Heavy Liabilities of American Bicycle Company.

TRENTON, N. J., Sept. 3.—Judge Kirkpatrick, sitting at Newark, has appointed Col. Albert A. Pope, R. Lindsey Coleman and John A. Miller, receivers for the American Bicycle Company. Col. Pope and Mr. Coleman are officers of the company. The company has defaulted bonds amounting to $225,000. The company is said to also owe $150,000 to Baring, Magoun & Co., $50,000 to the Federal Manufacturing Company and $38,000 to Smithers & Co., besides other debts. The company, in addition owes $6,500,000 as principal on outstanding bonds.

The assets are given as $7,751,000, a portion of which, however, is considered of uncertain value.

DON'T TRY PRESSURE.

Trust to Intelligence.

You cannot by process of law prevent anyone from drugging themselves to death. We must meet the evil by appeal to the intelligence.

One of the drugs that does the most harm to Americans, because of its widespread use and its apparent innocence, is coffee. Ask any regular coffee drinker if he or she is perfectly well. At least one-half are not. Only those with extra vigor can keep well against the daily attack of caffeine (in the coffee). The heart and pulse gradually lose strength; dyspepsia, kidney troubles and nervous diseases of some sort set in and the clearly marked effects of coffee poisoning are shown. These are facts and worth anyone's thought. The reasonable and sensible thing is to leave it off and shift to Postum Food Coffee. The poison that has been secretly killing is thus withdrawn and a powerful rebuilding agent put to work. The good effects will begin to show inside of 10 days. If health and comfort are worth anything to you, try it.

POLITICIANS JOLLIED FOLKS AT A BARBECUE

GREAT OX IS SACRIFICED

Comical "Field" Events Included Goat Race, Fat Man's Race, and a Pie-Eating Contest Which Was to Occur, but Did Not.

People of the southern townships of Allegheny county, joined by not a few from Pittsburgh and Allegheny, composed a crowd of 5,000 which yesterday attended the third annual Baldwin township barbecue and harvest home social at Castle Shannon grove. The celebration continued from 10 a. m. to 11 p. m., and there was not a dull moment in the entire time.

The special features were the roasting of an 1,100-pound ox and a series of "field" events. Humor counted more than athletics in the latter. A few little things went wrong, as, for instance, when the pie-eating contest, one of the "athletic" events, was called it was discovered that the cooks had eaten all the pies, and that event was postponed until next year.

High anticipations had been raised by the announcement that "two prominent South Side business men would settle a long-standing dispute as to fleetness of foot by a 100-yard dash." It was discovered that the men referred to were Square Jacob Stein and William Korb. At last year's barbecue these two raced, but there was dissatisfaction over the decision and a bet of $25 was placed depending upon yesterday's outcome. There wasn't any outcome, for the reason that 'Squire Stein did not come out.

Politicians Out in Force.

One impromptu feature that did not attract nearly as much attention as those furnished the feature desired, was provided by a party of organization candidates for political offices who were busily engaged all the afternoon shaking hands and "throwing jollies" into the good people of the county. In the party were Dr. A. J. Barchfield, candidate for congress from the new Thirty-second district; Robert Ostermaier, delinquent tax-collector; J. Carson Mercer and Webb W. Murray, candidates for county commissioner; George Foster, candidate for county treasurer; Archibald Mackrell, candidate for sheriff, and with them were Charles Ruhlandt, P. J. Murphy and Tim O'Leary, the Democrat.

Enthusiasm ran high when the goat race was called. Four of the brutes, fleet of foot and trained beyond the siren attractions of wayside tincans, were entered as follows: Billy G. M., Nanny H., Billy R. and Billy G. With boys as drivers, three heats were run, and in two of them Billy G. M. showed what a really superior goat can do in the way of exhibiting a clean pair of heels. His efforts were made the greater by judicious twisting of his tail by his owner, George Mauschke. A fine set of goat harness was the prize. Edwin Graff came in second in the race with Billy G. and won a suit of clothes. The third prize, a pair of shoes, was won by Nanny H., George Hamilton's charge.

Ox-Roasting Was a Success.

The ox-roasting was a decided success. The big animal was chosen by a committee of experts and his roasting was conducted with all possible care. On the spit he was slowly and surely turned from 6 p. m. Tuesday until noon yesterday, when it was formally announced that the right shade of brown had been attained, and that all who came might assure themselves of the fact. And hundreds came. The committee in charge of this feature consisted of William B. Bockstoldt, chairman; William Schnuth and Jacob Pfeil. The horns of the ox were auctioned off as souvenirs and were secured by Charles Scheller for $4.

The sports committee consisted of Daniel Beech, chairman; Louis Hertel and J. F. Dunker. In addition to the events mentioned there were the following: Business men's race, won by William Auhburn; 100-yard dash, won by James McCaffrey; fat men's 100-yard race, won by Conrad Englert of Baldwin township, weight 220 pounds, prize, a fine revolver; five entries, time, disgraceful; married men's race, first Thomas Zimmerman, second Charles Ogden, third J. F. Dunker; horse owners' race, won by Thomas Zimmermann. Bowling and cake-walking contests took place in the evening.

The members of the association conducting this barbecue are as follows: President, George S. Graff; secretary, J. F. Dunker; treasurer, Nelson J. Kerr; John D. Hoffmann, Fred Bernarding, Charles Feiler, Daniel Lammers, William Schnuth, Louis Hertel, Peter Klein, John W. Waterman, W. B. Bockstoge, Daniel Beech, Jacob Pfeil, Frank Metcalf, Valentine Ehmer, George Koffler, Lawrence Tregesser, Charles Scheller and William Schaub.

AFTER MANY TRIALS CAME A GREATER ONE

Poor Woman, Who Lost Her Children, Found Husband a Hopeless Lunatic at Woodvale.

Mrs. Michael Oloff of Hamburg, Germany, arrived in this city Tuesday afternoon in search of her husband, who sent for her two years ago. She found him last night, a hopeless lunatic, at the county home in Woodville.

Oloff left his native land three years ago and came to Pittsburgh intending to gather sufficient funds to bring his wife and three children here later. In August, 1901, he acquired the necessary money for their transportation, and sent it to his wife. Then Oloff was taken ill. He was unable to work and was soon without funds. He did not have money enough to pay for his boarding and lodging, and as a result he was arrested on a charge of defrauding a boarding house keeper, in September, 1901, and sent to the workhouse. His misfortune distracted him so that he soon lost his mind.

His consort was not without misfortune. About the time she received the money for transportation to the United States the three children were taken ill and died. The distracted mother did not hear from her husband after that and the death of her children not only detained her, but made necessary the expenditure of all the money her husband had sent.

The woman in her desperation set to work to earn enough money to bring her to this land, and in a year's time was successful. She arrived yesterday morning and went to Imperial to find her husband. She learned that he had been arrested and committed to the workhouse or Allegheny county jail. When she visited the jail and there learned that her husband was in the county home at Woodville, a hopeless lunatic.

DOLAN SPEAKS IN LONDON.

Is Not Prepared to Say Which Side Will Win in Strike.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—Patrick Dolan of Pittsburgh, one of the American delegates, addressed the Trades Union congress today and conveyed to the delegates warm greetings from the American Federation of Labor. Mr. Dolan said that America, while in advance of Great Britain regarding hours of labor, was far behind in regard to representation in parliament.

Mr. Dolan told how 360,000 organized miners of the United States were voluntarily contributing $1 a week in support of the anthracite mine strikers. He was not prepared to say which side would be victorious, but if the men lost it would not be so injurious to trades unionism as many people thought.

Nearly 300 professionals have begun singing "The Summer Days" since August 15th. This means a new song hit. Free with next Sunday's Gazette.

SUFFERED SEVEN YEARS

With Catarrhal Derangements of the Pelvic Organs.

Miss Kate Brown.

Hundreds of Dollars Spent In Vain--Peru-na Cured.

Miss Kate Brown, Recording Secretary of the L. C. B. Association of Kansas, in a letter from 653 N. Seventh St., Kansas City, Kan., says:

"For seven years I have not known what it was to spend a well day. I caught a severe cold, which I neglected. It was at the time of menstruation, and inflammation set in and prostrated me. Catarrh of the kidneys and bladder followed, my digestive organs gave way, in fact, the cold disarranged my whole system.

"I spent hundreds of dollars with doctors and medicine, but derived but little benefit until I began treatment with Peruna. I kept taking it for nearly nine months before I was completely cured, but I kept growing better gradually so that I felt encouraged to continue taking Peruna until my health was restored. I send my thanks and blessings to you for Peruna."—Miss Kate Brown.

A neglected cold is frequently the cause of death.

It is more often, however, the cause of some chronic disease.

There is not an organ in the body but what is liable to become seriously deranged by a neglected cold. Diseases of the kidneys, bladder and digestive organs are all frequently the result of a neglected cold.

Hundreds of dollars are spent on doctors and medicines trying to cure these diseases, but until the true cause of them is discovered there will be no use in using medicine.

Dyspepsia medicine, diarrhoea medicine and constipation medicine is of no good whatever when catarrh is the cause. The catarrh must be treated. The cause being removed, the derangements will disappear.

A Congressman's Letter.

Hon. Joseph B. Crowley, Congressman from Illinois, writes from Robinson, Ill., the following praise for the great catarrhal tonic, Peruna. Congressman Crowley says:

"Mrs. Crowley has taken a number of bottles of Peruna on account of nervous troubles. It has proven a strong tonic and lasting cure. I can cheerfully recommend it."—J. B. Crowley.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

A Practical Organization.

Evidence was given at the meeting of the Republican state committee yesterday that, while other organizations may indulge cheap clap-trap about state reforms, the Republican party is doing practical work to effect results. Committees were appointed to draft ballot reform bills and to take such steps as seem advisable to end the anthracite strike in the interest of the public. These actions are far more significant than the asseverations of other political organizations which "explore" conditions, but never offer a concrete proposition of what they would substitute for them.

In respect to the local question of the indorsement of the state ticket by the Citizens party, the committee sensibly disposed of it by declaring that the final of a proffer of support from that source would be in bad taste. Formal acceptance is unnecessary. Any other action was hardly conceivable.

The state committee is now fully equipped for the work before it, and the campaign will be prosecuted with vigor until crowned by success.

Union Party Conventions.

There are now two Union parties, and it may be left to the Dauphin county court to decide, if it can, which one is entitled to the appellation. The convention held in Musical Fund hall, though characterized by some unusual features, appears to have the better claim to regularity, as it was held at the time and place announced for the meeting by the duly constituted authorities. The fact that admission to the hall was secured by force does not militate so much against the delegates who entered by that means as against those who planned in advance to hold it by the same means against the only delegates, probably, who were properly accredited.

In Philadelphia and Chester alone has the Union party obtained a legal standing as a party. Because the majority of delegates from those counties were known to be opposed to the policy of making the party an annex to the Democracy, a faction led by Chairman Ritter endeavored to exclude those delegates. Failing that, the faction held another convention. As a party neither will be of much importance. The real significance of the whole matter is that genuine independent sentiment favors the election of Judge Pennypacker, while the Wanamaker contingent is bent principally upon defeating the Republican party if it can.

Real and Mimic Warfare.

As President Roosevelt remarked, "It is the shots that hit that count." In the mimic warfare now in progress between the army and navy no shots hit, as would be the case in real war, because there are no shots. Only the powder is burned. The projectiles and bombs are missing. Aside from that there are all the movements of war, even to its sound and fury, and there is the smoke of battle. But as there are no shots and as nothing is hit the general public is very much in the dark as to what would really have happened had shots been fired. Good marksmanship has much to do with results in battle; perhaps it would be right to say that it has most to do. Superior marksmanship may greatly offset superior force and equipment, and even superior strategy. Therefore, it is no sure thing that the fort that is reported silenced by the navy in the mimic war would have been silenced in real war, nor that the war vessel decreed sunk or disabled by the guns of a fort or by a submarine mine would not have escaped these perils and given a good account of itself. The mimic contest is one of technical and tactical skill, and the theoretical happenings are merely the reasonable probabilities deduced from strategical position and marshaling of force, etc., etc. These things are important in warfare, but they are not all of warfare. Nevertheless, they count for much, and in the army and navy maneuvers they must decide. After real war it is the best preparation our soldiers and seamen can have for warfare, but war is more than a game of chess. Soldiers in our civil war who did not know enough to know when they were beaten won battles that had been won from them by all the known rules of war. Generals opposed to Napoleon used to account for their defeats by complaining that he did not conduct his campaigns in accordance with the known and approved rules. In real war many things are different, but the results of mimic battles hang entirely on the known rules.

Authracite Strike Discussion.

Two important contributions were made to the public literature of the anthracite coal region troubles yesterday. One was the statement of President Baer, of the Reading company, to Senators Quay and Penrose; the other the report of Carroll D. Wright, commissioner of labor, to President Roosevelt. Commissioner Wright's report is on conditions at the beginning of the strike and is a paper worthy of careful consideration by all. One of his conclusions is peculiarly pertinent in connection with President Baer's statement, namely, that much of the trouble in the region is due to lack of confidence, on each side, in the integrity of the other.

Mr. Baer's statement in reply to representations made by the United States senators of Pennsylvania is a complex paper. It contends that to have conceded the demands of the miners would have been to operate the mines and coal carrying roads at a loss. It argues that the owners cannot permit the miners to dictate how they shall manage their business and it avers most emphatically that the matters at issue, which are enumerated, cannot be arbitrated. Finally, it concludes with the assertion that the strike will not be settled until the men return to work at the old scale of prices and petition for the redress of their grievances.

Mr. Baer's ideas about what may be arbitrated will not meet public approval. Any dispute may be arbitrated. If the facts in the case are as he has stated them, there can be little doubt a board of arbitration would have decided in favor of the operators on all questions of compensation. That would have prevented the strike and might have had the effect of creating confidence between the parties to it. On the matter of the right of owners to manage their own business there is no dispute, and touching the disorder in the mining region President Baer is entirely right. Nothing can be conceded to violence.

Mr. Baer makes one significant charge against the miners, namely, that when muc coal was wanted they would not wo k more than six hours a day to produce it. That charge is necessarily explained by the lack of confidence noted by Commissioner Wright. The refusal of the miners to earn more money when they had the opportunity was obviously due to suspicion on their part that the companies intended to store surplus stock to defeat possible demands of the men. Mr. Baer's view is that the coal was needed to secure the welfare of the public.

It thus appears the intervention of Senators Quay and Penrose has been of no direct benefit. It may be assumed Mr. Baer speaks for the operators in general. His reply is an obstinate refusal to concede anything. The attitude of the miners continues to be one of uncompromising persistence in their original demands. There is on neither side any sign of conciliation, though it is apparent that both are suffering from the struggle.

Yet this situation is not without hopeful features. President Baer on the one side has been forced by public sentiment and the intercession of the Pennsylvania senators to offer an explanation, which he and his associates did not deem necessary when the trouble began last spring. On the other side the miners have been forced to recognize the law against violence, despite ridiculous and heated resolutions denouncing military orders to uphold it. These things do not necessarily indicate an early resumption of mining, so much to be desired, but they demonstrate the force of public opinion that will ultimately bring peace and stability to the anthracite mining region, whether by legislative enactments, or mutual concessions. If Baer and his associates and Mitchell and his associates could talk matters over as frankly and earnestly as Baer and the senators did yesterday, they could reach an agreement. But if they cannot do so they ought to delegate their powers to others who can confer dispassionately and reach just conclusions.

A Repetition of History.

The American scientists who reached the island of Martinique soon after the destruction of St. Pierre expressed the opinion that the eruption of Mont Pelee on May 8 was not the culmination of volcanic activity. They feared that the entire north part of the island would be wrecked and made uninhabitable. Their opinion has been verified in large degree by the eruption of last Saturday night, which is described by survivors as the most violent yet experienced. The loss of life was not as great as when St. Pierre was overwhelmed, but that was because there were fewer people left as victims to the volcano's fury. More than a thousand persons, however, were reported as killed by the eruption.

It is difficult to acquit the French government of blame for this loss of life. The unfortunate people had been removed from their homes after the May eruption and were sent back by the government only last week. It seemed as though the volcano only waited until fresh victims were within its reach before belching forth once more its deadly flame. The latest eruption of Mont Pelee is only a repetition of history. The tremendous forces which gather within a volcano never exhaust their energy with one or two great eruptions. Krakatoa was several months working up to the awful climax which caused the destruction of 100,000 lives. The history of that great disaster is well known and it ought to have warned France to remove the unfortunate inhabitants of Martinique. The end of Mont Pelee's activity probably is not yet, and no surprise will be felt if convulsions still more terrible follow, involving destruction of one end of the island at least.

The President's Peril.

President Roosevelt's narrow escape from serious injury yesterday created a profound shock for the moment throughout the country, followed by grateful relief when it was learned that he was only slightly hurt and was able shortly thereafter to proceed on his way. The nation recalls, all too vividly, the death by violence of President Roosevelt's predecessor to relish the thought of another tragedy. The accident to the coaching party of which the president was a member seems to have been the result of carelessness on the part of the men in charge of the electric car that ran into and overturned the tally-ho coach upon which the party was seated. Whether this be so or not will only be positively determined by a rigid investigation of all the facts. General sorrow will be felt over the death of one of the president's body guards, a secret service officer well known in Pittsburgh and greatly respected for his efficiency and courage.

Roosevelt on the Trusts.

It was wise of President Roosevelt to define trusts and his position in relation to trusts, as he did in his speech at Fitchburg, not because his position was not well known to persons who had paid attention to his previous utterances, but because of much misunderstanding of the whole question. No one who had read carefully any of Mr. Roosevelt's addresses on the trust question, and especially his Independence Day speech in Pittsburgh, could misunderstand him unless the misunderstanding were willful, but many persons do not take the trouble to ascertain precisely what is meant by the term "trusts." Such persons are usually most violent in their enmity to all combinations of capitalists, regardless of whether the effect of any given combination be good or bad. These are the foolish ones described by the president who, either in a spirit of rancor or in a spirit of folly, say "Destroy the trusts," without giving you an idea of what they really mean to do.

President Roosevelt makes it clear that bigness in a corporation does not necessarily imbue it with pernicious characteristics. Men who have had the business forethought and energy necessary to build up a great industrial enterprise deserve reward and encouragement. Not all gigantic combinations of capital are bad; some are distinctly beneficial. It is worth while recalling that the British trades union delegates who visited the United States made a report to the trades union congress now in session in London in which they said: "The trusts up to now have made no bad use of their combination, wages having a tendency to increase." It is not capital as a whole that is assailed by President Roosevelt. Corporate enterprise is not to be handicapped by inimical legislation. It is the evil in the trusts that is doomed to destruction, but legitimate business operations, on whatever scale carried on, are to be fostered.

The Philippine Friars.

Announcement in a cable dispatch from Rome "on the highest authority," that "the religious orders in the Philippines have received definite assurances that the friars will not be recalled by the vatican," attracts much attention. It has been understood that an agreement had been virtually reached, though not recorded, that the wishes of the United States would be met. However, the latest cablegram on the subject is not inconsistent with the terms of settlement sought by Gov. Taft. It is not necessary that the friars be recalled. They may depart voluntarily. It is the Spanish friars whose continuance in the Philippines has been held to be inconsistent with the achievements of the best results by the American government. The Spanish friars may be easily transferred to other fields by the superiors of their orders and their places filled by others. This would not involve their "recall by the vatican." Neither would it be a refusal to accede to the wishes of the insular authorities.

In the death of Dr. Edward Eggleston American literature loses an industrious and versatile contributor. Though a child of the people in the opportunities afforded for early education and training, Dr. Eggleston early showed remarkable qualities of mind and heart. Graduating from the Methodist itineracy into the field of authorship he produced many notable works of fiction, history and biography. His most widely-read story and the work that brought him greatest fame was "The Hoosier Schoolmaster," the gentle humor, homely pathos and vivid character drawing of which have charmed thousands of appreciative readers both in this country and abroad.

While deploring the fatal character of the accident to the president's coaching party the country will rejoice that it has been saved the shock and sorrow of a national bereavement.

It may become necessary in order to insure the safety of our presidents to restrict their exercise to the limits of the White House lawn and only then under strong guard.

Everybody will feel a touch of sympathy for the czar of all the Russias, who in his sorrows and disappointments is much like the general run of mankind.

Magistrate McKenna should not feel aggrieved over that story of his resignation. Mr. Schwab is out of reach and the rumorist must earn his salary.

Philadelphia drew a sigh of relief to find that the Union party convention left intact the statue of Billy Penn on the city hall tower.

Baseball fans are reminded that there is still an interesting fight on for last place.

NEW YORK SWAMPED BENEATH BAGGAGE

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Sept. 3.

New York is buried under a mountain of baggage. It seems as if the homeward rush of vacationers has set in all at once, and every man jack of them has a trunk or two, with valises and suit cases thrown in. Then there is the feminine impedimenta. That cannot be lumped with the coarser belongings of the menfolk, but must be dealt with separately, as becomes its delicate nature, and, beside, it weighs more than the men's baggage, as a rule. Every railroad depot, ferry house, and steamer pier is jammed with trunks, baskets, valises, leather suit cases and the many other forms which a modern American's baggage takes in these days. The people are coming from the mountains, the lakes, the seashore and Europe, by many thousands every day, and all have their "plunder" with them. Men whose business it is to supervise the handling of trunks at depots, express offices and other places in the city where trunks most do congregate, declare that all records have been broken this year in the amount of stuff brought into New York. As a consequence, everything is behind in the baggage-handling way. The rush began on Monday, Labor Day seems to have been the date set for many persons to get back to business after a long summer vacation, and the railroads and steamship companies found themselves suddenly overwhelmed. According to George H. Daniels, general passenger agent of the New York Central, there have been more arrivals at the Grand Central station this week than ever before in the same space of time. Much of the baggage that is seen in this city is in process of transfer from ships, trains and over steamers to the trains that will bear it away to other cities. Pittsburghers are here in large numbers, coming down from the Adirondacks, from Europe, from the seashore and elsewhere, and they like to stay over in New York for a few days, baggage and all. It is not only the care of trunks that has made trouble. So crowded are trains and boats that they cannot accommodate everyone, and more than one Pittsburgher will take home with him a tale of woe about being obliged to sit up all night because he could not get a berth for money. Love does not count in such matters.

Herald Square's Transformation.

That Herald square will soon be a commercial center, can be seen by looking at the nearly completed great department stores, and then taking into account the positive statement that a bank soon will be established on or near the square. The announcement was made more than a month ago that a new national bank would be established in the neighborhood, with Edwin Gould, Andrew Saks and other financiers prominently identified. Mr. Gould has confirmed the statement, and Mr. Saks, who is a member of the firm which is building one of the great department houses in Herald square, is locally interested in the bank, since it will handle a large amount of his firm's business. The department stores both are expected to be open next month, and the talk about the bank becomes more insistent from day to day.

Tambourine and Hand Organ.

There are two Italian women with a handorgan who make from $8 to $10 a day in the streets of New York. They confine their entertainment mainly to upper Broadway, where men are generally lavish, particularly after dinner. These women have original methods, using, besides a lusty handorgan, each a large tambourine. One of them turns the handle of the organ for a time while the other spins her tambourine, and at intervals throws it high in the air, catching it on the tips of her fingers without ever missing it or allowing it to stop spinning. Then the other woman attaches an electric contrivance to the organ so that it keeps on playing automatically, while she enters the tambourine game. She hurls her tambourine to her companion, a distance of some 30 feet, while the other woman throws her instrument the other way. Each woman catches the other instrument, still spinning, and keeps it up. This afternoon there was a crowd of at least 100 people watching the performance, and at its close a shower of silver dropped into the instruments. The women are picturesquely dressed and have pretty faces of the southern type, which, with their skill in handling the tambourine, assures them a good living. There are plenty of organ players in the streets here, but it is to be doubted whether any of the others earn half as much as is taken in by these two women with their skilful little tambourine trick.

Gates Fails to Fool the Reporters.

John W. Gates is not often surprised by anything. When he was approached by a party of interviewers this morning on the deck of Star liner Majestic just before he sailed for England, he admitted that he was taken aback by the discovery that his intended departure was not the secret he intended it to be. He frowned at first, but soon the well-known Gates smile was on his face and he fenced off the reporters' questions in the way characteristic of him. Gates has been interviewed so many times that he takes it as a matter of course nowadays, although he generally declares, as he did today, that the papers have a way of "roasting" him. He looked perfectly happy as the steamer backed out into the river half an hour afterward.

Excitement Over Roosevelt's Accident.

While, of course, sympathy and apprehension over President Roosevelt's accident are earnestly expressed everywhere in this country, it is doubtful whether any community was more excited over the news of the collision than was that of New York. The president is a New Yorker before anything. He is known personally to the people of the metropolis, and when it was told here that he had been pitched out of a coach head first, and that he had a narrow escape from death, it was felt to be a family peril. Aside from the interest attaching to him as chief executive of the nation Theodore Roosevelt is—saying it with all respect—"one of the boys" in Gotham.

Blue Points Scarce.

There may be a scarcity of "blue points" for a while. Oystermen at Blue Point threaten to strike on account of some real or fancied grievances, and the dainty little oyster that, served as the opening course, is supposed to give zest to a dinner, will not be so plentiful as usual; but there are plenty of other oysters in the market, and it is not so much the fad as it was to begin a dinner with "blue points," anyhow. In Washington market this morning one of the leading fish merchants said they were turning out an average of 60,000 oysters a day there.

Expecting a Lipton Challenge.

Members of the New York Yacht club believe that a challenge from Sir Thomas Lipton to race for the Americas cup will reach this city not later than the end of next week. It is known that Sir Thomas desires the race to take place earlier in the year than either of the two previous contests, and as 10 months must elapse between the challenge and the race, he is sure to shy his castor into the ring as soon as he can.

Woolly West Feat in Gotham.

New York city feels that it can hold its own with the wild and woolly west in the matter of train hold-ups, after its experience of this morning. A young man dashed through a Third Avenue "L" car with a stolen watch swinging by its chain in one hand and an open razor in the other. He wounded one passenger desperately and held up all the others by threatening to kill the first man that interfered with him. Then he leaped over the gate before the train had stopped at the Fifty-third street station, ran down the stairs and made his escape. If such a story came from Dakota or Texas New Yorkers would regard it as in keeping with their notions of the comparative loneliness of some parts of those distant states; but this performance took place in the heart of New York, with a police station just around the corner and hundreds of people willing to stop the desperado if they had dared. Whether New York is "wide open" or not, certainly there is plenty of latitude here for thugs and thieves.

Georgia Cayvan's Condition.

The latest report of the condition of Georgia Cayvan is that she is neither blind nor violent. The fact remains, however, that she is in a sanitarium and is not likely to come forth alive. Bulletins, more or less sensational, about Georgia Cayvan and Maurice Barrymore are the almost daily fare of New York, as they were about poor Ada Gray until death came to her relief. The only excuse for the reports is that the sufferers were popular favorites, and they pay the penalty in stories about them that are painful, whether accurate or not.

Every Play Victim of Critics.

Some half a dozen theatrical entertainments for the regular winter season already have been exploited in New York, but it is painful to record that not one of them has met with the unqualified approval of the critics here. From "The New Clown" to "Mrs. Jack," and including "The Rogers Brothers in Harvard" and "The Emerald Isle," all have been declared to be wanting in some essential qualities. In spite of this, however, all of the new attractions are doing good business, so what do the managers care?

Molineux's Chances Good.

Evidently the chances of Roland B. Molineux for going free are pretty good. When the prosecuting attorney admits that it will be hard to convict the man he will try to prove guilty the defendant may well feel hopeful. Assistant District Attorney Osborne, as tenacious and pitiless a prosecutor as ever sent a murderer to his doom, is quoted as saying today that "Molineux has a fine chance of acquittal, and there is good precedent in law to justify this belief." Osborne added that he did not know of a single case where a man convicted of murder, and securing a new trial, was ever found guilty the second time of the same degree of murder. Molineux, sitting in his cell in the Tombs, shares the opinion of the assistant district attorney.

A Treat in Store for Pittsburgh.

Creatore has made such a hit at Paradise gardens that he will come back to New York for a month after his engagement at the Pittsburgh Exposition. He will open in Pittsburgh on the 21st of this month and remain for nearly two weeks. That he will create a furore in Pittsburgh, as he has in New York, is a foregone conclusion. The longer he stays here the greater is the excitement he causes. People do not talk so much about his spectacular performance on the stand as they do of his splendid music. Creatore's band has caught this rather critical community, and the wonder is that he never was brought here before.

Wantage Good for Croker's Health.

Now we know why Richard Croker lives at Wantage. Dr. W. T. Jenkins, his brother-in-law, said today that Croker had suffered from insomnia and dyspepsia for 12 years when he moved to Wantage. He finds there certain atmospheric properties which enable him to sleep, and he will stay there for the rest of his life. Were it not for the health-giving nature of the atmosphere at Wantage Croker most likely would have purchased the Croker family estate in Ireland, says the doctor. As it is he will remain in England and New York will see very little of him, even if he ever comes here at all at any time.

Illustrious Name a Nuisance.

George Washington lives on Staten Island, and he says his name is a nuisance to him. He was born in Belgium and came to this country six years ago, but he is a great-grandson of William Washington, brother of the first president of the United States. The present George Washington has taken out naturalization papers and is a citizen of this country. The reason he regrets his honored name is that he is perpetually beset by people who want help and seem to think, because of his name, that he should be overburdened with altruism. This Washington is a lamp manufacturer and is fairly prosperous, but he cannot afford to assist every one that comes to him for aid, or to give work to the thousands of men that would like to be on his payroll in the manufacture of lamps. He does not intend to change his name, but says he is getting very tired of listening to hard luck stories.

Yankee Barbers a Revelation to Him.

According to J. H. Hunnik, who was state mining engineer in South Africa under the transvaal government, American barbers are the finest in the world. Mr. Hunnik sailed from New York on the St. Paul today and was accompanied to the pier by many members of the Boer societies. It was then that he spoke out of the fullness of his heart of the luxury of an American shave. He said he hoped the Boer generals would come to New York if only to be shaved by an American barber, with bay rum and a clean towel, and all the rest of it, including the inevitable tip. He said he never knew what a comfortable operation a shave could be until he responded to the cry of "Next!" in a West Side barber shop.

ORDER OF GARTER NOT FOR SULTAN

By the MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

King Edward's action in conferring the Order of the Garter upon the shah renders still more marked the failure to accord this distinction to the sultan of Turkey, who during the 26 years he has occupied the Ottoman throne has been waiting for it in vain. Nearly every other reigning sovereign of Europe has the Garter, with the exception of the king of Servia and the princes of Montenegro and Bulgaria. The king of Wurtemburg was slated to receive it at the time of Queen Victoria's death, and if her intentions with regard to him have not been carried out it is because of private differences between himself and King Edward dating from a time prior to the latter's accession to the throne. But the king of Roumania, the king of Portugal, as well as the crown prince of the latter country, the king of Greece, the young king of Spain, as well as the grand dukes of Hesse and Mecklenburg-Strelitz, all have it, so that the failure of the sultan to receive it is very marked, the more so as all other European countries have conferred upon him their principal orders of knighthood.

Strong Hint Given.

Abdul Hamid recently gave King Edward a hint about the matter by conferring high Turkish decorations upon Sir Frederick Treves and the other doctors who had attended the British monarch in his recent illness as a reward for their services in restoring to health his "good friend and brother, Edward VII.," but the hint has not been taken, and it is exceedingly doubtful whether the English sovereign, who is so thoroughly in touch with his people, will ever care to give the principal order of British knighthood to an oriental potentate who is denounced by the greater portion of the English-speaking public by the title of "the Great Assassin," applied to him by the late Mr. Gladstone.

But it is extremely probable that a special mission will be very shortly dispatched by King Edward to Japan, possibly under Prince Arthur of Connaught to convey the Garter to the mikado for the purpose of sealing the alliance recently concluded between Great Britain and the land of the rising sun.

Apropos of Japan, it may be of interest to mention a remark made by Lord Salisbury to the Marquis Ito during the latter's visit to Hatfield some months ago, which goes far toward explaining the explanation by the former of the premiership. According to the Japanese statesman, Lord Salisbury remarked while they were discussing together the late Prince Bismarck, that the latter had been guilty of one capital mistake in his career, namely, he had not known when to resign.

Bismarck Should Have Resigned.

According to Lord Salisbury, Bismarck should have insisted on resigning on the death of old Emperor William, or at the very latest at the close of the brief reign of Emperor Frederick. In that event he would have retained all his immense prestige and his enormous influence, both at home and abroad, all of which he gravely compromised, if not actually forfeited by hanging on to office until ousted therefrom with scant ceremony by the present kaiser. That the latter should have been able—that is, should have been strong enough—to thus dismiss the great chancellor and destroy him, administratively speaking, with a stroke of the pen was perhaps the most crushing blow which the popular illusions concerning Bismarck ever received.

It cannot be denied that the retirement of Lord Salisbury has been more dignified. It is no secret that he placed his resignation in the hands of King Edward and wished to retire immediately on the death of Queen Victoria, and that he remained on only at the king's earnest request until the Boer war was concluded. The very moment that conflict had been brought to an end he insisted on retiring into private life—full of years and honor.

Swiss Warn Religious Orders Out.

Nowhere have I seen mention made of the somewhat remarkable fact that all those religious orders and associations which, after having been driven out of France, had sought refuge in Switzerland, are now about to be expelled in turn from that country. It seems that Article 52 of the Swiss federal constitution expressly forbids the foundation of new convents, monasteries and religious orders or the re-establishment of those which have been abolished. After careful consideration the federal council of the republic has come to the conclusion that this article applies to the French religious orders and associations who have recently sought refuge in Switzerland and accordingly they have been called upon to take their departure from Swiss territory within the space of 90 days.

In view of the extraordinary number of foreign anarchists of every kind that find an asylum in Switzerland and who are allowed by the federal government and cantonal authorities to make the Swiss territory the headquarters of their conspiracies for the murder of monarchs, presidents and government officials, for their war on society and their campaigns against everything in the nature of law and order, it does seem strange that the Helvetian republic should show itself so very inhospitable to the sisters of charity and the religious orders seeking an asylum within its borders.

Belgian a Power in Persia.

Everybody has heard about Sir Robert Hart, the inspector general of customs in China, one of the guardians of the imperial throne, and one of the grandest dignitaries of the Chinese empire, holding as he does the pursestrings thereof. He has a counterpart in Persia, not yet quite so celebrated, but who nevertheless is becoming equally powerful, if not more so, in the shah's dominions. He is a Belgian of the name of Naus, who from a subordinate position in the Belgian customs service has within the short space of five years raised himself to the position of inspector general and chief of customs in Persia. He was first assigned to collecting duties at Tabriz, in connection with the attempt to do away with the pernicious practice of farming out the customs, and within the short space of 12 months had doubled the revenue of the government from that source. So delighted was the shah that M. Naus was speedily placed in control of the entire collection of customs of the empire, with the result that the king of kings now finds himself in receipt of an income several times larger than before.

M. Naus, who is a large, powerful man of the fair Flemish type, with a big head on his broad shoulders, a strong, not to say cruel jaw, a sharp incisive utterance and most imperious manner differs from Sir Robert Hart in that whereas the latter endeavors to hold aloof from politics and confine himself to mere financial administration, he, Naus, has no such disinclination, and is becoming a political factor of the utmost importance, since the customs constitute the only available security for the raising of foreign loans, no foreign concessions can be obtained except through him. He favors Russian rather than English interests, as is natural in a Belgian.

Queer Logic.

From the Indianapolis Journal.

The two or three Republican papers which opposed reciprocity with Cuba are now declaring that annexation is inevitable and make the remarkable declaration that when Cuba is annexed its 700,000 tons of free sugar will not so much affect the price as would a cut of 20 per cent in a 100 per cent duty or tax. That is wonderful logic, but will they forget it when the beet sugar lobby asks them to oppose annexation?

PERSONALS.

Alexander Nuber, who has been the Austro-Hungarian consul in this city, was relieved yesterday by Vice Consul Wein. Consul Nuber left last night for Chicago, where he will represent his government in a much wider field and far more responsible position than he had here.

George S. Fleming left last night for Hartford, Conn., to attend the Charter Oak park races. He is very much interested in several of the horses that are entered this season on that famous track. He is even more interested in the political situation in this state and will hasten back as soon as possible to help along the end of that game to which he has pinned his faith. He expresses his everlasting faith in the success of the Democratic ticket.

J. M. Duenas, general manager of the West Indies Company, of Bejucal, Cuba, is at the Hotel Henry. "We have asphalt mines 15 miles from Havana," he remarked last night. "The mines were opened about 21 months ago and all the product is sent to the United States. The asphalt runs in veins varying from 24 to 40 feet in width, and is taken from the mines by shafts. Havana is now one of the cleanest cities in the island. New pavements are being laid and the sewerage system extended. Business is at a standstill, owing to the sugar situation. The people of Cuba think that some tariff concessions should be granted them. About 75 per cent of the sugar plantations of Cuba were destroyed during the war by the Spanish and Cubans. The sugar season begins in December, and if there is no assurance of tariff concessions given to the sugar planters before the season opens about 15 per cent of the mills that worked during the season of 1901-2 will probably not grind this season, as there is no money in the product under present tariff conditions."

General Superintendent Ralph Peters of the Southwest system of the Pennsylvania lines, and R. E. McCarthy, superintendent at Pittsburgh, made an inspection of the Chartiers branch of the Panhandle railroad yesterday.

THE DEATH ROLL.

Mrs. Charles E. Lewis.

Mrs. Jennie E. Lewis, wife of Charles E. Lewis of North Braddock, died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David S. Elliott, in Hickory street yesterday morning, aged 29. She had been in ill health for a number of years, but her condition only recently became serious. She was born in Braddock and was a member of one of the town's oldest and best known families. Her father, a retired coal operator, is a pioneer resident. Mrs. Lewis was married 11 years ago. Mr. Lewis is a foreman in the armor plate department of the Carnegie Steel Company at Homestead. The deceased was a lifelong member of the United Brethren church and is survived by her husband, her parents and three children.

John D. Jones.

John D. Jones, a retired merchant, one of the pioneer residents of Homestead, died at 8 o'clock yesterday at his home in Whitaker, after a long illness. The deceased was born in England and was 55 years of age. He came to America when very young, and for many years lived in Washington county. For 15 years he had been a resident of Homestead. He is survived by his wife and two daughters, Mrs. Walter Hollis and Mrs. William Carney, both of Whitaker.

Mrs. John A. Conner.

Mrs. John A. Conner, aged 74 years, is dead at the family residence in New Texas. She was born in County Derry, Ireland, and came to this country with her parents in 1844, settling in Pittsburgh in 1849. Besides her husband she is survived by one son, Alexander A. Conner; three daughters, Mrs. L. J. Mickimi, Mrs. A. M. Davidson and Mrs. Jennie S. Trees, and 10 grandchildren.

James W. Claybaugh.

James W. Claybaugh, proprietor of the Girard house at Brownsville, Pa., died yesterday, aged 42. He was a hotel man of prominence, having been in business at Uniontown and Perrypolis. He was a brother of Alfred M. Claybaugh, of Uniontown, the well-known newspaper man and author. He leaves a widow and seven children.

Alexander M. Crawford.

Alexander M. Crawford of Allegheny died at the family home, Meade street, Nunnery hill, yesterday morning. He is survived by his wife, Mary Etcher Crawford. The funeral will be held from the family home Saturday morning, interment being private at a later hour.

Mrs. Isabella Hannah.

Mrs. Isabella, wife of John H. Hannah, died yesterday morning at the family residence, No. 1214 Resaca place. She was 83 years old and is survived by her husband. The funeral will be private, services being held at the residence tomorrow morning.

Anna McDonald Patton.

Miss Anna McDonald, daughter of John and Ella M. Patton, died yesterday morning at the family home in Sewickley. She was 22 years old. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Obituary Notes.

Jacob S. Holman, aged 46 died at his residence, No. 844 Beech avenue, Ollenghany, on Tuesday.

William J. Kehoe is dead at his home, No. 421 Carson street, at the age of 28. For several years he was connected with the office of the city surveyor.

Mrs. Louisa E. Hartman, aged 37 years, wife of Charles A. Hartman of Etna, died yesterday at 4 p. m. Mrs. Hartman leaves a husband and one small child.

William Wagner, 39 years of age, is dead at his home, Chartiers avenue, McKees Rocks. His family is one of the oldest in the Chartiers valley, and he is survived by a wife and three children.

Mrs. Catherine Isler, aged 82 years, is dead at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Sloan, No. 815 Collins avenue. Mrs. Isler was the relict

CITY MUST ACT BEFORE CARNEGIE GIVES IT MORE

CARNEGIE'S COMING VISIT

Question of Site for Proposed School of Technology Must Be Settled Before Then—President Frew Favors the Bellefield Site.

"I feel justified in saying that in my opinion Andrew Carnegie will give no more money to Pittsburgh until she has used up what has already been given," said President William N. Frew of the board of trustees of the Carnegie Institute yesterday, in answer to a query as to how much money the Pittsburgh Carnegie institute might expect to receive from the great ironmaster during his coming visit in November.

The plans of Mr. Carnegie, it is stated, are to sail from Europe about the middle of November. After reaching New York he will spend a few days at his home there and then come to Pittsburgh for his annual conference with the board of trustees of the Carnegie institute.

For several years it has been Mr. Carnegie's custom when meeting with his board to announce on the last day of his visit that he would increase the endowments for Pittsburgh institutions bearing his name such and such an amount.

If the plans for the erection of the proposed new school of technology are not completed by December, when Mr. Carnegie is here, it would seem that President Frew has but little hope of getting extra thousands or millions for endowment funds.

The site for the school of technology will, in all probability, have been selected before Mr. Carnegie reaches the United States and when he reaches Pittsburgh the plans will be made known to him. It then remains to be seen how well pleased he will be and what he will do.

President Frew returned to Pittsburgh yesterday from his summer home in Point Pleasant, N. J., where he has been for three months with his family. He spent a very busy day at his office yesterday and will leave early this morning for a two weeks' longer stay in New Jersey.

Mr. Frew did not meet any of the members of the councilmanic committee appointed some time ago to confer with the board of trustees relative to securing a site for the proposed Carnegie school. The meeting between the committee and the trustees will be arranged for the last week in September. It is expected that the question of settling the selection of a site will be decided at the first or second meeting and that the matter will be passed up to councils for final action at one of the October meetings.

In speaking of the selection of a site yesterday Mr. Frew said: "While in the east I have been in communication with some members of the committee and have been informed of their favoring a site for the new school at the upper entrance to Schenley park. Now, I am not in a position to make a statement as to this site. I have not been over the ground lately and am not very familiar with the location. I do not know how much land is available and must learn the exact plans of the committee before I attempt to make a statement.

"The plot I greatly favor at present is the Schenley property in Bellefield, the 52 acres which was optioned by the city some time ago. I am well acquainted with this plot and fully believe that it is the proper place to locate the new school if the city can buy it.

"That is the question. Can the city buy the land? It will be no trouble to select the site; in fact, that will consume less time than any other arrangement that will have to be made. The money to pay for the site must be raised, and that is one of the leading problems—where the money is coming from and how it must, according to law, be raised."

Mr. Frew stated that he had been in communication with Mr. Carnegie all summer, but that as yet he had never written or cabled him regarding the question of site.

"The matter of selecting and purchasing a site," continued Mr. Frew, "should be closed up at once. All Mr. Carnegie waits for is for the city to purchase plenty of ground and to get a site that will not be too far away from the Carnegie institute."

WEST VIRGINIA SURVEY.

United States Geological Experts at Work on a Topographical Map.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 3.—(Special.)—The survey of West Virginia for the completion of the topographic map of the state is being actively pushed this season by the United States geological survey in co-operation with the state. From a recent report for June by H. M. Wilson, geographer in charge, to Dr. I. C. White, state geologist of West Virginia, it is learned that five parties were engaged in topographic work in six locations in the state.

The region surrounding Weston was in part mapped by the party under A. M. Walker, topographer, and E. I. Ireland, assistant topographer, which completed 96 square miles of topographic mapping in 27 days, ran 48 miles of spirit levels and established 108 useful elevations. Thirty square miles of the region surrounding Philippi also was mapped by Topographer E. S. Ela.

A surveying party under W. N. Brown, topographer, was engaged in mapping in the neighborhood of Cameron. This party covered 100 square miles, ran 125 miles of spirit levels and established necessary branch marks and elevations.

A third region to be mapped was the section near Blacksville, 98 square miles of which were completed by Hersey Monroe. Along the West Virginia and Ohio boundary line progress was made on maps to be known as the Waverly and Parkersburg sheets. In the former section a party under Topographer W. N. Morrill completed 110 square miles of topographic mapping and ran 155 miles of spirit levels and 345 miles of road traverses. In the latter section C. A. Chanet, field assistant, erected signals and occupied necessary stations.

O'MARA'S FRIENDS SCHEDULED TO GO

List of Decapitations Was Prepared by East End Politicians and Director Leslie Is Said to Act in Accordance With It.

Those who were the friends of Roger O'Mara when he was at the head of the Pittsburgh police force, and who are still in the employ of the city, are, in a majority of cases, scheduled for dismissal. Their decapitation was determined upon last Saturday night at a meeting held by a number of politicians in No. 6 police station. A list of these O'Mara followers was made out and submitted to Director Leslie, who will discharge those in his department. Many members of the police and fire bureaus will suffer by reason of their alliance to the former superintendent. In addition to these there is a number of employes in the department of public works doomed to go.

Among those present at the meeting last Saturday night were J. M. Clark, former councilman from the Twenty-first ward; A. H. Edwards, milk inspector; William F. Kramer, chairman of the ward's Republican executive committee; Hugh King and M. E. Hennessy, a sanitary inspector.

At this meeting a list was prepared of the men who are considered doubtful in their political relations with the machine organization. This list was given to Director Leslie, and he is said to have made recent dismissals on the advice of those who prepared the list.

The list is said to be a long one. If the removals recommended were to be made all at one time there would be a storm of protest, therefore it is proposed to spread them out, and the list is said to be long enough to keep Leslie working all the month.

NEW HOSPITAL PLANS TURNED DOWN BY BROWN

Superintendent Refuses to Approve Proposed Maternity Hospital and Foundling Asylum.

Capt. J. A. A. Brown, superintendent of building inspection, yesterday notified the Nicola Building Company, that the plans for the proposed Maternity Hospital and Foundling Asylum had been disapproved by him on account of not being drawn in compliance with the city ordinances. Supt. Brown spent the entire afternoon going over the plans.

The Institution was to be a three-story brick building and its construction was to begin this month. The plans and specifications were found to possess many features that were perfect. The compartments were of sufficient size, according to ordinances regulating the construction of institutions of this kind, but the building itself was not fireproof. The building was to cost $50,000.

Supt. Brown said that he had refused to approve the plans and specifications as there was too much wood in its construction. The joists and beams, which should be steel, according to the city ordinances, were scheduled to be of wood. In speaking of this feature Supt. Brown said:

"The building laws of Pittsburgh regulating the construction of hospitals and other infirmaries have been too lax. In the case of the proposed Maternity Hospital and Foundling Asylum, there were no fire escapes provided and the joists and beams were to be of wood. In case of fire the helpless inmates would be powerless to escape. Most of the hospitals in this city are not constructed in accordance with the city ordinances. I do not think it advisable to erect any more imperfectly."

Tin Plant Suspended.

CLARKSBURG, W. VA., Sept. 3.—(Special.)—Owing to defective engines the Jackson iron and tin plant here has been obliged to order new ones, and until they arrive, 300 men are thrown out of employment. It will be from six to eight weeks before the new engines will be placed.

Society.

MR. and Mrs. William H. Hayes, their daughters, Miss Mary Crossan Hayes and Miss Carolyn L. Hayes, and their son, Master J. Crossan Hayes, are in New York on their way home from the Adirondacks. They have been spending the past five weeks at Bass camp, a peculiarly wild and picturesque locality in the mountains of New York state, and yesterday arrived in New York, where they will spend the week.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Gregg, who have been spending the summer at Atlantic City, arrived in Pittsburgh this morning. They will be accompanied by their daughter, Miss Florence Gregg. Mr. and Mrs. Gregg and Miss Gregg have been for a few days in New York city. Miss Eleanor Gregg came home last Sunday morning.

Miss Bessie Howe has gone east to take part in the tournament for the women's amateur golf championship. Miss Howe is one of the best of the local woman golf players, and since her return a few weeks ago from her European trip, has been seen almost daily on the links of the Pittsburgh Golf club, in Schenley park or on those of the Allegheny Country club on Sewickley Heights. Miss Howe has gone east a short time before the tournament in order to secure some preliminary practice on the eastern links.

Arrived in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Homer Knowles, who have been making their wedding trip east in the private car, "Arcadian," arrived on Tuesday in New York. They were married last Wednesday in East Liverpool, O., and left that evening, with a few friends, for the east, stopping frequently for a day or two en route. Their trip was most enjoyable, being varied by side-tracking their car whenever the whim seized them to stop. In the wedding party which journeyed to New York with the bride and bridegroom, were Mrs. Ida Knowles Stofford of New York, the bridegroom's mother, Miss Rita Rodriquez of Brooklyn, Jefferson D. Thompson of New York, the best man, and Col. Wilbur C. Brown of New York, one of the ushers.

Flinn-Ulrich.

The wedding of Miss Susie Flinn and August E. Ulrich of Mt. Washington took place last evening at the home of the bride's father, James E. Flinn, in Natchez street. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock, by the Rev. Mr. Wittich, pastor of the German Evangelical church, Mt. Washington, and the wedding company was confined to the immediate relatives. Miss Anna Priebe of Knoxville was the maid of honor, and Harry Ulrich was the best man. Mr. and Mrs. Ulrich will go to housekeeping at once in Cowan street. The bride has been a successful teacher in the Knoxville schools and has but recently returned from an extended trip to the Pacific coast.

Anniversary Lawn Fete.

The anniversary lawn fete and entertainment at the Ladies of the G. A. R. Home, at Hawkins Station, will be held today. Dinner and supper will be served and during both the afternoon and evening exercises, consisting of music and addresses, will be conducted in the chapel. The women in charge of the affair have planned many attractive features for the day, and special interest will be taken in the inspection of the new hospital ward on the second floor, generously furnished and equipped by a friend of the home.

Princeton Professor Wedded.

WARREN, O., Sept. 3.—(Special.)—The wedding of Prof. William Foster, Jr., a member of the faculty of Princeton university, and Miss Helene H. Stewart, a Vassar girl, daughter of Attorney and Mrs. H. E. Stewart, occurred this afternoon. The Rev. W. I. Spees of Greenville, O., officiated. Miss Katherine Dunham of Cleveland was maid of honor and Miss Belle Dunham of Cleveland and Miss Louisa Eshenour of Geneva were bridesmaids. Dr. Richard Foster of Kentucky was best man and Walter Upson of Cleveland and Milton Stewart were the ushers.

Campney—Brandon.

Last evening occurred the wedding of Miss Helen Campney and Ford Brandon, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Campney, in Beaver street, Sewickley. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. O. S. Greaves of Pittsburgh, at 8 o'clock. In the bridal party were Miss Lara Campney, sister of the bride, and her cousin, Miss Eleanor W. Ross of New Castle. Clair Du Shane of New Castle and Charles Lattle. The bride was gowned in white crepe de chine with trimmings of duchess lace, and her maids were gowns of white Paris mousseline. The bride carried white roses. One hundred guests were present, about 30 being from New Castle and several from Pittsburgh and East End. Mr. Brandon is a merchant in New Castle. After an extensive northern trip Mr. and Mrs. Brandon will be at home to friends in Centennial street in that city. The bride has been very well known throughout the valley, especially in musical circles.

SEWER COMPANY FOR JEFFERSON TOWNSHIP

A Corporation Organized to Provide Sewers and Improve the Sanitary Conditions.

The recording in the recorder's office of the charter of the Monongahela Valley Sewer Company shows it the first corporation of the kind organized in this county since the passage of the act of assembly in 1893, giving private corporations the right of eminent domain to lay sewers and provide a sanitary condition for townships, few of which have methods of carrying away sewerage.

Attorney John N. Radcliffe filed the charter, the directors of the corporation being W. R. Murphy, Harry A. Jones and John N. Radcliffe. The charter was granted to construct and maintain sewers, culverts, conduits, pipes, with all necessary inlets and appliances for surface and undersurface and sewerage drainage for the health, comfort and convenience of the inhabitants of Jefferson township, Allegheny county. Each property owner will stand his part of the expense or pay the corporation for taking away waste products from his premises.

Townships do not seem to have the right to provide sewers for their inhabitants and as some of them are thickly populated private individuals have decided to take advantage of the state laws to drain their own property. A large number of townships is now organizing sewer companies. It is expected that within five years Allegheny county will have such a perfect sanitary system in the townships that the boroughs and cities will feel the effect of the work, and the numerous sewerage systems will tend to decrease all forms of contagious disease.

THE RIVER INTERESTS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, Sept. 3.—River at 6 p. m., 4.9 feet, falling. Clear and pleasant. No towboat movements. The Avalon will leave here in the morning for Louisville. She has been chartered to run in the Louisville and Evansville trade until a rise comes. E. P. Wilson, secretary of the Ohio Valley Improvement association, left for Pittsburgh today to arrange for the coming convention of the association which will be held at Parkersburg in November. The two barges of cinders which were sunk by the Jack Frost on Five Mile bar a few weeks ago have been unloaded. The barges will be left there for a few days.

LOUISVILLE.—River on a stand; canal, 3.2; falls, 2.4; foot of locks, 5.4. Business moderate. The Lee, Verham, Sunshine, Tacoma, New South, Hercules Carroll and H. M. Stanley will be overhauled and repaired on the marine ways at Madison.

MEMPHIS.—River 12 feet, rising. The big towboat Joseph P. Williams completed her repairs and departed last night for the Ohio river with her tow of empty coal boats. The Alice Brown from New Orleans, with a tow of empties, passed up at 11 a. m. for the Ohio river.

WARREN.—River, one-tenth foot. Fair, warm.

BROWNSVILLE.—River 5 feet 3 inches, stationary. Cloudy.

STEUBENVILLE.—River 1 foot 11 inches, stationary. Clear, warm.

GREENSBORO.—River 6.3 feet, falling. Fair, warm. Gertrude and Cherry down Thursday; Elizabeth and Woodward up.

PARKERSBURG.—River 2.6 feet and falling. Clear and warm. No boats.

RIVER NEEDS NEW LOCKS.

Capt. Eisey Says They Can Be Replaced by Concerted Action.

Capt. Warren Eisey, master of river transportation for the Jones & Laughlins interests, said yesterday that Capt. W. L. Sibert, the local government engineer, had already accomplished more for riverman than any of his predecessors at Pittsburgh. He says that Capt. Sibert is a hustler, an easy man to approach and one willing to listen to suggestions.

Capt. Eisey is an enthusiast on river improvements; he says that there should be an awakening of the people of the entire Monongahela and Ohio valley to the necessity of improved navigation. He says if the proper spirit is shown by the manufacturers as well as the river interests there is no doubt but that congress will provide liberally for improvements, but there must be concerted action.

He says it will be no surprise to him if some day one or more of the locks on the Monongahela river tumble down, thus destroying the commerce of the river. He is of the opinion that the locks and dams on the river between Pittsburgh and Brownsville all need replacing and believes that the rivermen have in Capt. Sibert a progressive man who will see that it is done, if he is given the proper support.

News of the Rivers.

C. Jutte & Co. have just finished another big pumping boat. It has been named Swan.

The sanddigger Rebecca was at the Monongahela wharf yesterday receiving new chains.

The Liberty, it is reported, lost money in the Green river trade and went home to lament her loss.

The towboat G. W. Thomas, which is receiving a new shaft, will be ready for work next week.

Capt. Edward Howard will launch the St. Louis & Tennessee River Packet Company's steamer Shiloh today.

The towboat Catherine Davis is at Five Mile Creek, working for the government.

A new lowboat to be used in the canal at New Orleans is to be built at Evansville.

Capt. James A. Henderson, who has been confined to his home with rheumatism, was able to be out yesterday.

The Joseph S. Williams is between Memphis and Cairo on her way north and the J. B. Finley is above Greenville, coming north.

Capt. George Wilson of the Evansville line is arranging to keep a line of boats going when the big packets have to lie up for low water.

The towboat P. M. Pfeil, which is being repaired by the James Rees & Sons Company, is receiving two new wrists and one new cylinder.

Freight Agent W. N. Gordon of the Anchor line is up the Monongahela on a visit to several towns in the interest of the line, which is doing a most excellent business.

The keelboats for the new snagboat for the Arkansas River are up and the keel will be laid today. She will be built sideways at the upper end of the shipyard at Jeffersonville.

Capt. F. R. Abrams has also appealed from the decision of the local inspectors who revoked his license for 20 days for the part he had in the Woodward-Elizabeth collision.

The new towboat Sprague, the largest freight boat ever built, was launched to leave St. Louis for New Orleans yesterday, after a tow of empties. A number of coal combination officials are with the boat.

The steamer Gertrude of the Independent Morgantown line was almost one hour late leaving yesterday, being detained by heavy business. The boat had 16 men engaged in loading freight and it kept them hustling to get the steamer out even one hour late.

A jolly crowd of mariners arrived at the Monongahela wharf at 7 o'clock last night from a steamboat excursion held on the Monongahela river. A portion of the day was spent at Moss Side park and the pilots had a glorious time. The excursion was under the auspices of Harbor No. 25, Masters and Pilots, and was a success in every particular.

Col. E. P. Wilson, secretary of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association, who was in Pittsburgh yesterday, left last night for Philadelphia on business. He says that the convention to be held at Parkersburg on November 11 and 12 in the interest of an improved Ohio will be the greatest mass meeting of people ever held in the interests of river improvements.

A steamboat painted black from end to end would be a marine curiosity, and one that has been unknown ever since the days of Uncle Sam's gunboats. The day, however, is near when there will be a "real black" steamer in commission on the Mississippi river, and this will be the new railway transfer boat now being constructed at Howard's for the Missouri Southern, to be used near Cape Girardeau. The only other colors to be visible in her make-up will be a red water line around her hull and her name in white on the wheelhouse and pilot-house.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Boston, Mass., Sept. 3.—The champions won from Boston today in a game that was featureless. It was Pittsburgh's game at all stages and they won without trying. Boston played a ragged game in the field, while Eason was batted hard and opportunely. Ed Doheny had a whole lot of speed and a fine mixture of curves which the Boston batsmen could not locate when hits meant runs. Capt. Clarke and his men gave Doheny fine support. The visitors made several changes in the team. Wagner played at first, while Tannehill went out to right field for two innings and then Ritchey took his place. Burke played at second.

Pittsburgh cinched the game in the first two innings and aided by Eason's wildness and errors by Demontreville and Lush, five more runs were added in the sixth.

Pirates Got a Good Start.

Beaumont started the game with a fly to left. Clarke smashed out a grounder to right field for two bases. Carney fell all over it and when he had recovered Beaumont had scored. Clarke scored on Leach's hit to left, Wagner forced Leach at second and Burke went out from Eason to Tenney. Dexter opened for Boston with a grounder to Doheny and was thrown out to Wagner. Conroy was too eager to get Tenney's grounder and fumbled it. Cooley went out from Burke to Wagner and Doheny hit Carney. Greminger soaked a grounder through Leach and Tenney scored. Lush fanned.

Capt. Long began the error-making in the second inning. Conroy knocked a high one and Long yelled out, "I've got it," but it slid through his fingers. Conroy went to second on Phelps' sacrifice and scored on Doheny's grounder, which carromed off Eason's heel and rolled past Dexter. Beaumont went out from Eason to Tenney and Capt. Clarke was forced to center, Leach hit to right and stole second, Clarke scoring on the throw down. Leach stole third, Wagner was hit by Eason and Tannehill flied out to Moran.

The best Boston could do was to get a man to first in the next three innings. Pittsburgh went out in order in the third and fourth. In the fifth Leach singled to left and got to third on Long's error in handling Wagner's liner. Ritchey knocked out a long fly to Lush and Leach scored on the throw. Burke went out from Greminger to Tenney and Conroy hit to the left field fence, scoring Wagner. Phelps flied out to Greminger.

After Carney fanned out in the sixth Greminger got a free pass. Lush singled and Greminger got home on a single to left by Long. Moran and Eason both singled, the latter's hit scoring Long. Demont died out to Clarke and Doheny retired Boston by striking Tenney out. Pittsburgh went out in order in their half.

Another Run Picnic.

In the seventh Pittsburgh had another picnic gathering in runs. Leach was first on and got a free pass, stealing second. Wagner was treated likewise and Tenney tried to throw Wagner out at second on Ritchey's grounder and both were safe. Burke hit a hot line grounder through Long and Lush fell over it. By the time he had recovered Leach, Wagner and Tannehill had crossed the home plate. Conroy singled to center and Burke scored on Phelps' long fly to center.

Long gathered in a hot liner off Doheny's bat, but threw it wild to Demont in trying to nail Conroy at second. Demont fumbled Beaumont's hit and Clarke's out to left scored Conroy. The side was retired on Leach's fly, which was handled perfectly by Cooley.

In Boston's half after Moran and Eason went out Demont and Tenney hit safely, but the latter was forced out at second on Cooley's hit. In the ninth the visitors went out in order. Carney and Greminger were easy outs in the Boston half. Lush was passed and then forced out at second. The score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Tommy Leach was in yesterday's game head over heels, making two hits, scoring two runs and stealing three bases. Little Tommy is about the speediest man in the league on the base paths and he always uses the best of judgment.

Mal Eason was as wild as an anarchist orator yesterday, furnishing 11 of the champions with bases on balls. At that rate of giving the Pirates needed but few hits to score their runs.

Connie Mack's team is making a game struggle for the American league pennant, and there are plenty of Pittsburghers who will forget organization rivalry long enough to wish the old leader of the Pirates success.

Jimmy Burke again demonstrated his ability as an infielder yesterday by accepting eight chances at second base and rapping out two nice hits. Burke is solid for next season, all right.

Phelps caught another nice game yesterday; that is, so far as back-stopping goes, but again showed a weakness with the stick. Chief Zimmer has the young man in hand and will no doubt teach him a few tricks worth knowing.

That was rather rough on Andy Freedman to have Cy Seymour, who was one of the first Giant deserters, score the only runs the Reds made yesterday, and they were just enough to beat New York. That looks like a case of rubbing it in.

Al Buckenberger had it nicely figured out to his own satisfaction yesterday morning that the champions had not cinched this year's pennant yesterday and that Boston had a chance if it could win all its games. The Pirates, just to keep a good thing moving along, took the opening game, and not only put a double-distilled cinch on the pennant, but gave Albert's fond hopes a clout on the jaw. Buck is a good manager, but very poor at figures.

Will Conroy must have made up his mind to show President Dreyfuss that he was wrong in not offering him a contract for next season. Will has been batting and fielding like a champion ever since it leaked out that he was to be let out next season. Had Conroy played this same kind of ball all season he, too, would have been handed a contract with instructions to name his own salary. There has been something wrong with that boy as he did not do the work he showed in practice at Hot Springs.

BATTLE OF PITCHERS.

Seymour Scored Both Runs Against the Giants.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—The game between New York and Cincinnati was somewhat a pitchers' battle. Seymour scored both runs for the visitors by his batting and base running, assisted by Corcoran's and Steinfeldt's hits. Sixteen of the visiting batsmen were retired on flies. Thielman held the locals down to three hits. Score:

THE CUBS SHUT OUT.

Selee Tried a New Pitcher Who Worked Well.

BROOKLYN, Sept. 3.—The Chicago team was shutout by Brooklyn today. Morrisey, the new Chicago pitcher, did very well for a first performance in a big league game. The feature of the game was Keeler's running catch of Slagle's low line drive, which the Brooklyn captain scooped in with his bare hand. Score:

HOMESTEAD WILL HAVE GOOD FOOTBALL TEAM

In Case League Is Formed There Will Be an All-Star Eleven for Steel Town.

Homestead is to have football this fall, but just what kind largely depends on how things shape themselves in this city. It is as good as settled that the steel town will have a team of some kind, either amateur or professional, but which kind will not be known for some days.

In case the football league, to be made up of teams in New York, Philadelphia and Chicago, becomes a fixed fact, and it now looks as though it will, then Homestead will be out with an all-star eleven and will apply for admission in the new organization. If it should be that the league is not a fixture then Homestead will have a first-class amateur eleven to be coached and captained by Arthur Poe, with Fred Croilius as fullback.

The entire interior work of the A. C. Dinkey, general manager of the Homestead works, who is a football enthusiast and was one of the backers of the all-star aggregation. Mr. Dinkey is in the east at present but it is known that he intends backing a team of some kind, and future developments will determine the kind of a team it will be.

ALL KINDS OF GAME.

More Deer in the State Than Ever, Also Quail and Pheasants.

HARRISBURG, PA., Sept. 3.—"Game is more plentiful this season than it has been for years," said Secretary Kalbfus of the Pennsylvania state game commission today, on his return from a tour of Lycoming, Clinton and Sullivan counties, where he has been inspecting game conditions.

"There are more deer in this state today than there ever were," continued Dr. Kalbfus, "and the quail and pheasants are more plentiful than they have ever been before, so that nothing of song and insectivorous birds."

Dr. Kalbfus attributes the large quantity of game this year to the protection which has resulted from the efforts of the game wardens throughout the state and the men interested in the preservation of game.

Merchants Beat the Doctors.

MT. PLEASANT, PA., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—The ball game at Frick park this afternoon between the Doctors and Merchants resulted in a victory for the latter by a score of 16 to 11. The game was interesting until the eighth inning, when the Doctors went up in the air, and when the ascension was over seven runs had been made by the Merchants and the game was lost for the Doctors. For the Doctors Stevens and Hartline distinguished themselves by clever catches, while Overholt did some timely batting for the Merchants. Score:

Detroit, Sept. 3.—Poor base running in the first and second innings when seven local men reached first base, cost Detroit this afternoon's game. Three men were retired at the plate in these two innings and Casey was caught off second base. Husting's arm weakened and he was forced to retire after the first inning. THEY MUST SHOW HIM.

Jesse Tannehill's Little Speech as to Jumping.

Writing from Boston to the Cincinnati Enquirer, Ren Mulford says: "Lee Tannehill, according to information that reached Manager Kelley today, is no longer a Red possibility. Kel does not believe the story, but American talebearers brought the declaration to Manager Buckenberger that Comiskey would tin-can George Davis and had signed Tannehill to play short for the Chicago Americans next season at $4,000 per. If that is true, then Jesse Tannehill has broken his pledge to the Cincinnati officials. The Pittsburgh enthusiasts seem to think Jesse a sure-pop deserter, but less than a week ago Tannehill made this little speech: 'Those two-year contracts don't go with me. I don't know the American people, and promises don't go with me. I do know that I'll get all I sign for at Pittsburgh, but before I accept any American offer they have got to put half the money in good bills right in my fist. This love of a player is all right, but when the squeeze comes you will find the American cutting just as deep as the National.'"

THE GREAT FILLY STAKES TO GIRDLE

WILLIAM C. WHITNEY'S HORSE SPRUNG A BIG SURPRISE.

Dazzling and Duster Were Coupled as Favorites—Girdle at Odds of 15 to 1 Outfooted Both and Won After a Great Finish.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Girdle, owned by W. C. Whitney, won the Great Filly stakes at Sheepshead Bay today. She was at the remunerative odds of 15 to 1, and ran the six furlongs with 116 pounds up in the fast time of 1:12 3-5. Dazzling and Duster, coupled from the Keene stable, were favorites, closing at even money, with Ada Nay next in demand. Judith Campbell made the running to the main track, where both Girdle and Dazzling closed, and in a furious drive Girdle won by a short lead. Dazzling was second, three lengths in front of Ada Nay. The summaries:

First race, for two-year-olds, handicap; last five and a half furlongs of Futurity course—Red Knight, 114, L. Smith, 6 to 1 and 3 to 1, won; Africander, 126, Landry, 4 to 1 and 8 to 5, second; Joe Cobb, 116, Redfern, 20 to 1 and 8 to 1, third. Time, 1:08 1-5. Matru, Sparkle Luster, Woodlace, Invercrist, Monte Carlo, Louise Collier, Muzio, John A. Scott, Pan Lonsin, River Pirate, Sir Voorhies, The Captain and Orlando also ran.

Third race, the Great Filly stakes, for fillies two years old, five and six furlongs, Futurity course—Girdle, 116, Burns, 15 to 1 and 5 to 1, won; Dazzling, 116, Shaw, even and 2 to 5, second; Ada Nay, 114, Odom, 13 to 5 and 7 to 10, third. Time, 1:12 3-5. Judith Campbell, Hymettus, Merry Rad Duster, Florita and Love Note also ran. Duster and Dazzling coupled in betting.

Fourth race, the Dolphin, for three-year-olds, one mile and a furlong—Igniter, 108, Ednay, 8 to 1 and 3 to 2, won; Whiskey King, Jos Redfern, 6 to 5 and 2 to 5, second; Hymettus, 114, Hullman, 4 to 1 and 7 to 5, third. Time, 1:56 2-5. South Trimble, Hindred and Dixieline also ran.

Fifth race, the Hempstead cup, steeplechase, for hunters, full steeplechase course, about two miles and a half—Self Protection, 156, Page, 2 to 5 and 1 to 4, won; Hank Forward, 142, Sadler, 7 to 1 and 3 to 1, second; Gypsie, 142, Shea, 12 to 1 and 4 to 1, second, second; Advance Guard, 152, Odom, 8 to 5 and 4 to 5, third. Time, 1:53 4-5. Sunbridge, Remorse and Ava Willard also ran.

BRILLIANT WAS THE OPENING OF THE EXPOSITION

OVER 10,000 WERE THERE

Exhibits Better and More Numerous Than Ever Before—Many Forms of Amusement for Both Young and Old—Fine Musical Program.

Ten thousand people, gathered beneath the effulgence of almost as many electric lights, assisted last evening at the opening of the fourteenth annual session of the Western Pennsylvania exposition society. Placing the attendance at 10,000 is to be well within conservative figures; the number may well have been between 12,000 and 15,000. But whatever the number of visitors, there was but one opinion, that the exposition of 1902 is in all respects the best in the society's history.

With Sousa and his band making the air resonant with harmony and with the exhilaration that comes from brilliantly lighted and colored surroundings, with the great throng of well-dressed men and women in continual procession, the scene at the opening was impressive.

Wherein This Exposition Differs.

Wherein does the exposition of 1902 differ from its predecessors is the question that quickly suggests itself. There are many new features. To start with, the exposition is much greater and more complete. Over 40 new exhibits have been added, giving now a total of 127, with no less than 125,000 square feet of floor space occupied. In the old exhibits, as well as in the new ones, the management of the exposition has insisted upon improvement in taste and quality of all the booths.

More color has been added and the result is a far more beautiful exposition than that seen in former years. In machinery hall this is the first point that strikes an old exposition visitor. What was in former years been a more or less unattractive part of the show has now been developed into one of the most pleasing parts of the big Point show. The size of the crowds that visited this portion of the exhibits last evening proves the fact.

Headquarters of "The Old Lady."

No portion of the exhibits attracted more attention or had more visitors than the large and handsome booth of The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph along the north side of the main building. The booth is equipped as a reading and writing room, and in addition has on file the leading daily papers of the country, as well as the newspapers from nearby towns and cities. A private telephone exchange has been installed, and both the Bell and the Pittsburgh and Allegheny telephone services are given. A stenographer is ready to receive dictation, and Postal telegraph and cable service is at hand. The booth is about 40 feet square, handsomely built of oak, carpeted in Brussels and furnished with many comfortable chairs, writing desks, etc. The use of the booth is extended to all visitors to the exposition.

Other exhibits attracting especial attention were those of the education schools of Pittsburgh, the Third ward training school of Allegheny, and the Pennsylvania State Reform school at Morganza. On exhibit for the latter is the the notable collection of work which won second prize in competition with all America at the Pan-American exposition last year at Buffalo. Some additions have been made even to that exhibit, and remarkably fine specimens of girls' work in lace, in painting and drawing, woodwork, pyrography, Venetian iron shaping, and printing are shown. This exhibit is on the north side of the main building gallery.

Many Varied Attractions.

The Southern and the Mobile & Ohio railroads have a handsome exhibit of the fruits, grains and minerals found along their lines. The Kaufmann booth contains a Philippine cottage of grass with figures of American soldiers and Filipino natives outside.

The side attractions this year are more numerous and attractive than ever before. In the list are the following: Mont Pelee, a realistic reproduction of the Martinique disaster; the royal marionettes; "the haunted swing;" "the laughing gallery;" "darkness and dawn;" the figure-eight toboggan slide, and the merry-go-round. A handsome little park with grass and flowers has been laid out at the lower end of the Exposition grounds, adding a great deal to the appearance of the place. The steamer "Florence Bell," makes trips up and down the Ohio from the Exposition building.

The Exposition has opened the year with practically all of the exhibits in place and fully ready for the start. During the 48 hours immediately preceding the opening a week's work was done in preparation, and the result is that it was no half-completed show that greeted the eyes of visitors last evening.

The list of exhibitors is long and includes representatives of nearly every industry of this district, as well as a number of outside concerns.

Royal Greeting for Sousa.

Thousands of people last night got not even a glimpse of Sousa, so great was the throng which packed the Exposition hall. It was crowded to its utmost capacity when the gallant and dashing conductor appeared upon the stage, his entrance being greeted with tremendous applause. It was a Sousa concert from beginning to end, the inimitable conductor and his fine organization of musicians working in hearty accord and giving the program with a vim and spirit, provoking the most enthusiastic response from the delighted audience.

Sousa scarcely left the rostrum, only stepping down to gracefully bow and then call for another encore. These were given with such extravagant grace that scheduled numbers and encores made a continuous program, with only space between to take one good breath.

The program opened with Rossini's ever popular overture, "William Tell," and then followed a new suite by Sousa, "Maidens Three." It was dainty, coquettish, tender, graceful and rollicking, with many catchy strains and the characteristic movement of all of Sousa's works.

Latest Works of the March King.

Sousa's composition played last night was a fantasie, "In the Hall Room," founded on famous waltz themes, and his latest march, "Imperial Edward," dedicated by special permission to the recently crowned monarch of Great Britain.

Arthur Pryor, clever as ever, was the soloist during the first concert last evening, playing a trombone solo, "Love's Enchantment," also something new. Indeed the first night's program fairly bristled with new things. During the second concert E. Kennecke, the first cornetist, played "On the Shores of the Gulf of Mexico," a captivating performance, which was followed by a tender love song played as an encore. Both soloists were heartily received. The finale from the first act of "La Tosca," a new work of Puccini, and a suite of Lacomb, "La Feria," also new, were portions of the second concert. The classic appeared in the excerpts from Wagner's "Lohengrin." The concert and the first night of the fourteenth season of the Pittsburgh exposition closed with Sousa's grand march, "Pride of Pittsburgh," and the fantasia and variations on "Yankee Doodle" by Reeves.

New Dress of Music Hall.

The music hall was festive in its new dress last night. Its walls and ceilings are covered with alternating pink and white bunting, producing a peculiarly harmonious effect. The Stars and Stripes appear on the wall at the rear of the hall and over the seats above the stage where the musicians are stationed. Upholstered chairs with white covers have replaced those which were in use last season. The hall is brilliantly lighted. The accoustic properties are better than last year, due not only to the closing of the space over the doors, but also to the looping of the bunting which covers the ceiling.

An Attractive Exhibit.

The most unique design at the Exposition, is that shown by the Ward-Mackey Company. In the middle of the central hall is a small house enclosed by a fence. The bottom part, the stonework, is made of small round loaves of Mother's bread. The shingles are of the crackers and the enclosing fence of package goods. During the Exposition lectures will be given afternoon and evening by Mrs. Kate Lysle. The place is large and roomy and not too fine for the ordinary visitor to walk in and have a chat. The space is furnished with a cool looking matting and white matting and the seats provided for the accommodation of their friends are large and wide enough to accommodate friends of every size.

The early spring will see the Ward-Mackey Company in possession of the largest bread bakery in the world now being in course of construction at Thirty-first and Liberty streets. It will provide employment for 400 persons and will be a model. The stand at the Exposition is stationed in the center aisle and is surrounded by many admiring women. Cake, light, creamy and flaky, is passed about by attendants garbed in fresh, crisp, white muslin gowns, and the whole presents a very pretty sight.

PRESIDENT BAER CLAIMS MINERS SHIRK WORK

selected or by a labor organization. You cannot arbitrate the right to select your own workmen.

Forced to Protect Property.

"You cannot arbitrate the right to protect your property and your workmen from mob rule of labor organizations that boldly proclaim as their purpose to destroy property and endeavor to make their proclamation effective by killing and injuring their fellow workmen who refuse to join in their lawlessness. When John Mitchell ordered the engineers, firemen and pumpmen to desert their posts he knew that unless the operators could supply their places the mines would be destroyed, and with their destruction 140,000 men with their wives and children dependent upon their labor would be deprived of work for a long time.

"The operators were compelled to employ police at their own expense to guard the new men employed to man the pumps to save their mines. The whole power of Mitchell's organization was used to prevent pumping. The men at the mines are fed and lodged there, protected by armed guards. Each colliery is in a state of siege. The guards and the law authorizing them are denounced, and when private citizens like Bedall are murdered the state authorities are denounced for sending troops to protect the people. Today that gallant soldier, Gen. Gobin, who fought with such distinction in our civil war and than whom no juster man lives, is bitterly maligned for protecting the property and lives of Pennsylvania citizens. Can such questions be arbitrated?

Shamokin Convention Recalled.

"In fact we had a series of conferences before the strike began, which were practically efforts to arbitrate. You will recall that the Shamokin convention, which declared that none but union men should be permitted to work in the mines, invoked the aid of the Civic Federation. At the request of the Civic Federation, the representatives of the coal operators met a committee of the Civic Federation, Mr. Mitchell, who is the head of the bituminous miners, and his three district presidents. One whole day was consumed in free and open discussion, and after this meeting we adjourned for 30 days. Mitchell agreeing to withdraw the order which had been issued to the men not to work more than three days per week after April 1. At the expiration of 30 days we again met the Civic Federation, and Mr. Mitchell and his committee, together with a delegation representing the local mine organizations, at which meeting there were 30 or more miners or mineworkers. Every phase of the situation was fully and fairly discussed, and at the end of the discussion, at the request of the Civic Federation, a committee was appointed, consisting of Mitchell and his three district presidents (Messrs. Fahy, Duffy and Nicholls) and Messrs. Truesdale, Thomas and myself, on the part of the operators.

Some Inside History.

"The distinct understanding expressed in the resolution passed by the Civic Federation was that the committee should report to the Federation at a meeting thereafter to be called, and that no one should make public the result of the conference prior to the assembling of the federation.

"We spent two whole days re-discussing the whole matter. We exhibited all the papers, and offered to produce all the books that would throw any light on the subject. We told them that the conditions in the coal regions during the past year, since the union had been organized there, were intolerable; that notwithstanding the adjustment of 1900, in which a general advance of 10 per cent (which actually became 16 per cent at the Reading collieries) from the first of April, 1901, to the first of April, 1902, there had been 102 strikes in mines operated by the coal companies alone, and we did not know how many among the private operators.

Had Easy Hours.

"We showed them that for some mysterious reason the miners only worked from four to six hours per day, and that when they had produced at the mines sufficient coal to earn about $2.50 per day they would quit work; that the product of the collieries had been reduced about 12½ per cent and that in the case of the Reading company it amounted to a loss of 1,000,000 tons. We produced the payrolls to show the number of men employed, the average paid per day and the classification of the men.

"These payrolls showed that the lowest scale of wages was 85 cents for boy slate pickers. The average per day of all the men and boys—2,270 in all—employed by the Philadelphia & Reading Coal and Iron Company amounted to $1 80. We showed that in 1899 the cost of labor in mining a ton of coal was $1 06 and the total cost of a ton of coal at the mines was $1 58; that in 1900 the labor increased to $1 12 per ton and the total cost at mines to $1 66, and that in 1901 the labor cost was $1 23 and the total cost at the mines was $1 82. For the 10 months ending April 30, 1902, the labor was $1 38 and the total cost $1 90 per ton.

"It must be understood that this is the Reading company's cost. The greater part of its output is from its own lands, held in fee, and the question of royalty paid on leased lines is relatively a small item. We also showed them the balance sheets of the different companies.

"To meet their assertion that, whilst the coal companies were not making money, the transportation companies were, we showed that the three principal anthracite coal carrying companies, the Reading, Lehigh Valley and Erie, had not paid dividends on their stock for years, and we went into full details on this subject.

"We produced the records showing the sales of coal. We showed them how 40 per cent of the anthracite coal is sold in the market below the cost of mining, because of the competition of bituminous coal. That steam coal is used almost exclusively in pig iron furnaces, the price of which is regulated by the price of coke. That rice and all sizes of anthracite are sold as low as 41 cents per ton. Buckwheat and pea are sold at low prices—the highest price being $1 85 for pea.

Burden on the Poor.

"This puts the whole burden of any advance in price on the 60 per cent of our production which consists of domestic sizes. All the other sizes must be sold in competition with bituminous coal and they must be sold to enable us to compete with bituminous coal or they cannot be sold. Any rise in the price of these sizes falls upon the workingmen and everybody who uses this coal, which is used primarily only for household purposes. It is not a manufacturing. We told them that if we increased the price of coal the cry would be heard that the coal barons were oppressing the poor.

"We explained to them how, in prior years, by reason of the overproduction of anthracite steady work had been given to miners, but that during the past eighteen months the consumption of anthracite coal has so largely increased as to enable the market to take all that could be mined and that the difficulty now was, not in the market, but in the fact that for reasons which we could not control the men would not work as many days or hours as they should nor mine as many tons of coal per day as could be readily mined in a reasonable day's work, and thereby increase their daily pay.

Exonerates Mitchell.

"For reason satisfactory to the managers of the Civic Federation another meeting was never called to hear the report of the sub-committee appointed, and, after we adjourned, the United Mine Workers started the machinery of their organization in motion, and the strike followed.

"I have been informed on reliable authority that Mitchell and his committee earnestly opposed this strike, but that he had made so many promises that when the convention finally acted Mr. Mitchell's advice was not taken and by a small majority a strike was ordered.

"Our final conclusion, gentlemen, is to repeat what has been said from the beginning, that when the men go back to work they will be paid the wages which were paid prior to the strike and will be continued in accordance with the notice heretofore given; and if the man at each colliery go to work every grievance or complaint which they may have shall be honestly and fairly considered and decided.

Statement for the Future.

"We will not discharge any of the men who have taken the places of the strikers, neither will we discriminate against the men who have been in the strike, unless they have participated in the violence and crime which has prevailed since the strike began.

"To make any other terms would be to surrender the management to an organization which has been lawless and would lead to continued persecution by them of the men who have stood faithfully by us.

"You see, senators, we have discussed this whole subject fully and have endeavored to show you that sound business management makes it impossible to increase wages. We know that the wages are fair and relatively high, and that if the leaders of the bituminous mine workers had not, for selfish purposes, invaded the anthracite fields our men would have continued to work peaceably and contentedly.

"I regret that no other solution can be found, but you will see how impossible it is to overlook the controlling business conditions already pointed out.

LACK OF CONFIDENCE IS THE REAL CAUSE

That Is What Labor Commissioner Carroll D. Wright Thinks Troubles Anthracite Region.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—The report of Carroll D. Wright, the commissioner of labor, on the anthracite coal strike was made public today.

Commissioner Wright finds that there is no confidence existing between employes and employers. This, he believes, is one of the chief causes of the difficulties between the operators and the miners.

Concerning the control of the union over miners, Mr. Wright says:

"Nearly all the operators, so far as learned, have no confidence in the ability of the miners' union to control its own members to any such degree as to assist in maintaining proper discipline. Here is a sharp conflict, and one which reaches to the very essence of the irritating conditions that now attend anthracite coal mining.

"The operators claim that they had no trouble in the anthracite regions until the union of the bituminous coal miners undertook to organize the anthracite miners, and that, if the anthracite coal miners had a union of their own, which might possibly be affiliated with the bituminous coal miners, they the operators, would be in a better position and in better temper to meet their employes through their organization than now, when they are obliged to deal with what they term strangers and outsiders. All the operators whom I met disclaimed distinctly that they had any antagonism to labor unions as such."

Mr. Wright makes the following suggestions which he says seem reasonable and just:

First—That the anthracite employes should organize an anthracite coal miners' union, to its autonomy to be independent of the United Mine Workers of America.

Second—That, considering all the facts relative to production, cost of coal at mines, profits, freight traffic, etc., etc., it would be reasonable and just for the operators to concede at once a nine-hour day. That this should be done for the period of six months as an experiment, in order to test the influence on production, with the guaranty that if production is not materially reduced thereby the same rate of wages shall be paid, or a permanent reduction of time.

Third—That under a new organization consisting of anthracite employes there be duly organized a joint committee on conciliation composed of representatives of the operators and the union, to which all grievances as they arise may be referred for investigation, and that when two-thirds of the committee reach a decision that decision shall be final and binding upon both parties.

Fourth—That the first duty of such joint board of conciliation shall be to enter upon a thorough examination and investigation of all conditions relative to mining anthracite coal; investigation to be conducted, if deemed advisable through the employment of experts to be selected by the joint committee, the results of such investigation not to conclude the investigation of an award of a board of arbitration, but as verified information on which future contracts can be made.

Fifth—That a sliding scale, where practicable and where mining is paid for by the ton, and until the joint committee referred to shall have made its report, coal shall be paid for by the ton and on weights determined by checkweighmen representing the operators and ones representing the men, each side to pay its own inspector.

Sixth—That there shall be no interference with non-union men.

Seventh—That whenever practicable collective bargains shall be made relative to wages, time and other conditions, a uniform rule to be established by the joint committee referred to.

BIG QUESTIONS ARE TACKLED

grasped the extended hand of Mr. Elkin. There was a brief exchange of friendly greetings, and being without a gavel Colonel Quay borrowed Elkin's cane.

Chairman Quay announced that W. R. Andrews would act as secretary of the meeting, also that owing to a disagreement in the counties of Clarion and Center the two delegates—but one being allowed for the district—would be given half a vote each. F. W. Edwards, proxy for David Hardy, was the only absentee from Allegheny county, that of Mr. Von Bonnhorst having been noted. In explaining the object of the meeting Chairman Quay said:

"I do not desire to make an extended address, but simply to say that you are called together to meet the chairman, to touch elbows with one another, and that you may inform yourselves and the chairman of the condition of affairs in your respective districts. The roll of the counties will be called and it is expected that some representative of each county will state what the political situation is in his locality. Of course, I do not intend that you shall go into details; that would furnish information to the enemy.

Ballot and Primary Reform.

The Republican and Democratic platforms both indicated an interest in a new ballot law and in a new primary election law. It may be remembered by some members of the committee that during the campaign of 1900 I suggested that Mr. Guffey frame a ballot bill and that I would help him to have it passed by the legislature. I asked him after the election to bring it forward, but it did not make its appearance. They did not want the law passed. That sentiment was confirmed during the session of 1901.

A ballot law was finally extracted from the Democrats and they retired from the conference committee as to how many helpers should be allowed to go into the booth. The primary election bill passed the house that session, but failed in the senate. I do not think that there was any special effort made by either party to pass that bill.

This committee ought to submit drafts of these bills and place them before the people, so that the Republicans of this state will know that we are not going up to the session of 1903 without a specific idea as to what we are going to do on this question of ballot revision."

The condition of affairs in the anthracite region is embarrassing, not only politically, but financially and socially. The miners are Pennsylvania citizens, and the soldiers who are sent there to protect the mines and preserve peace are also citizens of this commonwealth. Their expenses will have to be paid out of the state treasury. It seems to me entirely proper that this committee should take some steps to culminate or palliate the conditions in that section."

David H. Lane was recognized. He presented the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That, in the interest of the general public, a committee of seven be appointed, of which the United States senators from Pennsylvania shall be members, to wait upon the state authorities and take steps to terminate the unhappy conflict between labor and capital in the anthracite region.

Col. L. A. Watres presented the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed to frame a primary election bill and report the same to an adjourned meeting of this committee.

Ring Resolution Turned Down.

W. J. Ruhlandt of Allegheny then presented a long set of resolutions prepared by the Republican city committee of Pittsburgh, the purpose of which is shown by these two paragraphs:

Resolved, further, in view of this forecoming declaration, and in view of certain attacks upon local Republican tickets, and in view of the inevitable party disorganization and demoralization, resulting sooner or later from all departures from the strict party standard, that this committee discountenances any and all nominations of candidates, whether for city, county or state offices, made in opposition to regularly nominated Republican candidates; the humblest of whom is entitled to the same consideration at the hands of his party as the greatest; and, accordingly, it is hereby

Resolved, further, That against the acceptance by any Republican candidate of any nomination not tendered by a regularly constituted Republican convention, in any part of this commonwealth, this committee enters its protest.

Mr. Dilgham then read a letter by Mr. Von Bonnhorst, in which the writer urged the adoption of the resolution.

Mr. Oliver offered the following substitute:

Resolved, That public officers are chosen to serve the people, and not specifically the parties to which they owe their election. This being a fundamental truth, no candidate can properly refuse the support of any organization whatever, and our Republican candidates on the state ticket, while advised not to formally accept other than their own party nominations, cannot with propriety refuse the support of any portion of our people. The real obligation of members of the legislature and of congress to their party is to abide the will of the majority in any lawfully-called caucus or convention as to candidates to be selected for any and all offices, being free as to measures; and it is the duty of executive officers to faithfully serve the people in the execution of the laws enacted.

There were but two votes in opposition to the substitute offered by Mr. Oliver.

Committee to Frame Ballot Law.

Ex-Senator Hertzler then presented this resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed to frame a ballot bill and report the same to an adjourned meeting of the Republican state committee.

Chairman Quay then directed that the roll of counties be called to hear reports from the committeemen present. From every part of the state the most cheering news was forthcoming. Predictions of increased majorities for the state ticket this fall were unanimous. Those representing the anthracite belt counties spoke of the trouble, but did not give it a significance warranting apprehension, so far as the Republican ticket was concerned. They did not regard it as a political question, but as one of general public interest, the settlement of which would be beneficial to the Republican party in the sense that it would restore interrupted prosperity. In nearly every instance it was said that the insurgent and independent movements had ceased owing to the personality of Pennypacker.

E. L. Reinhold of Lancaster said his county would do its duty and "follow Allegheny." Owing to the conditions in Allegheny his reference was misunderstood by some, and after the meeting Mr. Reinhold said he meant that Philadelphia would cast the largest vote, Allegheny the next, and that Lancaster would rank third.

Elkin's County in Line.

Indiana, the home of Mr. Elkin, which has an unbroken record of Republican majorities, pledged that it would continue to be the "banner Republican county" of the state. Westmoreland reported that its last convention was the most harmonious in its history, and indicated a majority of 3,000. Fayette and Butler promised increased majorities, as did also Armstrong, represented by ex-Senator Meredith.

There was a hush when Allegheny was called. Mr. Ruhlandt said there was no disaffection, so far as the head of the ticket is concerned; that Judge Pennypacker is exceptionally strong in his district, and he expected the state ticket to receive an increased majority. (Applause.)

Beaver was put down for a gain and Washington indorsed this, with the statement that all was harmonious in the home of Congressman Acheson.

"There never was any doubt as to the outcome in little Lawrence," was the report from the home of the candidate for lieutenant governor, William M. Brown.

Mercer, Venango, Erie and Crawford pledged increased majorities.

Dr. J. Guy McCandless made this statement: "The spirit of regularity is abroad in Allegheny county, as it always has been. Allegheny county has always given tremendous majorities to Republican candidates, and if the people of the party could be amicably settled it would give an old-time Republican majority in November."

Chairman Quay tendered Gen. Charles Miller a place on the "strike" committee, but the general declined. He said that owing to his official connection with the N. G. P. he felt a delicacy in serving and felt that an acceptance might be misconstrued.

YESTERDAYS MOVES AS THEY ARE VIEWED HERE

The action of the Republican state committee yesterday at Philadelphia in snubbing the protest of the machine against the indorsement of Pennypacker by the citizens party in Allegheny county, while it was only what was expected, was favorably received in the two cities. At Citizens headquarters the news was received as a matter of fact, but there was quite gratification that the manipulation of the machine through Gov. William A. Stone, had been ineffective.

At the flier headquarters in Eighth avenue there was a little thickening of the gloom that grows heavier every day. There is further trouble in store for the ring, if reports from Harrisburg and Philadelphia are true.

Thomas S. Bigelow was in a happy mood last night. He said that he was much pleased with the action of the committee, and especially with the fact that the Allegheny county delegates got no support whatever in their effort to deprive Pennypacker of the votes of thousands of good Republicans who are going to vote the Citizens ticket this fall.

"It was the only wise thing to do," said Mr. Bigelow. "Many good Republicans are going to vote the Citizens ticket and want to vote for Pennsypacker, too, and the attempt to have the committee interfere with his acceptance of these votes was predestined to failure.

"Everything is in fine shape, and I am more confident now than ever."

Adherents of the Union party were hard to find last night, but those who were seen were divided in opinion. There has been a faction of the old line men here opposed to the indorsement of Pattison and Guthrie, and disposed to favor Pennypacker, because of his splendid record. The faction in control, however, is that which sent the delegates from Pittsburgh and vicinity, and the only expression of opinion that could be secured from them was a prediction that the matter would be carried into the courts, where the action of the first convention would be thrown out and Pattison and Guthrie placed at the head of the ticket.

CLARENCE MACKAY SAILS.

Will Return to Europe in November to Bring Back His Mother.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—(Copyright Cable.)—Clarence H. Mackay sailed today on the Teutonic to take up the duties of president of the Commercial Cable Company. He will return in November to meet his mother, now resting at a German watering resort. Both then will return to America with the body of the late John W. Mackay.

Mr. Mackay said that the management of the Commercial Cable Company is to be continued along the same lines as heretofore.

DENIES INTENT TO KILL

Claims a Drunken Spree Led to His Pushing a Woman from Him When She Insisted in Holding on to His Coat Tails.

Andrew Haskins, the colored man who was brought from Philadelphia last week to answer a charge of murdering his sweetheart, Ella Dennis, at Turtle Creek October 6, 1899, has confessed his part in the affair to his attorney, John D. Watson, and to District Attorney John C. Haymaker, but denies that her death was the result of any criminal intent on his part. His wife came to Pittsburgh yesterday and will remain in devoted attention until he is tried.

Haskins' story presents a number of new phases to the affair. He claims he was in Pittsburgh walking about the streets for weeks after the woman died, and then went to Philadelphia, ignorant of the fact that she was dead. He married in Philadelphia and did not attempt in any way to cover up his actions, working at a regular situation and keeping house in Chestnut street, West Philadelphia. His wife belongs to the better class of Philadelphia colored women.

Haskins says that he and Miss Dennis had been drinking together. Both were under the influence of liquor, and when he left the house she followed him. She insisted on holding to his coat tail, and several times he tried to make her go home. She refused, and while walking along one of the streets of Turtle Creek he turned around and pushed her away. Being drunk, he alleges, she fell and struck her head on a stone, inflicting a severe bruise, but doing no other apparent damage. She walked about all right for several days, but took no care of herself and blood poisoning set in. If she had taken good care of herself, he claims, nothing of that nature would have occurred. She was taken to a hospital, and after being in the institution several weeks she died from the poisoning, and not from any injury he inflicted on her.

Shortly after her death he went to Philadelphia, he says, but not because he feared arrest, for he alleges he committed no crime in attempting to keep a woman from hanging to his coat tail. In Philadelphia he met the woman he says is his wife. Haskins alleges he can prove this story. He will probably be tried during this session of criminal court.

ALLEN HELD FOR MURDER

Joseph Allen will be tried in the criminal court for the murder of Achsah King on next Wednesday. The grand jury found a true bill against Allen yesterday and District Attorney John C. Haymaker ordered that the case be put on next Wednesday's trial list.

The murder was committed in a Wylie avenue saloon on the afternoon of July 26, and at that time created a great sensation. The woman was stabbed twice in the neck in broad daylight and died while being taken to the Homeopathic hospital in a patrol wagon. Allen escaped into Ohio and evaded arrest for some time, but was finally captured and returned to the city.

Annie Collins and Nellie Reed, alias Ruby Perkins, were held as witnesses in the case.

Court Increases River and Terminal Railroad Co.'s Bond to $400,000. Other Bonds Increased.

Another bill in equity was filed yesterday in common pleas No. 2 against the Wabash railroad, growing out of the effort to extend its lines up the South Side. The Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston Railroad Company is plaintiff. The plaintiff says it possesses property on McKean street, which the defendant is endeavoring to get possession of, and that bond for $5,000 has been given. It is alleged the property is necessary in the operation of the plaintiff's railway and that the appropriation is illegal.

The River & Terminal Railroad Company won a partial victory over the Wabash in the same court. To appropriate the property of the former the Wabash gave bond for $150,000. Exceptions were filed, it being claimed the property is worth $1,250,000. Yesterday, after arguments, the court increased the bond to $400,000.

The court also increased the bond given to John Howarth and Jacob Messinger to $20,000 and that given to Louis Viereheller to $4,000.

COURT MADE EXAMPLE.

Petty Brass Thieves Get a Year in the Penitentiary.

Judge Stowe in criminal court yesterday sentenced John Crago and John August to one year in the penitentiary for stealing $10 worth of brass. He severely lectured the prisoners and said that he would make an example of them and see if he could not break up such petty thefts.

Joseph Burns was sentenced to the workhouse for 60 days for pointing a fire-arm at H. J. Atkinson. J. M. Gray pleaded guilty to carrying concealed weapons and was given 30 days at the workhouse. Charles McCloskey pleaded guilty to the larceny of a skiff and was sent to the workhouse for 30 days. Carl Haupt pleaded guilty to larceny by bailee and was sent to the same place for 30 days.

SAYS WATER WAS BAD.

O. A. Potts Denies He Owes the Chartiers Valley Water Company.

In common pleas court No. 1 yesterday an affidavit of defense was filed in the case of the Chartiers Valley Water Company against O. A. Potts.

The water company sued Potts before Justice G. A. Conrad of Mt. Oliver for $13 water rent. Judgment was given against Potts for $9 50. An appeal was taken by Potts.

In his affidavit of defense Potts says the water furnished was unfit for use; that it was muddy, malodorous and often unfit for bath room and laundry purposes. He also says the water was not furnished regularly, and that many times he was forced to carry water from neighbors' pumps and from McKinley park.

MRS. RAINEY'S STORY.

Testified in Divorce Suit That She Heard Husband Had Been Tried for Murder.

Mrs. Florence R. Rainey tells of her domestic troubles in the report of the commissioner filed yesterday in her divorce suit against Samuel R. Rainey. She said she heard that Samuel had been tried for the murder of a man in Diamond street.

While she was lying at the point of death her husband deserted her for a month. She says Rainey tried to kill her with a butcher knife. Her brother interfered.

Libels in divorce were filed by Mary Schlieper against Marx W. Schlieper, desertion, and Margaret C. Chatterton against Frank H. Chatterton, desertion.

Executions were issued as follows: Amshel G. Gerard vs. Charles Allison, costs; D. E. Borland vs. Henry Kenman, $196; John Mulholland vs. Fred. W. Schrandt, $111.

Suit was entered by Charles G. Harshaw against the Iron City Sanitary Manufacturing Company for $5,000 damages. The plaintiff is a brakeman and claims to have been hurt at the plant of the defendant company.

In M. Alston excepts to the account of the administrator of the estate of Wade Alston. The exceptant claims the administrator should charge himself with $8,885 96 which was paid to him by the former guardian of the decedent.

In the United States district court yesterday John W. Huston of Ligonier, Westmoreland county, filed a petition in bankruptcy. His liabilities are $6,000 and he has no assets amounting to $5. A similar petition was filed by Jacob Siegel, a merchant of Pittsburgh, showing his liabilities to be $3,455 and assets $600.

William Grubbs sued C. B. Willey for $5,000 damages for alleged breach of contract. The plaintiff claims the defendants agreed to lease him property at Nos. 515 Lacock street for five years for the purpose of conducting a saloon. He declares he procured a license and paid the defendant $125, but the latter refused to give the plaintiff the lease.

In the United States circuit court a petition asking for a receiver for the Twyford Vehicle Company of Pittsburgh by John H. Rising was filed. Judge M. Wallace Acheson set this morning at 10 o'clock to hear the matter. Rising, who is a director of the company, commenced suit Tuesday to recover $5,000 alleged to have been advanced to the company for expenses. He also alleged that the affairs of the company had not been properly managed.

AN EXCITING SHAM BATTLE AT BELLEVUE

It Will Be One of the Features of the Celebration on Saturday.

All arrangements have been completed for Bellevue's 25th anniversary celebration, which takes place Saturday. One of the big events will be the sham battle between two regiments of the Boys' brigade, under command of Maj. E. M. McCombs, and the Washington infantry, Capt. W. R. Geilfuss. The battle will take place on Rosenburg's field, corner of Lincoln and Sheridan avenues. It will be a rather exciting event, for Battery B will take a hand in the demonstration. The battle will begin promptly at 7:30 o'clock, so as not to interfere with the fireworks display, which is to commence an hour later.

Albert M. Hummell of the amusement committee has arranged a goose race, which will take place during the afternoon between six young women of Bellevue. The goose will be driven with fancy ribbons and the girl finishing the race first will be awarded a handsome prize.

Mlle. Zeno, the balloonist and parachute jumper, will make two ascensions during the afternoon. The balloon will go up from Rosenberg's field, the first ascension being made at 1:30 and the second at 5:30, just prior to the parade, which is to start promptly at 6 o'clock. At least 3,000 men will be in line, including 1,200 firemen.

The business men of Bellevue will close their stores at 3 p. m. Saturday, and remain closed until 9 p. m. In speaking about the celebration, Burgess James Longmore said: "If the weather is nice fully 25,000 visitors will go to Bellevue and the street car company has made arrangements to handle the crowd. If it should rain enough to mar the day, the celebration will be held on Monday, instead of Saturday. We hope for good weather, and barring rain during the hours of the festivities, everything will move like clockwork."

The events of the day begin at 1:30 in the afternoon and there will be continuous demonstrations from that hour until 11 o'clock at night.

THE LAST OF THE SEASON!!

The Pennsylvania railroad will run the last of the seashore excursions for this year on Thursday, September 11th.

Special train of Pullman parlor cars and day coaches will leave Union station on above date at 8:35 a. m., running through to Atlantic City without change via Delaware river bridge route. Sleeping cars on 7:10 p. m. train to Atlantic City; 9 p. m. train to Philadelphia only. Rate for round trip $10; tickets good 16 days.

CHURCH UNION IS INDORSED BY REV. GLADDEN

DENOMINATIONS TO UNITE

A Committee Appointed to Consider the Subject and Report to the Conference—Officers Were Elected and Committees Were Named.

In the course of his annual address to the Pittsburgh conference of the Methodist Protestant church, assembled in the Knoxville church yesterday afternoon, the Rev. W. H. Gladden, president, unqualifiedly indorsed a movement for the union into one great body of all the smaller religious denominations.

The plan is a gigantic one, launched in New York city some months ago, and is being favorably considered by all the denominations concerned. The object is to unite in one religious body the United Brethren, Methodist Protestant, Evangelical, United Evangelical and Cumberland Presbyterian churches, which would mean one solid denomination of 800,000 people professing the same belief. The project is such a gigantic one that it is not possible to have it in proper working order in less than three years. This is the first time, however, it has been spoken of in this city, and from the tone of those present at the conference it is likely the movement will be indorsed.

Mr. Gladden considers it not only possible, but states that it is a necessity, if the church at large would save souls. He argues that there can be no union of Christians until the churches take the lead. This project is actually carrying out the thought delivered by Dr. Parker of London, in which he asserted that there could be no union of Christianity until the rival preachers "would get down off the stump and agree to agree."

Committee on Union.

The movement in this country was inaugurated by 30 of the most thoughtful minds of the denominations given above. Mr. Gladden was authorized to appoint a committee to consider this subject and report it before the close of the conference.

The conference opened yesterday morning. No business was done, however, until the afternoon session. The election of officers resulted in Mr. Gladden being unanimously re-elected. The Rev. J. C. Broomfield was elected secretary, the Rev. T. W. Colhouer, statistical secretary; the Rev. J. C. Carpenter, conference steward; the Rev. E. C. Lane, assistant secretary.

The following stationing committee was appointed: John Henderson, T. E. Fletcher, F. K. Brierly and E. D. Cameron. There is to be quite a number of boundary changes this year, and for this reason much interest is being manifested in the report to be made by the boundary committee. It was announced that the Pittsburgh conference would be taxed $1,600 this year for support of foreign missions. In addition to the committees named, President Gladden announced the following:

Other Committees.

BIG ADDITIONS.

Pressed Steel Car Company Enlarging Its Plant at McKees Rocks.

Two large buildings, 600 feet long, are being added to the McKees Rocks plant of the Pressed Steel Car Company. These buildings will provide for a continuation on a larger scale of the business which had been conducted at the Fox plant, at McCandless avenue and Fifty-fourth street, the site of which was sold about a month ago. The new McKees Rocks plant will add 600 employes at McKees Rocks. The machinery from the old Fox plant is being removed to McKees Rocks and the output of the works there will be twice that of the old Fox works.

Plans have been drawn for a $50,000 office building at McKees Rocks. A feature of the new building will be a large dining hall where the heads of departments may meet once a week at dinner and discuss the business of the company.

The big record for car output made in July by the Pressed Steel Car Company was broken during the month of August. An average of 100 cars was completed each of the 26 working days, 2,738 cars in all. If strung together these cars would make a train over 18 miles long. Their value is about $3,000,000. The average output each working day in July was over 102 cars. Among the big contracts the company has are orders from the Pennsylvania railroad system for 15,000 cars.

THE OFFICIAL LIST IS SENT TO ROME

NAME OF RT. REV. THOMAS J. CONATY IS SAID TO BE FIRST.

Dr. Garvey's Chances Not Good—If Bishop Conaty Is Not Chosen, Father Canevin Is Quite Certain to Be Made Coadjutor.

From an authoritative source The Gazette was given yesterday what purports to be the official list of clergymen forwarded to the propaganda as suitable men for the coadjutorship of Pittsburgh. The list is as follows:

Dignus—The Rev. Father William Kittell, chancellor of Pittsburgh diocese.

This list was given out for the reason that not a few of the priests of the diocese are a bit nettled because of the prominence given to the Rev. Dr. Eugene L. Garvey of Philadelphia. The Gazette's informant absolutely denied that Dr. Garvey had ever been seriously considered, save possibly by Archbishop Ryan and some Philadelphia clergymen.

Dr. Garvey Not Probable.

"This cannot be denied any too soon," said The Gazette's informant. "Dr. Garvey was mentioned at one time, but it can be said on good authority that he is not on the list forwarded to the propaganda for consideration. The entire list, with the exception of Bishop Conaty of the Catholic university, is made up of home priests, and this is as it should be. The priests of this diocese desire home rule, and would welcome such men as Father Canevin or Father Kittell."

There is little doubt that the trouble in the Catholic university will have an important bearing on the decision of the propaganda in this matter. Bishop Conaty, both priests and laymen of prominence say, would give to this diocese a force and dignity which would be felt throughout the country. It is no secret that Bishop Conaty is desirous of a change, and it would not create a sensation were he appointed coadjutor to Bishop Phelan.

Either He or Father Canevin.

If Bishop Conaty is not appointed it seems inevitable that the purple will fall to Father Canevin, although it not infrequently happens that the propaganda ignores, for certain reasons, every candidate save the "dignus" (worthy), who in this case is Father Kittell. He, too, has "standing" in Rome. He is a graduate of the college of the propaganda at Rome, and was ordained in the basilica of St. John Lateran by Cardinal Patrizi. On his return to this country he was appointed a professor in the diocesan seminary, then located at Glenwood. In 1895 he was appointed by Bishop Phelan diocesan secretary and chancellor.

THE OIL FIELDS.

On Ten Mile run, Harrison county, West Virginia, Van Wormer & Parks have drilled in their test oil well on the G. W. Williams farm and have the best producer Harrison county has been able to present for some months. When the Gordon sand was penetrated five feet the well began to flow 40 barrels an hour, and four hours later, or when last heard from, was holding up at 35 barrels an hour. This is not strictly a new development, having for some time been extending to the northeast in the direction of this well. It would seem to indicate that past operations have been on solid ledge of the good territory. Sable district, O'Day Bros. & Partlan's No. 3 on the E. W. Custer farm, and the Southern Oil Company's No. 2 on the Alexander Riley farm have developed what is considered a good 100 barrel and the last named 800 barrels a day.

The South Penn Oil Company's No. 1 on the A. J. Hedrick farm on Buffalo creek is producing 120 barrels a day and is an old producer.

South of Beatts Mills, Lewis county, the South Penn will shoot its No. 3 William Rogers farm this week. Its No. 2 netted 95 barrels on the fifth sand, but showed some oil in the stray.

In the development on Indian run, Gilmer county, the Ohio Oil Company completed drilling in the sand on the C. F. Wick farm.

On the south fork of Hughes river, Murphy district, Ritchie county, Jennings Bros. & Packwood have on Sperry Wick's warrant farm is holding up at 85 barrels a day, and the United States Oil and Coal Company's No. 4 J. Hall farm is a 50-barrel producer.

In the Richwood Run district, Wetzel county, the Philadelphia Company has drilled its No. 20 on the John Mills tract through the Gordon, getting 50 barrels and is a 200-barrel producer. In the same district the Carter Oil Company has drilled its No. 4 on the F. W. Bartlett farm through the Gordon and the hole has filled up 1,500 feet with fluid. It will be shot tomorrow.

In the Littleton district Newman & Brant have drilled in a test on the H. Chaney 10-acre lot and have a show for a good well in the Gordon. Others in this district are testing several wells in that locality.

In the Folsom district, on Ten Mile run, the Ohio Oil Company has completed its No. 17 on the Genine Robinson tract and a test on the Samuel Campbell farm, and has a brace of 25-barrel producers that are expected to increase production when shot.

In the old Fairview district, Marion county, the South Penn company has drilled its test on the M. E. Brohower farm into the Big Injun and has a show for a 5-barrel pumper.

In the deep sand territory west of Blacksville, Greene county, Pa., the South Penn has drilled its No. 1 on the Margaret Henderson farm into the sand and has a show for a 5-barrel pumper.

In the deep sand territory west of Blacksville, Greene county, Pa., the South Penn has drilled its No. 1 on the Margaret Henderson farm into the sand and has a show for a 5-barrel pumper.

In the Hundred district the same company has completed its No. 2 on the William McQuay farm and has a 80-barrel producer.

On the Ohio side in the Marietta district, Washington county, the Ohio Oil Company has completed No. 14 on the George Johnston farm and has a 5-barrel pumper. The same company has completed No. 15 on the F. M. Reid farm and has the same kind of a pumper.

Peddinghause & Co. have completed Nos. 1 and 2 on the Jacob Geddis farm and have two small pumpers.

In the shallow sand territory in the Chester Hill district, Morgan county, A. A. Cameron has completed his No. 24 on the H. Bowman farm and has a 5-barrel pumper.

In the same development Buell & Co. have completed a second test on the A. M. Abel farm and have one of the same kind.

In the Lewisville district on Rich Fork creek, Monongalia county, the Carter Oil Company has drilled its test on the George W. Hendershot farm through the Keener Sand and has a duster in that formation. It will be drilled to the Berea grit.

The gauges of the best producers of the Carter Oil Company in the Rinards Mills Big Injun sand development in Washington county, are as follows: No. 2 Sam Sweet, 100 barrels; No. 1 Susanah Sears, 125 barrels; No. 4 Adam Messiner, 75 barrels, and No. 3 John Cline, 50 barrels a day.

North of Rinards Mills the Southern Oil Company's No. 2 on the Zwick farm is holding up at 75 barrels a day.

Two miles northwest of Amsterdam, in Jefferson county, the McCleary Oil Company has completed a test on the J. McGeary farm and will have about the average well for that territory—five barrels a day.

In the Carson pool in Hancock county, West Virginia, Freshwater & Carson have completed No. 5 on the Carson Bros. farm and have a 10-barrel pumper. Another test completed by Hervey county Murray & Co. have drilled in No. 20 on the S. Carson farm and have a show for a 25-barrel producer.

On Big Knot run, Ritchie county, West Virginia, Mallory Bros. & Co. shot No. 2 Freeland, and it produced 720 barrels the ensuing 24 hours. Gauges of the Three Joes wells on the Wagner farm are: No. 1, 47 barrels; No. 3, 210 barrels; No. 4, 110 barrels, and No. 5, 300 barrels. Drillers Oil Company No. 1 Ryan, 250 barrels, and Morgan-Hemsworth No. 2, 25, and Freeland No. 1, 475 barrels a day. Total, 2,590 barrels.

J. O. BROWN SAYS A STIFF FIGHT IS ON THIS FALL

County Chairman Robertson Is Going to Need Some Able Lieutenants.

RECORDER TALKS FREELY

Thinks Too Much Advertising Has Been Given Union Party—Recalls How Virtue Was Its Own Reward. Makes Reference to a Clog.

"The fight in Allegheny county this fall will be the fiercest in the history of the county. It will be a tussle to remember. County Chairman A. C. Robertson will need a number of able lieutenants when the fight opens in real earnest."

This is the trite statement Recorder-Chairman J. O. Brown used in estimating the present political situation. The head of the city government was sitting in his private office yesterday afternoon waiting for news from Philadelphia, where the war is on. The news that the entire Republican state ticket had been indorsed by the Union party convention interested the recorder, but he declined to say anything about it.

"The part Senator Quay has taken in the preliminary matters that led up to the Union party convention," said Recorder Brown, "has only served to advertise the party, and will lead people to look for the ticket on the ballot. The Union party might not have caused much stir if it had not been for the fight that is being made, and it only serves to advertise it. The advertisement will make votes for the party. The more one talks about some things the better they are known and the more interest is taken in them."

Strike Situation Is Perplexing.

"Labor is going to play a greater part in the state campaign this fall than many people believe. There are 140,000 laboring men being fed on the charity of others, and they and their sympathizers are a mighty army if they work together. The strike situation is the most perplexing question the state campaign committee has to deal with, and it is one that will need earnest attention. There are rumors going that Senator Quay and others of the party are trying to negotiate some sort of a settlement, but I know nothing about it.

"So far as the fight in Allegheny county is concerned, it will be warm, very warm. The candidates on the Republican county ticket seem to be confident that they will win. But they and the entire ticket are up against one of the hardest fights the county has ever seen. There is one clog on the ticket—and he shall be nameless—but he seems to think he will have a walk-over. If any candidate on the ticket is defeated it will be he."

"How about the 'Ballot Reform' party, recorder?"

Recorder Brown Philosophizes.

"Well, I am a Republican first, last and all the time. Anything that is good for the Republican party is good for me. I am always for the Republican party. Some people do not give me credit for that. I took Governor W. Dalemater five years to find out that I was for him when he ran for governor, but he found it out about five years after the votes were counted. He then came to me and admitted that he had learned that I was for the ticket, including him. Thus virtue is its own reward."

W. J. Brennen was a very busy man yesterday afternoon, getting ready to leave last night for Reading, in order to be there tonight when the state candidates on the Democratic ticket are formally and officially notified that they have been selected by the Democratic party of Pennsylvania as standard bearers. Mr. Brennen was asked whether he had yet appointed the committee authorized by the Democratic county convention to prepare a congressional ticket.

"I have not yet appointed the committee," he said, "and I hardly think I shall before next Saturday. I am waiting for a certain man to return from the east."

Brennen Favors Citizens' Nominees.

"What will the committee do?"

"I do not know what they will do, but I favor indorsing the candidates who have been nominated by the Citizens party. It will not take the committee five minutes to transact its business when it is once appointed."

As Brennen will appoint a committee that coincides with his views, it is a foregone conclusion that the candidates of the Citizens party for congress will be indorsed. The man to whose return from the east Brennen alluded is Charles A. Fagan, who made the motion in the county convention authorizing the appointment of this committee. The makeup of the committee Brennen refused to discuss, but it was stated yesterday that Brennen has fully decided upon them, and that the committee will consist of three members, W. J. Brennen, Charles A. Fagan and Henry Meyer of Allegheny.

J. F. Grimes, who sprang into notoriety recently through his launching of the Ballot Reform party, was at City hall yesterday afternoon distributing neat little pamphlets containing the platform and the declaration of principles of the new party.

"Well, we'll give them a race for their money," said Grimes. "I shall not be ashamed of the vote which the Ballot Reform party will poll in Allegheny county."

"It is said that you and Senator William Flinn comprise the party," Grimes was told by a man whom he met.

"I do not care what they say," said Grimes. "I should be very glad to have a man like Senator Flinn with me."

Big Mining Deal Made.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 3.—The Lincoln Copper Mining Company, controlling one of the largest mining properties in Arizona, has sold its holdings to a syndicate of Chicago and Cleveland capitalists, among whom are President Worth of the Motor Cycle Company of Chicago and John D. Rockefeller. It is said that the amount paid was $6,000,000.

Dandruff

What is it? The beginning of gray hair, falling hair, baldness. Extremely untidy, and annoying, too. The remedy? Ayer's Hair Vigor. It keeps the scalp healthy, stops falling of the hair, and always restores color to gray hair. An elegant dressing.

"I am satisfied with Ayer's Hair Vigor. It restores the natural color to my hair, prevents it from falling out, and makes it moist."—Betsey A. Elder, E. Machias, Me.

NEXT WEEK'S PLAYS.

A Variety of Interesting and Pleasing Entertainment in Local Theaters.

The coming of Primrose & Dockstader's minstrel organization to the Alvin next week will be welcomed by all lovers of first-class entertainment of this class. The organization is this year more complete in every way than one usually finds minstrel performances. It's black face talent is the best in the country, while the olio features are new and up-to-date.

Clyde Fitch's beautiful romantic historical drama, "Barbara Frietchie," which had tremendous vogue at the Grand last season, where it turned people away every afternoon and evening, attracting on the week something over 40,000 people, will be revived at this theater for the week starting September 8. The same splendid scenic equipment and stage accessories that characterized its run of 100 nights at the Criterion theater, New York, will be observed at the Grand. Miss Anna Buckley, the ingenue of the new company, will make her first appearance in "Barbara Frietchie."

The beautiful play, "The White Slave," the greatest production of the pen of Bartley Campbell, the Pittsburgh playwright, will be at the Bijou all next week, commencing with the Monday matinee. Robert Campbell, son of the immortal Bartley, has the production in charge and he brings it to the Iron City embellished and set with a wonderful lot of bran new scenery.

Robert Campbell, the author's son, has has placed the play in the hands of a strong company, among whom are Helen Collier, sister of the comedian, Kate Campbell, Jennie Christie, Mai Wells, John E. Ince, Jr., Thomas Garrick, Charles Webster, John Ryan, James Croly, Albert Reed and the old favorite, Frank Drew.

The management of the Academy have secured for the coming week that startling burlesque organization known as the "Tiger Lillies," under the management of Mr. Will N. Drew. Among those comprising the company will be found such well-known names as the Garrity Sisters, Deonzo Brothers, Cooper and Reynolds, and the Three Polos, marvelous flying acrobats. The opening and closing numbers will be presented by the entire strength of the company.

"A Hot Scotch Major," which comes to the Empire theater next week, is said to be one of the latest and brightest comedies before the theater-goers of today. The piece is the joint work of William Gill, George Totten Smith and Harry Von Tilzer, all well-known names in the construction of musical comedy successes. The cast, which comprises 50 people, is led by George H. Summers and Alice Archer. The chorus is a large one, much larger than is found in plays of this class. The girls are the pick of their profession.

Beat Her Own Record.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Clipping one hour and four minutes from her best previous western voyage, the crack liner, Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, came in this morning from Bremen, Southampton and Cherbourg, the exact time of the passage being five days, 15 hours and 20 minutes. Over the short northern line the steamship voyaged so that her average speed, 22.53 knots, was not equal to her best performance of 22.81 knots, made on a longer trip.

"Last of the Season."

Last one-day excursion to Conneaut lake, Saturday, September 6. Knights and Ladies of Columbia. Special train leaves P. & W. depot 7:20 a. m., city time. Fare for the round trip, $1.50.

This Is the Second Day of the Semi-Annual Clearance Sale OF Fine Furniture

And there's every reason to believe that purchasing will be even more lively today than yesterday, although yesterday's record will be hard to excel.

The thought uppermost in the minds of the customers yesterday was: "This is the most remarkable collection of fine Furniture ever offered at special sale."

First of all, the assortment of odd pieces and sample is particularly large, comprising such a variety as is rarely assembled. The majority are in reality works of art. But on account of this being the semi-annual clearance all odd pieces and samples will be sold—and you save from 10 to 50 per cent on anything you buy.

COLORADO FIGHT GOES ON, THOUGH GATES IS AWAY

Something More Than a Personal Matter Between Him and Osgood.

WARM STATEMENT ISSUED

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Sept. 3.—The committee in the matter of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company today issued a statement that the departure of John W. Gates for Europe for a short rest would in no way affect the vigorous prosecution of the proceedings to obtain the early control of Colorado Fuel for the majority stockholders. They say the matter is not a Gates-Osgood fight, nor a fight between any two other men, the question at issue being a matter of great concern to the stockholders of all corporations, especially of corporations of other states whose stocks are listed on the New York stock exchange.

The case is simply this: Can a man who happens to be at the head of a company with a subservient board of directors, many of them employes and none of them stockholders of the company to any considerable amount, keep the control of a company against the wishes of the owners of four-fifths of the stock of the company? The stock of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company is listed and dealt in almost exclusively on the New York stock exchange.

The transfers are exclusively made by the Knickerbocker Trust Company and registered by the Atlantic Trust Company. The officers of the company sign the certificates of stock to be so issued, transferred and registered. They require no other means of requirements for transfer, but when the annual election is about to be held and they apprehend that the stockholders want no more of their inefficient management, they take the position that the transfers by the stock exchange are not entitled to be represented and voted at the annual meeting, because, forsooth, the Osgood has not seen fit to note such transfers in the company's books in Colorado.

Furthermore, Osgood wilfully omitted to publish the notice of the annual meeting, notwithstanding the fact that he sent out the printed notices for the meeting and requested proxies for himself. This is easily explained by reason of the fact that by the by-laws of the company the printed notices had to be sent to the stockholders 30 days before the meeting. The notices has to be published only 15 days before the meeting. He sent out the printed notices 30 days before the meeting, and finding that he got practically no responses to his calls for proxies, he willfully and intentionally omitted to publish the notice of the meeting, for the express purpose of invalidating the meeting and thwarting the wishes of the owners of four-fifths of the stock of the company.

The committee fully appreciates the importance of the settlement of these questions as to all corporate interests. The rights of the owners of a majority of the stock of a company must be maintained.

Big Day on Stock Exchange.

The trading in stocks today reached nearly 1,500,000 shares, which is well up to the best record for the year, made on April 21, when business reached 1,995,000 shares. It is by far the biggest day's business transacted in three months.

Shipbuilding Combine Complete.

Officials of the United States Shipbuilding Company today positively denied that a hitch had occurred in the financial details in consequence of which the organization of the company would be delayed. The fact of the matter is that the formation of the combine has been completed, even down to the election of directors. The directors will hold a meeting shortly when permanent officers will be elected.

Preparations are being made to formally list the stock on the New York stock exchange. Although a full list of the directors has not been made public, it is learned that Henry T. Scott, Lewis Nixon, Joseph E. Schwab, Max Pam and D. Leroy Dresser head the list. Joseph E. Schwab, who, as president of the American Steel Foundries Company, and Max Pam represent the shares in the United States Shipbuilding Company held by Charles M. Schwab.

Not Amenable to Politics.

None of the operators would shed any light on the strike situation today. President Truesdale of the Lackawanna was the only one of the anthracite road presidents in the city, and he denied himself to reporters. An official of one of the roads, however, said:

"There is no reason whatever to believe that the operators have wavered from the position they announced some time ago, that politics would not be allowed to play the slightest part in this struggle. If the presidents of the railroads were forced to recede from that position at this late date, they might as well resign their offices, for their ability and authority would be so discredited among all the employes of their respective railroads. As for threat of possible legislation, everyone knows that the politicians have promised and are yet promising the miners all sorts of laws next winter. We expect the legislature to pass some such laws, but the courts will not sustain any laws which take from the owner of property the control of it.

"As for the present struggle, legislation or the promise of it could not effect a settlement inside of several months, for whatever laws they enact would have to be fought through the courts and sustained there before the miners could take advantage of them."

Retailers in Danger.

The organization of the Union Cigar Stores Company, by interests connected with the tobacco combine, has led tobacco jobbers to raise the question whether the combine is to enter the retail trade. Heretofore the welfare of the wholesalers has been safeguarded in the New York market, at least, by a binding agreement that the combine is not to sell even to retailers, but only to wholesalers. Dealers have become apprehensive that with the combine in a position to do the final marketing of its products, not only the wholesalers, but the retailers as well, will be done away with or become merely employes.

Nearly a Million and a Half of Stock Changed Hands

P. R. R. REPORTS UNUSUAL

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Sept. 3.—The course of the stock market today was in marked contrast to that of yesterday in that it was governed largely by different influences, although Reading and some of the other coalers were again well to the fore. Opening with a renewal of the previous day's bullish enthusiasm and strength, the list received what at first threatened to be a serious setback on early news of the accident to the presidential party. Rumors more or less conflicting were numerous and the list underwent a general recession.

As soon as the extent of the disaster became known the market recovered the greater part of its strong undertone, but for a time there was a marked decrease of operations. Later, however, the early activity was resumed and the day as a whole was the largest in volume of the present season.

The last hour witnessed an extraordinary spurt in Pennsylvania, that stock selling up to 168¾, a net advance of five points on transactions involving over 100,000 shares.

Rumors About Reading.

The advance in this stock was accompanied by rumors crediting the road with control of Reading. Another reason advanced in explanation of Pennsylvania's strength was the rather good showing made in the company's reports for the first seven months of the year. Net earnings on the lines directly operated by the Pennsylvania for the period named show an increase of over $2,500,000, while the company's lines west of Pittsburgh and Erie show an increase of more than $1,500,000. Interest continued to center largely in Readings, and the common opened with a material advance on heavy transactions. The gain was almost entirely wiped out as soon as the Pittsfield incident became known. Subsequently, however, the stock more than recovered this loss, selling up to 78½, closing at 76¼ and registering a net gain for the day of more than a point on transactions aggregating over 285,000 shares. The other Reading issues on moderate trading made fractional gains.

Jersey Central Declines.

There were no material changes in the other anthracite stocks except in New Jersey Central, which declined four points. In the soft coal group Norfolk & Western was the feature, the stock scoring a substantial gain on fairly heavy trading. Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis on very light transactions made a net gain of over six points, and Chesapeake & Ohio, in which operations were quite extensive, also closed at a material advance. Labor Commissioner Wright's report on the strike situation excited little comment. In many quarters the report was regarded as distinctly favorable to the miners. The trading in Reading had every indication of competitive buying, and reports of a triangular contest involving Pennsylvania, Morgan and Gould interests were prevalent. Pennsylvania's sharp advance toward the close, already referred to, gave color to these rumors, but nothing tangible came from any authoritative quarter.

Other Stocks Strong.

In addition to Reading common, new high records were made by Atchison, Baltimore & Ohio, Norfolk & Western, Pennsylvania, St. Paul, Detroit Southern preferred, North American, Wheeling & Lake Erie, Sloss Sheffield Steel issues, Southern Pacific and several less conspicuous stocks. Marked strength was shown by Illinois Central, New York Central, Rock Island, Denver & Rio Grande, Manhattan, Sugar, Amalgamated and Anaconda coppers and International Power. On the curb Northern Securities was again very strong with a new high record. Monetary conditions continue satisfactory, although a fair amount of money was placed at 6 per cent. The prevailing rate was 5½ per cent. Reports from Washington agree that the treasury is prepared for any possible money stringency, in brief, there promise to be abundant resources to meet the crop movement. Contrary to expectations no transfers were made by the sub-treasury.

The bond market continued very active and showed some irregularity on profit taking. Total sales, par value, $4,185,000. United States bonds were all unchanged on the last call.

WALL STREET FEATURES.

Rumors heard that Pennsylvania railroad will control the Reading.

United States Steel common closed 41⅜.

Talked About in Wall Street

(By Leased Wire to The Gazette.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—The Herald this (Thursday) morning says: Speculation continued to broaden yesterday, with a more irregular tendency, however, than was displayed on the first day of business this week. Transactions aggregated fully 1,500,000 shares for the day, and this was accomplished without any tightening in the money market, nor was there any strengthening in sterling exchange. It was the largest day's business of the season.

Of news developments which would definitely account for the broadening of speculation, there was none, and the lack of it seemed to prove the old Wall street adage, that business in Wall street thrives on mystery.

There was no abatement in the excitement worked up in Reading last Tuesday. The early dealings were phenomenally large and the crop of reports circulated in explanation was almost equally as large as the volume of transactions.

The street seemed to go on the theory that competitive buying was going on and that the greatest competition came from the Goulds. With George Gould out of the city inspecting his lines in the far west, and his brother Edwin at Bar Harbor, it did not strike Wall street that operations of so stupendous a scale could be conducted safely at such a distance. Neither did the speculative contingent pause to consider that if the Goulds wished to obtain a footing in the property it would hardly be likely that they would begin buying when prices had reached the figures of Tuesday and Wednesday.

There seemed to be no doubt that the developments in Reading were responsible for the later but equally sensational advances in New York Central, Pennsylvania, Norfolk & Western, Chesapeake & Ohio, Baltimore & Ohio, Big Four, Panhandle and some of the other properties usually associated with the Pennsylvania, the Vanderbilts and the Morgan banking houses. The movement in these stocks suggested the recent activity in Union Pacific, which suddenly developed over night by the discovery that the advances in Southern Pacific resulted to the benefit of the Union Pacific treasury.

If, on this same line, it was figured out that the Reading property is turned over to interests which control the list of railroads named, after two years' time, then those shares will have a more substantial value. This was evidently, apparently, without taking into consideration the price at which the "deal" will be made.

NEWS FROM THE MINES

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Bonanza, the new Montana mining camp, is located in Beaverhead county, 10 miles from Wisdom. A group of six claims there has been sold to W. E. Sanders of Helena for $60,000. The formation of the district gives indications of permanency and the Bonanza vein is pronounced a true fissure. The ore carries about $40 gold and three ounces of silver to the ton.

Development on the Snow Storm, near Mullan, Ida., is showing up well. The apex of the vein is exposed by 4 large cut and by a 50-foot shaft.

The Berger-Johnson strike near Wickenburg, Ariz., is still attracting attention. It is only a prospect hole, but over $1,000 has been taken from it by means of a hand mortar in six weeks. The owner has refused $12,000 for an interest in the claim.

The Black Diamond smelter in the Dragoon mountains, Ariz., is completed, and will begin reduction of ore as soon as the tramway to the mine is finished.

A dispatch from Republic, Wash., says the Princess Maud has started to raise ores. About 20 tons a day is the present output.

P. L. Kimberley, F. H. Buhl and W. L. Wallace of Sharon, Pa., are reported at Iron Mountain, Utah., examining the limonite iron deposits on which they have an option for $2,500,000.

The Quilp, at Idaho Springs, Col., has struck another pocket of rich ore similar to the one the Little Bell found, which is assaying $200 to the ton has been opened in the 400-foot level of the Lucky Star at Wall Street, Col. The ore is heavy in marksatite iron and tellurium.

In the Metal Market.

Great weakness developed in tin in the boma market today, coupled with a decline amounting to 40 points, which makes a corresponding drop of 1½c within two weeks in the price of the spot article. Even at the present level consumers are making only what they require from day to day. The primary reason given for the break today was the early offerings of the far eastern markets, which influenced a sharp decline at London and in turn in the New York market. The English market broke 10s for spot, which closed at £123 and £1 2s 6d for futures, closing at £119 2s 6d. The local market closed at $27 90@27 10. Copper locally was dull and weak but not much lower, standard spot closing at $19 70@19 15; lake, $19 30@19 60; electrolytic, $19 20@19 45, and casting at $19 20@19 35. The London price was lowered 3s 9d, spot closing at £51 13s 9d and futures at £52. Lead was unchanged in both markets. Spelter at the local exchange at £19 15s. Spelter remained steady and unchanged. London quoting £19 7s 6d and New York $5 50. Domestic iron markets ruled quiet and firm and without change. Quotations nominal: No. 1 foundry northern, $22@23; No. 2 foundry northern, $22@23; No. 1 foundry southern, $22@23; No. 2 foundry southern soft, $22@22. English markets were quiet, Glasgow closing at 57s 8d and Middlesboro at 43s.

Corn Leads Chicago Grain Market

GENERAL BULGE FOLLOWS

All Other Conditions Save Weather Were Ignored. Offerings Were Exceedingly Small and Prices Stiffened at Once.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, Sept. 3.—Frost just over the Canadian border and fears that it would drop down as far as Iowa tonight put corn shorts in a state of fright today and brought good bulges in all grain. The advances in wheat and oats were largely in sympathy with the strength in corn. There was a good general trade, and at the close both September and December wheat were up 1@1¼c, September corn 1½c better, December corn 1c higher, September oats 1⅜c higher and December oats ⅝c up. Provisions closed unchanged to 10c down.

Corn was leader both in point of price advance and trade. With a killing frost at Havre, Manitoba, and predictions that the unripe corn would suffer before tomorrow morning, corn was wanted in large quantities to cover contracts. All other conditions save weather were ignored. Offerings were exceedingly small and at once prices stiffened. The southwest was a big buyer and commission houses as a rule had buying orders.

Crop Report Bullish.

The government crop report was moderately bullish, stating that corn in Iowa and eastern Nebraska needed a month to mature. Cables were a little higher, but receipts showed a little improvement. September sold from 57½c to 59c and closed strong 1¾c up at 58¾c. December sold from 42⅝c to 43⅞c, and closed strong, 1c up at 43¾c. Receipts were 149 cars.

Wheat had good strength all day as the frost scare did not have as much effect as it did on corn. Buying of December by commission houses and traders generally was of the best character. Offerings were scarce and in the main were by the "pit crowd" for profits. Traders were nervous over the possibility of injury of late wheat in the British northwest. While weather conditions overshadowed all other factors the fact that not a car of contract stuff was received here today had a strengthening effect. September started ⅛c to ¼c up at 70⅝c to 70¾c and advanced to 71¼c. December sold from 67¼c to 68⅝c.

Wheat Closed Strong.

The close was strong, both September and December being 1@1¼c higher, the former at 71¼c@71⅝c, the latter at 68@68¼c. Local receipts were 501 cars, Minneapolis and Duluth reported 414 cars, making a total for the three points of 915 cars, against 435 last week.

Primary receipts, 1,224,000 bushels, compared to 1,278,000 bushels last year. Bradstreet's reported the world's available supply increased by 2,900,000. Seaboard clearances in wheat and flour equaled 443,000 bushels. The seaboard reported 29 loads taken for export. Deliveries on September contracts today were only 45,000 bushels.

Oats stiffened in sympathy with corn and wheat. Receipts were large at 774 cars, but of these arrivals only 11 were of contract grade. Commission houses took late months freely, covering went on to a good extent and there was some buying because of poor grading. After a steady opening prices advanced well and the close was strong. September sold from 34¼c to 35½c and closed 1¾c up to 35½c. December sold from 31c to 31¾c and closed ⅝c up at 31⅝c.

The Hog Market.

Hog products ruled somewhat steady. There was weakness in the hog market at the yards and October stuff was offered early. Some demand in January induced by the frost scare in corn helped in a rally. January pork closed 2½c up at $14 87½. October lard unchanged at $9 72½ and October ribs 10c down at $9 87½.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 225 cars; corn, 70 cars; oats, 330 cars; hogs, 24,000 head.

The Volume of Business Was Quite Large, but Prices Were Irregular

HEAVY BUYING OF RAIL COAL THE FEATURE

COLONIAL TRUST REACTED

Westinghouse Electric Seconds and Switch and Signal Declined—Air-brake Firm and Higher—Window Glass Weak and Lower.

The volume of business transacted on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday, while not so big as that of the preceding day, was still quite large, the sales being over 7,100 shares, against 7,400 Tuesday. The tone of the market was somewhat irregular, being weak in some spots and strong in others. At the windup the easiness predominated, and the market was quite dull. The feature of the day's doings was in Pittsburgh Coal common, which sold more than half the total shares of the day, being a little over 4,000. The price opened at 30 and advanced to 30¾, the highest of the year to date—in fact, the highest since last September, when it reached 33¾ on sales for the entire month of 11,200 shares. The close yesterday was at 30⅝, making the net gain ⅝. The preferred was dull and ¼ higher at 91. There are persistent reports that the common stock will be placed upon at least a 4 per cent dividend basis either next month or in January, and a good deal of the buying yesterday was thought to be for persons on the inside. Bulls on the stock have been saying almost constantly from one dividend period to another that they would get "action" at the next, and now their hopes are higher than ever. The conservatives say that a dividend in the near future, while a possibility, is hardly probable. River Coal stocks were very dull, but fractionally higher and quite steady. Colonial Trust Company was quiet and less strong, 30 shares selling at 490, a decline of $5 since Tuesday's close, and of $15 from Tuesday's highest. At the close more offered at 490, with 485 the best bid. In the other members of the banking group Iron City National sold up $6 to $125, its previous high point reached in May, 1901. Pennsylvania Trust advanced $5 to $245, also its previous high point, and Cosmopolitan National bank advanced $1.50 to 110, and a gain of $3 in a week. Exchange National was unchanged at 94½, being unaffected by the effort to secure options on the stock at $100 a share. In the Westinghouse stocks Westinghouse Electric seconds, after opening firm and going up to 113¾, the high figure, and closing 1¼ over for the day at 113¾. The firsts were not dealt in. Westinghouse Airbrake was firmer and 5⅛ higher at 188½, with a fair demand. Switch & Signal common reacted ½ to 96½, while the preferred was unchanged at 110. Window Glass common, after opening higher at 63, broke to 61¾, and closed barely steady at 62, a loss of ½ for the day. The steel shares were quiet but steady to firm, Crucible preferred advancing ⅜ to 87⅛ on sales of 401 shares. The remainder of the stock list was without appreciable change and quite dull. Bonds were very dull.

PITTSBURGH FEATURES.

Bank exchanges gained $1,863,998 31.

Sales Pittsburgh stock exchange 7,116 shares and $2,000 bonds.

Colonial Trust dropped $5 to $490.

Westinghouse Electric seconds declined 1¼ to 113¾.

Pittsburgh Coal preferred closed at 91.

United States Steel closed at 41¼ and the preferred at 90½.

Brewing stocks were unchanged.

Bonds were dull but steady.

FINANCIAL DRIFT.

Miller traded on both sides of Window Glass common.

John W. Gates sailed for Europe yesterday morning.

Fidelity Title & Trust Company advanced to $120 bid.

Masten was still buying Cosmopolitan National bank.

McIlroy & Doyle bought $2,000 United States Fire Proofing bonds at 103½ ex-coupon. The sale was not posted.

R. J. Stevenson was again a buyer of Westinghouse Airbrake. He has "picked up" a good deal of the stock lately.

Application has been made to the New York stock exchange to list $1,460,000 additional capital stock of the Missouri Pacific.

The first sale of the day was 10 National Fire Proofing preferred at 90¾ and the last was 10 Pennsylvania Trust Company at 245.

Clearances on the Pittsburgh stock exchanges in August aggregated 253,821 shares, against 216,950 in July and 250,805 shares in August, 1901.

Sales on the New York stock exchange yesterday created the enormous total of 1,474,000 shares, making it about the largest day of the year.

It is stated that steps are being taken to organize a bank in Pittsburgh which will use the Lee patented system, which is controlled by a $6,000,000 corporation.

Hill & Co. bought all the trust company stocks that changed hands, getting 60 Pennsylvania at 240@245 and 30 Colonial at 490. Spencer also bought a few Colonial at 490.

A statement of the Pittsburgh Trust Company of August 30 shows profits of $2,150,005, compared with $2,109,208 on June 30, and average deposits of $25,041,875, compared with $25,048,150 on July 31. The total deposits on August 30 were $11,751,710.

The trading in Pittsburgh Coal common was quite widely scattered, but the largest sellers were: McFarland, 900; Sproul & Co., 850; Hill & Co., 500; and Hilliard, 400. Hilliard, Sproul & Co. were the principal buyers, getting about 1,400 shares, and Hill & Co. about 1,500.

R. C. Hall has just returned from Lenox. He stated that on Tuesday, by driving across the trolley road leading from Pittsfield to the exact place at which President Roosevelt was hurt yesterday. Mr. Hall says he never knew trolley cars to run so fast before as they do now, and that accidents are constantly happening.

It is reported that the Allegheny Trust Company has renewed negotiations for the absorption of the Dollar Savings Fund & Trust Company of Allegheny. Some time ago, it is alleged, such a deal was on foot, but fell through, and the street has it now that another effort is being made with better prospects.

Holmes & Sons sold Iron City National bank at 125, a gain of $5, to Preston, Watt & Mitchell. Spencer also sold 100 pounds National at 94½. James Kifer is offering $100 a share for a 60-day option on the latter stock. Holmes also sold Mercbants & Manufacturers National at 180. Looks, the price being a loss of 1½ between sales.

The officers and directors of the Union Savings bank yesterday issued an invitation to the general public for a personal inspection of the bank's new quarters, 310 Fourth avenue. Special attention is called in the invitation to the bank's complete appointments for the transaction of a savings bank business. The officers and directors are: W. McClymonds, president; A. M. Moffett, vice president; D. E. Park, vice president; E. V. Hays, cashier; H. C. Frick, A. M. Mellon, James McCrea, F. J. Hearne, James H. Lockhart, W. N. Frew, Asher Beatty, Richard B. Coulter, Edward Park, J. M. Schoonmaker, P. C. Knox, George E. Shaw, H. C. Fownes, R. B. Mellon, J. B. Finley, George L. White, directors.

Earnings and Reports.

Wall Street Brokers' "Tips."

I think the buying in Copper is by inside interests.—Lounsbery.

I think Chesapeake & Ohio is worth as much as Norfolk & Western.

The pool has taken hold of Chesapeake & Ohio again. It looks as if it would sell higher.

Southern Pacific, Atchison, Union Pacific and the Gould stocks, also Norfolk & Western, look like good purchases.

I hear there is to be another big move in Missouri Pacific and that it will look cheap at $125. Certainly in view of the crops and earnings it is cheap at the present price.—Hyde.

We are in a real bull market, with very large and important interest working for higher prices. Reactions are, of course, to be expected, but they should be taken advantage of to buy stocks.—Hyde.

Oil stocks are still predicted for all of the hard and soft dealers. Insiders on Norfolk talk for the stock this year. The Flower-Brady crowd is getting ready to move Peoples Gas and Brooklyn Rapid Transit. Detroit Southern preferred will cross 50. For the moment keep to standard issues and buy Vanderbilts, Baltimore & Ohios, Eries, Pacifics, Southwesterns or Atchisons.—T. C. I. and P. M. should be taken on any activity.—Josephthal.

It looks as though the Reading stocks would sell considerably higher, but between Reading at these prices and other stocks, our choice would lie with the other stocks, such as Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Erie and Southern Railway, all of which we are inclined to think are good for substantial advances. There seems to be a more confident feeling regarding the money situation, which feeling we are inclined to share, but at the same time money will rule around the legal rate for some time.—Lounsbery.

Dividends.

The Wolverine Copper Mining Company has declared a dividend of $2 a share, payable October 1 to stock of record September 10.

The Treasury and the Banks.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—(Special.)—In redemption of checks drawn by depositors of gold at the Seattle assay office today's official records show that the sub-treasury paid out practically $147,250. Total drawings paid since Friday, $148,270, against $153,269 for the same period a week ago. Total payment by government to New York banks for the day, $2,212,000, of which $1,500,000 was for bonds, $4,054,000. Balance on the day's transactions, $1,317,000 paid by banks to government. Total net payment by banks to government since Monday, $2,200,000, against $1,950,000 similarly paid for the corresponding period a week ago. Included in the foregoing summary is $690,000 deposited by banks with the sub-treasury for payment at interior points. Total deposited since Friday, $750,000, against $1,100,000 for the same period a week ago.

IRON FROM BRITAIN EASES THE SITUATION

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—The Iron Age tomorrow will say:

So far as the business in domestic pig iron is concerned it has been a waiting time. The principal item of interest is that southern railroads have advanced freights to Ohio river points 50 cents a ton, effective September 15. This applies to all sales made subsequent to September 5 and makes the new rate from Birmingham to Cincinnati $2.23.

Not alone the seaboard, but to an increasing extent the interior, is feeling the relief from scarcity of spot iron brought by the importations of foundry iron. Consumers have been again learning to use Middlesborough and foreign irons, and some of the latter are very much liked. The result has been that melters are not quite so urgent in their requests for immediate delivery of domestic pig, many having gone into hegging for business.

Some pretty high prices, up to $22, have been paid within the last few days for spot Bessemer pig in the Pittsburgh district, but the general run of sales of northern round sales of foreign low phosphorus pig for seaboard works, and there have been some good transactions also in steel melting stock.

Quite a good deal of business has been again done in the foreign Bessemer and open-hearth billets, and we hear of a number of lots of 5,000 tons and of negotiations pending for larger quantities. Cable reports from Germany are somewhat conflicting. Some of the sellers there are asking higher prices, but all the lower figures recently ruling have not been withdrawn.

In the central west the increased offerings of steel works are creating an easier tendency. Consumers are taking advantage of the general that the markets there depend for future strength largely upon the continuance of the recent rate of buying from here, and that any serious falling off might lead to renewed weakness.

There is little to be said concerning the heavier lines of rolling mill products. Every mill is straining to get out tonnage and to catch up on deliveries, and it seems probable that all the new material available is diverted to these branches to bring about relief.

Interest in a certain way centers on the lighter lines, like sheets, tin plate, bars and wire, because it is there that general competition should open, but there is a heavier fall trade. The reports concerning bars are getting to be rather better, and the indications seem just now to point to a taking up of slack in the wire trade. Buyers generally in the lighter lines have assumed a conservative attitude in view of the offerings by many new mills.

Sugar and Pickles May Go Up Together

PITTSBURGH PRICES FOR FARM PRODUCTS

Hay, Grain and Feed.

The grain market was very quiet yesterday and shipments were unusually light. Only 12 cars were received, seven of which were of hay. Prices for hay remain stable and there has been no noticeable change in grain prices for several days. Most of the hay now coming in is of poor quality and dealers complain that much of it is not up to A1 quality, due to the wet weather which has caused it to grow "mildy."

Receipts bulletined: Pennsylvania lines, 1 car hay; Pittsburgh and Western railroad, 4 cars hay, 2 cars oats; Baltimore & Ohio railroad, 3 cars hay, 1 car oats, 1 car straw. Total receipts, 12 cars.

Following are the official quotations for hay, milfeed, corn, oats and straw, corrected by the superintendent of the Pittsburgh grain exchange:

Straw—Oat, $7 00@7 50; wheat, $7 00@7 50; rye, $8 00@8 50.

Hay—No. 1, new, $15 50@16 00; No. 2 new, $14 00@15 00; No. 2, old, $14 00@14 50; No. 1 mixed, $13 00@13 50; No. 2 mixed, $12 00@12 50; prairies, $9 00@10 00; packing, $8 50@9 00; loose from wagon, $16 50@17 50.

Milfeed—White middlings, per ton, No. 2, $21 00@21 50; brown, $20 00@21 00; bran, $16 00@16 50.

Groceries.

Indications point to a slight advance in the price of sugar, although no fluctuations are apparent as yet. It is expected that all grades below "hards" will advance within a week, but the higher grades will probably not change. The stiff advance in prices which usually attends the canning season has not been felt as yet, but a slight rise now will occasion no surprise.

Pickles, according to the statements of heavy dealers, are likely to be much higher than they have been for many years. The best sections show that there is a falling off of nearly 50 per cent in many places in the crop. Tomatoes are 40 per cent short in sections which contributed largely to Pittsburgh market. The canning season for tomatoes, which is usually over by September 15, has just started, and the fruit is coming in slowly. The good crop of southern tomatoes will go only to supply the deficiency over the country, but tomatoes grown in the south are said to be poor keepers. Cauliflower and chickens are also short in prospect and may be advanced considerably.

Flour—Jobbers' prices: Fancy spring patents, $4 10@4 15; fancy winter patents, $3 80@3 90; straight winter, $3 60@3 70; bakers', $3 30@3 60; low grades, $2 40@2 50; graham, $4 00@4 50; cornmeal, bbl, $3 05@3 80; 10-lb cotton bags, 19@21c.

Sugar—Standard granulated, 4.80c; fine, 4.75c; 2-lb jars, $4 10 jute bags, 4.55c; powdered, 4.90c; powdered xxxx, 4.55c; cubes, 5.05c; cut loaf, 5.05c; confectioners' A, 4.80c; coffee A, 4.65@4.70c; No. 1 yellow, 4.50c; No. 2 do, 4.25c; No. 3 do, 4.20c. (Quotations are for Pittsburgh and Allegheny wagon delivery. Add 10c per 100 lbs for delivery in Ohio points within a radius of 50 miles of Pittsburgh.)

Cereals—Rolled oats, bbl, $5 00; keg, $2 25; packages, $2 50@3 00; oatmeal, bbls, $5 50; kegs, $2 75.

Molasses—Fancy refined, 30@32c; choice do, 26@28c; prime do, 24@25c; new open kettle, 37@40c; fancy sugar syrup, 30@32c; sugar and cane, 26@28c; corn syrup, 2½ gal cans, $1 10; 5-lb, $1 25; 5-lb, $2 20; 10-lb, $4 00 per dozen.

Coffee—Roasted, bulk, Rio, 10½@12c; Santos, 12½@23½c; Maracaibo, 17@17½c; Peaberry, 17@18c; Caracas, 19@19½c; Mocha, 25@26c; Java, 26@27c; standard brands, 1-lb pkgs, 10.50c (with rebate of ⅝c allowed to retailers); high grades, 1-lb pkgs, 14.50@16.50c.

Rice—Prime Narrow, bu, $2 45@2 50; H. navy, $2 00@2 05; red kidney, $2 65@2 70; California Lima, 5½@5½c.

Peas—Dried peas, $1 85@2 00; Scotch, per bu, 2 10@2 15, split peas, $2 15, less, $2 per bu.

A RESIDENCE IN TWENTIETH WARD BRINGS $25,000

PURCHASES BY RAILROAD

Two Oakland Houses Bring $16,500. A Morningside Deal—New Lot Plan Making Ready—McDonald Gets New Church.

Samuel W. Black & Co. have disposed of another good residence property in the Twentieth ward for $25,000. The property is known as No. 302 South Negley avenue and is located on the west side of the avenue, about midway between Friendship avenue and Baum street. The lot measures 60x121 feet and has erected on it a modern colonial brick house of 12 rooms. The property formerly belonged to T. J. Williams and the house is the last of the lot of colonial residences he built in this neighborhood last year. The purchaser is a downtown business man, who will occupy the property as a home. This is the second residence sale in this square within the past few weeks, the other deal being the purchase by Will Price of the property adjoining the Williams house.

P. V. & C. R. R. Deals.

The Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston Railroad Company has purchased three more properties on the South Side for $28,700. The largest of the three belonged to Adolph Stolte and was bought for $15,700. It consists of a lot 20x109 feet, on the northeast side of Sarah street, near South Twenty-ninth street, Twenty-fourth ward, and another lot 24x109 feet, in Sarah street, nearly opposite. Both lots are improved. From Frank Stein, executor of Katharine Stein, the railroad secured an improved property, 17x60 feet, on the south side of Edwards alley, near South Eighteenth street, Twenty-sixth ward, for $8,000. The third parcel, also improved, is a lot 48x117.5 feet, situated on the northeast side of Sarah street, near Carson street, Twenty-fourth ward. It was purchased from Elizabeth A. Steenrod for $5,000.

Oakland Houses Sold.

The United Real Estate and Construction Company has sold two of its new brick houses in Kennett square, Fourteenth ward, for $16,500. The buyer is John Martin, who takes the houses for an investment. They stand on a lot 40x90 feet, facing on the west side of the square near Ophelia street. The houses are 10-room bricks, provided with all the modern conveniences.

George E. Garber has secured from Robert Weber a large vacant lot in Chislett street, for $14,000. The lot has a frontage of 120 feet in Chislett street, Eighteenth ward, and extends back a distance of 223 feet to the Morningside road, where it faces 210 feet. It is a part of the August Halli property, and adjoins the holdings of C. A. Halli. The price, over $100 a front foot, is rather higher than prices rule in Chislett street, which can be accounted for by the double frontage, making it possible to build on both ends of the lot.

New Plot Near Trafford City.

J. C. Dick and W. H. Roberts have just started a large gang of men to work clearing and surveying the old Gotschaley farm, adjoining Trafford City on the east. The farm consists of 105 acres and was bought by Mr. Dick in the early summer. Several weeks ago he sold an undivided one half interest to Mr. Roberts, and the two men now propose to plot 30 acres of the land and place it on the market this fall. The lots will be 25x100 feet each, and will face in 40-foot streets. The main street will run along the Stewart township road, leading to Stewart station. A few of the lots have already been disposed of at prices ranging from $150 to $400 each.

The Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western Railroad Company has bought from James Marchand a vacant property in the Thirty-second ward, for $6,162. The lot measures 107 feet, and adjoins the holdings of M. and R. Walsh.

Lively Day in Building.

Yesterday was a banner day in building operations, new buildings valued at over $115,000 being authorized by Capt. J. A. A. Brown, superintendent of the bureau of building inspection. With two exceptions the permits were for residences, a number of which are to be high-class houses. The list of permits granted follows:

To Helen W. Jenkins, for 14 two-story frame dwellings in Blair street, Twenty-third ward, to cost $35,000; Joseph A. Kounts, for a two-story concrete dwelling in Braddock avenue, Twenty-second ward, to cost $8,000; to Frank E. Freese, for a two-story brick veneered dwelling, in Alliquipa street, Thirteenth ward, to cost $9,000; to Dr. C. O. Anderson, for a two-story brick veneered dwelling in Frankstown avenue, Twenty-first ward, to cost $8,000; to Edward Haney, for a two-story brick veneered dwelling in Hamilton avenue, Thirty-seventh ward, to cost $4,500; to Mrs. Elizabeth Kuffler, for a two-story frame dwelling in Erie street, Twenty-seventh ward, to cost $3,000; to J. C. McCready, for a two-story brick dwelling in Browne avenue, Twentieth ward, to cost $8,000; to G. E. Evans, for a two-story brick dwelling in Webster avenue, Eighth ward, to cost $20,000; to R. S. Parker, for a two-story brick dwelling in Winnebago street, Twenty-ninth ward, to cost $1,000; to Christ Elsholz, for a two-story frame dwelling in Butler street, Eighteenth ward, to cost $4,000; to George Collier, for a two-story brick dwelling in Fifty-second street, Eighteenth ward, to cost $1,100; to George Evans, for a two-story frame dwelling in Lemington avenue, Twenty-first ward, to cost $1,500; to Mrs. Annie Minsinger, for a two-story frame stable in the rear of Prospect street, Thirty-second ward, to cost $600; to H. C. Frick, for a one-story frame shop, in Herron avenue, Thirteenth ward, to cost $400; to William Cotton, for a one-story frame shop in Journal street, Thirty-fifth ward, to cost $500, and to E. E. Jones, for a two-story frame dwelling in Reed street, Thirteenth ward, to cost $700.

$20,000 Church for McDonald.

Architects McCollum & Dowler are preparing plans for a new United Presbyterian church at McDonald, Pa. The structure will cost about $20,000. The same architects are receiving bids on the marble, bronze and steel banking furniture to be installed in the Washington Trust Company building at Washington, Pa.

Wilkins place: The Commonwealth Real Estate and Trust Company sold to William R. Conrad lot No. 98 in the Wilkins place plan, situated at the corner of Macon and Sanders avenues, for $3,750. The lot measures 95x120 feet to an alley. The same company sold to A. E. Diethnick lot No. 102 in the Nimick terrace plan, Thirty-seventh ward, for $250.

Allegheny: The United Real Estate and Trust Company sold for William Schrimer to J. M. Hannel, No. 210 Bidwell street, a six-room frame house on a lot 44x87.5 feet, for $3,000.

Small Home Sales.

Shaler street: Adam Hunchel sold to John Semmelmann a lot, 20x222 feet, on the west side of Shaler street, near Greenleaf avenue, Thirty-sixth ward, for $1,450.

Hamilton avenue: Mary C. Wells sold to Henry Swager a lot, 25x105 feet, on the south side of Hamilton avenue, near Maryland avenue, Twenty-first ward, for $2,200.

Industry street: Lambert Schuchert sold to Peter V. Schuchert an improved lot, 25x62.5 feet, on the south side of Industry street, Thirty-first ward, for $2,000.

Montclair street: Gerina Polsch sold to Edward Welsch a lot, 25x96 feet, on the north side of Montclair street, near Frank street, Twenty-third ward, for $3,000.

Bellefonte street: Clark F. Warden sold to John A. Elliott an improved lot 25x100 feet, on the west side of Bellefonte street, near Elmer street, Twentieth ward, for $1,700.

Scattering Transfers.

Forty-fourth street: L. J. Frazier sold for James J. Artman to Max A. Cooper an improved lot 25x82 feet in Forty-fourth street, Seventeenth ward, for $2,850.

Grove street: Haas & Lavinger sold for Fred C. Martsolf to A. W. McClerry a two-story frame house on lot 30x100 feet in Grove street, West Park plan, McKees Rocks, for $2,800.

Belvidere street: Carrie F. Woolslair sold to Moses W. Jones two lots 45x68 feet on the north side of Belvidere street, near Laurel street, Sixteenth ward, for $800.

Butler street: Thomas M. Bell sold to J. Charles Dicken a lot, 20x100 feet, on the south side of Butler street, Eighteenth ward, for $550.

Oneida street: The Alta Land Company sold to Angie N. Henderson a lot 20x121 feet, on the east side of Oneida street, Thirty-fifth ward, for $300.

J. A. Clark & Co. have sold to Joseph S. Smith a lot 25x100 feet in Osgood street, Tenth ward, Allegheny, for $850. The purchaser will improve at once with a modern eight-room house. Of the 20 lots in this plan Mr. Clark has disposed of 17 since March, most of the purchasers being business men who are preparing to build.

ALL WILL COME HERE

Ballington and Mrs. Maude Booth, the leaders of the Volunteers of America, begin next month a tour of America. They are to hold two big meetings here on Sunday, October 19. The first will be in the afternoon in Carnegie music hall, Allegheny, and the second in the evening in Carnegie music hall, Pittsburgh. Prominent ministers and officials of the city are to be invited.

The Salvation Army announces that General William Booth, commander-in-chief and founder of the Salvation Army is to visit this country again, despite the vigorous denials that have been made on all sides. General William Booth will hold two meetings here on January 25.

The Volunteers have just completed their fiscal year. Colonel Herron, for the local work, states that it has been the most encouraging since his connection with the movement. The recent opening of quarters in the heart of the tenderloin district has proved auspicious. The annual regimental conference for the Western Pennsylvania and Ohio districts is to be held this year in Pittsburgh.

Killed on the Elevated.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—John Mangan of No. 88 East One Hundred and Fourteenth street was instantly killed, and Charles Seeback, Frank Smith and Peter Fassig painfully injured in an accident on the elevated railroad at Sixth avenue and Twenty-eighth street, at 8 o'clock this morning. The men were laying rails when an engine struck a plank, hurling it around and striking the men.

Confidence in a Diamond Merchant is a more desirable qualification on the part of intending purchasers than reliance on their own limited knowledge of the relative values and merits of precious stones. To become an expert in gems one requires not only a natural genius for the profession, but many years of close application and constant association. Our established reputation as diamond merchants is a guarantee that misrepresentation is never resorted to in order to effect a sale. We insist that our customers shall know the exact quality of every stone they purchase. Sam F. Sipe, importer diamonds and precious stones, Schmitt building, second floor, 339 Fifth avenue.

Ranks as the Highest Grade by Doctors.

The purest wine to use is Speer's Port Grape Wine. It ranks above all others for medical purposes; it is diuretic and tonic. For weakly and aged persons it has no equal, being made from a rare grape.
